Shoe Ceilings Lifted; Cotton Order Revoked

Cotton Loom Freeze Directive Removed By CPA, Effective Nov. 1

SHOE PRICE INCREASE OF 20 PER CENT SEEN

Steelman Says Decontrol Of Hides, Leathers Is In "Best Interest"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Price ceilings came off shoes, hides, skins and leather tonight, and the order requiring production of certain minimum amounts of essential cotton textile goods was revoked.

The two actions, taken in swift succession late in the day, put the government back on the decontrol track which it had left temporarily earlier in the day with an order extending rent controls to additional areas with a population of 3,500,000. OPA explained that move by saying that the housing shortage is growing "more acute."

Removal of ceilings from hides and their products was ordered by John R. Steelman, Reconversion Director, and OPA quickly made it effective at 12:01 a. m. October 31.

OPA officials predicted that shoe prices may rise 20 to 30 per cent. Others, however, said the rise might be only temporary.

Incentive Price Increase

The removal of the requirement for production of specified textiles was done by the Civilian Production Administration, by revocation of its loom freeze order, effective November 1.

CPA said that production of the goods regarded as essential in industry and agriculture, and for apparel, would be assured by a five per cent incentive price increase which OPA will grant on these goods.

Steelman, in announcing the leather decontrol order said:

"After a careful study of all the facts I am convinced that the decontrol of hides, leathers and footwear is in the best interest of production and supply to consumers."

Earlier, when ceilings were taken off meat, OPA had said that they would stay tight on shoes and shoe materials because of their importance in the cost of living.

OPA has estimated that under price controls the nation's annual shoe bill is $2,000,000,000.

The price agency said its decontrol order covered "all types of domestic and imported skins and hides and processed leathers, including calf and cattle, kid, goat sheepskins and others, and men's, women's and children's shoes of all types, including dress and sportswear, play shoes and slippers."

OPA Officials Surprised

OPA officials were surprised by the White House directive, and had to work overtime to get out their own order. The only explanation they gave for the order was that it came "in accordance with the directive of John R. Steelman, Director of Reconversion."

Last week a delegation of shoe manufacturers and hide and leather producers asked Steelman to lift controls from their products.

Truck Strikes Railroad Underpass; Three Killed

TROY, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP) — Three persons were killed and 14 others injured, many of them seriously, tonight on a truck which struck a railroad underpass here while carrying 25 apple pickers from New York state to their homes in Sanford, Fla., Pennsylvania State Police reported.

The injured were taken to a hospital in nearby Sayre.

Police identified the dead as William Fisher; his wife, Ruth May, and Nellie Sykes.

Collisson, Krug Make No Commitments In Advance To Reopen Contract With Miners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug and Coal Mines Administrator N. H. Collisson will listen to any demands John L. Lewis may present Friday including higher pay for 400,000 soft coal miners, Capt. Collisson said tonight.

But the naval officer and Krug, who is in California and unable to return for the start of the all-important coal negotiations Friday were not making any specific commitment in advance to reopen the Krug-Lewis contract which ended the strike last spring.

"We will listen to anything Mr. Lewis has to say," Capt. Collisson told a reporter. "We have an agreement to meet Mr. Lewis. If there is anything he doesn't like, any grievances the miners have or any injustices they feel exist, we will be glad to listen to them. Further than that we can not go in advance of the negotiations themselves."

The youthful navy captain who will do the government's bargaining with Lewis or the miners' representatives, has conferred and will continue to confer, with Justice Department advisers as well as Interior Department lawyers, it was learned from associates.

Conflicting Views

These lawyers were reported giving conflicting advice, with Attorney General Tom C. Clark's department differing with Krug's on the legality of reopening the contract now.

Krug and Collisson and their lawyers have insisted the agreement is in force as long as the government operates the mines. The government took them over last May 22 to halt the spring strike. A high administration official disclosed last night that most other government legal advice supported Lewis' contention that the contract can be reopened.

Despite an industry warning that fresh concessions to Lewis may prolong government control of the mines, a high official told a reporter the administration is willing to talk wages and other working terms when UMW representatives meet with the Coal Mines Administration.

Lewis had demanded reopening of the contract, under an implied threat of a pre-election strike Krug and Collisson have taken the position that the existing contract must stand for the duration of government operation, but other officials were reported bent on getting Krug and Collisson to change their minds.

Clark Studying Question

This is a legal question Attorney General Tom Clark has been studying. The Justice Department said he had not yet presented an opinion and the White House refused to comment on a report that one had been written overruling Krug and siding with Lewis.

The warning that a new contract would complicate return of the seized mines to their owners came from John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association.

Battle said in a statement that it was obvious a new agreement would make "much more difficult" the problem of the union and the private owners getting together on a contractual arrangement.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters President Truman probably will wait until after the election to make any statement regarding the future of the Wage Stabilization Board, which has been administering the wage control program. Unions have been demanding that the board be scrapped in view of OPA's rapid decontrol of prices.

Plan For World Flight Of B-29s Shelved By Army

Decision Follows Maneuvering Between State, War Departments

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Army today pigeonholed temporarily its plan for a world-girdling flight of Superforts, thus laying away a "big stick" at a time of Soviet-American tension.

Officials familiar with the developments, however, said it was a good bet that the flight will be carried out in the not-too-distant future, with tacit—if not formal—approval of the State Department.

Today's decision followed some confused maneuvering between the State and War Departments.

State Department Concerned

The State Department had been somewhat concerned over the matter, partly because of its fear that the flight would bring fresh charges of "sabre rattling" from other countries, particularly Russia.

Also, some department officials resent what they regarded as a postwar encroachment by both Army and Navy on their perogative of charting American foreign policy. They regard the projected flight—announced without State Department notification—as the latest of these intrusions.

Today's developments on the question were there:

"Preliminary Letter"

1. Lincoln White, State Department press officer, told a news conference that the War Department several days ago had sent "a preliminary letter" to the State Department concerning the proposed flight.

2. After sending it, however, War asked State to take no action whatever on the request for permission to make the flight pending further study by the Army on "detailed arrangements," White said.

Actually the War Department letter, addressed to Secretary of State Byrnes and signed by Secretary of War Patterson, reached Byrnes' desk only late yesterday, it was learned on good authority.

Major Cotton Exchanges Will Reopen Today

Falling Prices Force 24-Hour Closing; Federal Action Demanded

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Plummeting cotton prices today forced a sudden and unexpected 24-hour closing of the nation's major cotton exchanges and raised cries for quick federal action to stabilize the market in the South's biggest crop.

Out of a hurried round of conferences in Washington came answering reports that officials were considering suggestions that ranged from decontrolling cotton textile prices to large government purchases of raw cotton.

From the South, simultaneously, came a flurry of protests against excessive speculation. One authority placed the blame for the market collapse directly on speculation by "farmers, merchants, doctors, and everybody else in the South."

Exchanges To Reopen

The Boards of Managers of the New York, New Orleans and Chicago exchanges finally announced late today, after consultations over the possible effect, that they would reopen for business tomorrow.

All of these developments traced back to the events of the last two turbulent weeks on the cotton exchange, during which the trading doors have been closed three times and prices have tumbled by as much as $50 a bale.

Without advance warning the New York Cotton Exchange decided to shut down this morning, only a matter of minutes before trading was scheduled to begin. The New Orleans and Chicago exchanges promptly took similar action.

The reasons advanced for this action were varied.

An official statement by the president of the New York exchange, Frank J. Knell, said trading was suspended "to enable southern cotton handlers to adjust their affairs, which have been complicated by the percipitate decline of the last few days."

No "Congested Accounts"

Brokers, who would not be quoted by name, asserted the closing was dictated at least in part by delay on the part of some southern traders in meeting calls for increased margins.

Knell said exchange officials could find no "congested accounts," or any other "conditions which could be detrimental to the market."

He apparently referred to the reason advanced officially for the first sharp price break on October 16. It was caused, the exchange said, by the liquidation of a huge

Pauley Hits Reds' Reparations Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Edwin W. Pauley, President Truman's reparations commissioner, warned tonight that the Allies will be "successfully courting "World War III" if they agree to a reported Russian plan concerning reparations from Germany.

The reported plan calls for awarding Russia reparations out of current production in the western zone of Germany in order to secure Soviet co-operation in unifying Germany economically.

Pauley issued a statement to comment on what he called "recent dispatches" which reported that Russian Marshall Sokolowski in Berlin had suggested such a plan to Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

"The reported Soviet proposal that they be given 25 per cent of the current production from the Ruhr Rhineland area would call for maintaining in operation the very plants which all agreed had to be removed," Pauley said.

This, he said, would make Germany a "potential aggressor" once more.

15 Under Arrest After Jerusalem Depot Explosion

Police Comb City For Pistol-Toting Girl And Gang Of Youths

JERUSALEM, Oct. 30 (AP) — At least 15 suspects — three of them wounded — were arrested tonight as police combed Jerusalem for a girl carrying a pistol and a gang of quick-shooting youths who machine-gunned the central railway station and blew up its main waiting room.

Two persons were known to have been killed and at least one other was missing in three explosions occurring at 15 second intervals, at 3:30 p. m. this afternoon. The bombs were believed to have been planted an hour before by the girl.

The station had been hastily evacuated shortly before the blasts, and was occupied only by sappers.

Jewish Underground Blamed

Police, who engaged in a running gun battle with the gang, attributed the bombing to Irgun Zvail Leumi, Jewish underground organization, which blew up the King David Hotel July 22.

Parts of the body of one sapper were removed from the station, and workmen dug through debris in search of other victims. A police sergeant was known to have been blown to bits as he was carrying one bomb from the station.

An extended curfew was imposed over the Jewish quarter, as tension soared to the highest pitch since the July bombing of the King David hotel in which 91 persons perished.

Violence also flared elsewhere in the Holy Land. Two British soldiers were killed and 10 others were wounded in Jerusalem when two military trucks were blasted by a road mine; four heavily-armed men robbed two Polish cashiers of $2,000 in Tel Aviv; and a British jeep was fired on 14 miles north of Jerusalem.

Many Witnessed Bombing

The bombing of the railway station occurred in full view of many persons who stood in the windows of nearby buildings as word spread that the gang had planted the explosives.

All accounts agreed that a stylishly-dressed girl, carrying a pistol

Artist Carrying Ashes Of Bride, Slain In Mexico, To Kansas City

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 30 (AP) — Charles Edward Beach headed northward tonight with shattered dreams and a brown box containing the ashes of his bride.

One week ago tonight his wife, Nan Peiker Meach, 19, was slain by bandits in the wild Balsas river country, more than 100 miles south of Mexico City.

The lean face of the tall, 28-year-old New York artist was expressionless as he emerged from a plane here en route to Kansas City where funeral services will be held. He carried under his arm a box perhaps 18 inches long, a foot wide, a foot deep, wrapped in heavy brown paper.

"There is nothing left for me now," he said.

He placed the box beside him in a booth at the airport restaurant.

"We had a lot of plans," he said. "We were going to do so many things. Well, I haven't any plans now. Just a bunch of shattered dreams.

"We were taking colored pictures of the trip," Beach continued, "and we hoped to sell them with an article. We wanted just to keep on taking pictures and writing articles. We planned to keep on the go. That's the way we wanted to live.

"Both of us were excited by the adventure. Nan was an outdoor girl. She loved nature and she loved life. It meant so much to her just to be alive.

"To me she was beautiful. She was five feet two and she had blonde hair and blue eyes. We drove down to Mexico in June after we were married in New York. We had visited in Mexico City x x x and all the time we planned the canoe trip down the river. A friend of mine in Mexico City warned me I was liable to get shot in the back. I just didn't think anything like that would happen."

"We went to bed in our tent at about 7:30. There was the shotgun blast about 8:30. There were three men. One of them had a hawk face—they wore masks. They had shot her in the shoulder and me in the finger."

For more than 11 hours that night Beach paddled frantically down the river. Just before 8 a. m., within sight of a village, Nan said she couldn't go on any longer. A few minutes later she died on the bank of the river.

U. S. Objects To British Accord With Argentina

BRITISH EMBASSY IN ROME DAMAGED BY BOMB BLASTS

ROME, Thursday, Oct. 31—(AP)—Two heavy bomb explosions badly damaged the residential section of the British Embassy on Venti Settembre street in Rome today.

The bombs knocked a gaping hole in the front of the building.. The quarters of Sir Noel Charles, the British ambassador who was away on leave, were heavily damaged. The explosions shook the central part of the city.

No embassy personnel was injured, but police picked up two passersby suffering from shock and minor injuries and sent them to a hospital.

Government Officials Say Parts Of Accord Appear To Violate Sections Of Loan Pact

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — The United States has objected to Britain over sections of the British-Argentine economic agreement which, in the view of officials here, appear to violate promises Britain made in obtaining a $3,750,000,000 American loan.

The objections have already been expressed orally, officials said, and Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder plans to follow up with a letter to London asking for an explanation of one of the financial provisions in the accord.

Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton discussed certain objections to trade provisions of the pact in talks with Hugh Dalton, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, who visited Washington recently.

Joint Action

State and Treasury Department officials are acting jointly in the matter after a detailed study of the British-Argentine agreement, which was concluded last September 17 in Buenos Aires.

Snyder, who is empowered by congress to make certain the British-American loan agreement is carried out, will call attention to a provision in the British-Argentine pact which prevents Argentina from spending blocked sterling where she desires under certain circumstances.

This is a clause under which Britain promises to release some of the money it owes Argentina if Argentina purchases more from Britain and sterling bloc countries than it sells to them.

American officials expressed belief this violates a pledge that Britain will permit all such freed sterling to be converted into any type of currency a country may wish.

State Department trade policy makers have told the British they dislike the long-term, exclusive basis of the four-year meat agreement with Argentina which was part of the agreement. Britain was granted the privilege of buying 83 per cent of all exportable Argentine meat the first year and 78 per cent yearly thereafter.

See Differences Worked Out

U. S., Britain May Standardize Arms

Agreement In Principle Reported By Military Informants In London

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Authoritative British military informants said today that British Empire and American political and military chiefs have agreed in principle to standardize land, air and naval weapons and munitions to fixed United States sizes and patterns.

These informants said A. V. Alexander, defense minister designate, would give the decision practical effect as soon as he takes office.

Asked whether such an agreement implied the conclusion of a formal military alliance between the two countries, an army source said "no, but it does mean a deliberate decision from the British side to settle any disputes that might arise in the future by discussion."

The source said Britain and America were continuing to swap information on military weapons developments—more than a year after the end of the war—adding "I don't believe there is a single military secret between ourselves and the Americans."

In the House of Commons, Prime Minister Attlee, without referring to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's proposals before the United Nations Assembly in New York yesterday for a general curtailment of armaments, began a two-day debate on a government proposal for a central defense ministry. Alexander has been designated as chief of this proposed ministry, heading up the land, air and sea forces of Britain.

Informants said the issue of weapon standardization was first broached by Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King during the April conference of the empire premiers in London.

Army "Thinly Stretched," Gen. Eisenhower Asserts

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said tonight the diminishing American Army was "thinly stretched" and that weakness might breed trouble.

Until the United Nations develops machinery to control "dangerous outcroppings of human weakness and greed for power," the War Department Chief of Staff said at the New York Herald Tribune Forum, "we must realistically face the need for military strength adequate to our times and our position."

"Inspections" As Safeguard Are Demanded

Austin Tells World Nation Won't Repeat Error Of Disarming Alone

ALLIES ARE CALLED ON TO "FIGHT" FOR PEACE

U.N. Delegate Dismisses Molotov's Charges Against U. S. Policies

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The United States supported to the fullest tonight Russia's call for worldwide arms limitation but simultaneously served notice on the world that this country would not repeat its old mistake of disarming alone.

It also insisted sharply on effective inspections and other safeguards against states which might try to arm secretly.

Loud applause rang through the hall of the United Nations Assembly as Warren R. Austin, Vermont-born chief of the United States delegation, said with great emphasis that "after the last war we made the mistake of disarming unilaterally. We shall not repeat that mistake."

Then, looking directly at Vyacheslav Molotov, Russian Foreign Minister, who sprang a proposal for world arms limitation on the Assembly late yesterday, Austin said slowly and clearly:

"The United States is prepared to co-operate fully with all other members of the United Nations on disarmament. It advocates effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violation and evasion."

Applause Greets Austin

Austin was cheered by the delegates and a chamber virtually filled with spectators as he thus picked up the Soviet challenge. Molotov had been given a Russian-language copy of Austin's text before the American began his speech. The Russian Foreign Minister sat quietly paying close attention as Austin spoke.

Applause burst out when Austin, wearing a blue suit and a reddish tie, was announced. He strode to the rostrum with a determined air.

There were hand-claps as he pledged once more the United States support of the United Nations; as he dismissed Molotov's charges against United States foreign and atomic policies with the hope that the Allies can "fight" for peace side by side without recrimination; as he urged that the Molotov disarmament proposals be discussed by the Assembly; and as he told how the United States has "progressively and rapidly reduced its military establishment" in Europe and the Pacific.

Refuses Fight With Molotov

In refusing to be drawn into a fight with Molotov on American policies, Austin said:

"Our motives in war and peace we leave to the judgment of history. We fought for fredom side by side without recrimination. Can't we fight

U. S., Britain Accused Of Violating Charter

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—Yugoslavia today accused the United States and Great Britain of repeated violations of the United Nations Charter and declared that "certain circles" were attempting to use the atom bomb as "a means for intimidating the world."

In one of the most aggressive speeches delivered so far before the United Nations Assembly, Yugoslav Foreign Minister Stanoje Simich assailed the western powers on a half dozen counts, called for retention of the veto in the Security Council and urged immediate approval of the broad disarmament proposals outlined yesterday by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Hannegan Repudiates Communist Support, Blasts Taft And Martin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan tonight repudiated all Communist support for his party in next Tuesday's elections and blasted at Republican leadership of Sen. Taft (Ohio) and Rep. Martin (Mass).

"To the Communists, I say, this administration neither wants nor deserves your support," Hannegan said in an address prepared for radio delivery as the congressional campaigns drew near the finish.

"You should give it to the Republican Party. In that party are your best friends, the proven champions of chaos. Give them your vote; for they, not the Democrats have earned it."

A vote for a Republican candidate, Hannegan declared, "is a vote for Taft and Martin and for the party that undermined America's stabilization program in the last Congress.

"It is a vote for the party that sabotaged housing for veterans.

"It is a vote for the party that wanted to give the secret of atomic defense into the hands of those who are interested only in their own private profit."

Assailing Taft, the Democratic National Chairman said:

"If you believe world co-operation is our only hope of avoiding World War III, then you should know that Taft voted against American participation in the United Nations.

"If you are being squeezed today by price inflation, you should know that for this machinery, Taft was the great engineer."

Hannegan declared Taft also had "protested the retribution that has overtaken" high Nazi leaders.

Asserting that Martin "long and faithfully has served as the prophet in the temple of the profiteers," Hannegan declared "he voted against the soldier, against the working man, against the veteran and the housewife."

Officials Assail Depression Talk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Secretaries W. Averell Harriman, of the Commerce Department, and John W. Snyder, of the Treasury, advised Americans tonight against talking hard times when, they said, the future looks good.

Thus for the third time in two days, top officials took occasion to speak against what John D. Small, the Civilian Production Administrator, calls "talking ourselves into a depression."

Harriman, in a speech for the Herald-Tribune Forum in New York, said fears that a "bust" would follow the time when the war-caused backlog of demand is met are based on "unreasoning defeatism."

Snyder called such talk of depression "bad psychology."

"We have the knowledge and ability," Harriman added, "to handle our affairs in such a way as to maintain a high level of employment with an expanding economy."

The Harriman-Snyder-Small arguments were aimed at forecasts, some of them from within the government, that a business slump may be in the making for next year.

Mayor McKeldin Has Cost Baltimore "Unnecessary Millions," Lane Says

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—"Mayor McKeldin and the Republican city administrations in which he has participated have cost and are costing the taxpayers unnecessary millions of dollars," his Democratic opponent in the governor's race, William Preston Lane, Jr., declared today in a speech before the 11th Ward Democratic Club.

Asserting that McKeldin's record as a public official had been made an issue in the campaign, Lane proceeded to "examine the record."

He said McKeldin got into office as Mayor of Baltimore in 1943 on a claim that small houses were overassessed and that large downtown office buildings were under-assessed. But, Lane declared, since McKeldin became Mayor assessments on small home buildings had increased by as much as 41 per cent in some instances, while office building assessments "stay pretty much where they were".

Lane told his audience "there are good reasons why Mayor McKeldin prefers to talk about what happened at Yalta, at Casablanca and Tehran". As one instance of this he cited a proposed water loan for Baltimore City, a campaign issue in the Mayor's race in 1943.

Lane declared McKeldin sold the voters on expending only $12,500,000 for the water loan, instead of $32,000,000 as originally advocated by Mayor Jackson.

As the former sum has not been expended due to wartime conditions, Lane said the work to be done at present-day prices will cost Baltimore taxpayers $42,000,000 for what Jackson could have accomplished with only $28,000,000 of the $32,000,000 asked.

Lane said the State of Maryland is faced with the problem of developing a long-range aviation program for adequate facilities throughout the entire state, but he added, "Mayor McKeldin's record in this and other service fields hardly war-

Shoe Ceilings Lifted; Cotton Order Revoked

Steelman Says Decontrol Of Hides, Leathers Is In "Best Interest"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Price ceilings came off shoes, hides, skins and leather tonight, and the order requiring production of certain minimum amounts of essential cotton textile goods was revoked.

The two actions, taken in swift succession late in the day, put the government back on the decontrol track which it had left temporarily earlier in the day with an order extending rent controls to additional areas with a population of 3,500,000. OPA explained that move by saying that the housing shortage is growing "more acute."

Removal of ceilings from hides and their products was ordered by John R. Steelman, Reconversion Director, and OPA quickly made it effective at 12:01 a. m. October 31.

OPA officials predicted that shoe prices may rise 20 to 30 per cent. Others, however, said the rise might be only temporary.

Incentive Price Increase

The removal of the requirement for production of specified textiles was done by the Civilian Production Administration, by revocation of its loom freeze order, effective November 1.

CPA said that production of the goods regarded as essential in industry and agriculture, and for apparel, would be assured by a five per cent incentive price increase which OPA will grant on these goods.

Steelman, in announcing the leather decontrol order said:

"After a careful study of all the facts I am convinced that the decontrol of hides, leathers and footwear is in the best interest of production and supply to consumers."

Earlier, when ceilings were taken off meat, OPA had said that they would stay tight on shoes and shoe materials because of their importance in the cost of living.

OPA has estimated that under price controls the nation's annual shoe bill is $2,000,000,000.

The price agency said its decontrol order covered "all types of domestic and imported skins and hides and processed leathers, including calf and cattle, kid, goat sheepskins and others, and men's, women's and children's shoes of all types, including dress and sportswear, play shoes and slippers."

OPA officials were surprised by the White House directive, and had to work overtime to get out their own order. The only explanation they gave for the order was that it came "in accordance with the directive of John R. Steelman, Director of Reconversion."

Collisson, Krug Make No Commitments In Advance To Reopen Contract With Miners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug and Coal Mines Administrator N. H. Collisson will listen to any demands John L. Lewis may present Friday including higher pay for 400,000 soft coal miners, Capt. Collisson said tonight.

But the naval officer and Krug, who is in California and unable to return for the start of the all-important coal negotiations Friday were not making any specific commitment in advance to reopen the Krug-Lewis contract which ended the strike last spring.

"We will listen to anything Mr. Lewis has to say," Capt. Collisson told a reporter. "We have an agreement to meet Mr. Lewis. If there is anything he doesn't like, any grievances the miners have or any injustices they feel exist, we will be glad to listen to them. Further than that we can not go in advance of the negotiations themselves."

The youthful navy captain who will do the government's bargaining with Lewis or the miners' representatives, has conferred and will continue to confer, with Justice Department advisers as well as Interior Department lawyers, it was learned from associates.

Conflicting Views

These lawyers were reported giving conflicting advice, with Attorney General Tom C. Clark's department differing with Krug's on the legality of reopening the contract now.

Krug and Collisson and their lawyers have insisted the agreement is in force as long as the government operates the mines. The government took them over last May 22 to halt the spring strike. A high administration official disclosed last night that most other government legal advice supported Lewis' contention that the contract can be reopened.

Despite an industry warning that fresh concessions to Lewis may prolong government control of the mines, a high official told a reporter the administration is willing to talk wages and other working terms when UMW representatives meet with the Coal Mines Administration.

Lewis had demanded reopening of the contract, under an implied threat of a pre-election strike. Krug and Collisson have taken the position that the existing contract must stand for the duration of government operation, but other officials were reported bent on getting Krug and Collisson to change their minds.

Clark Studying Question

This is a legal question Attorney General Tom Clark has been studying. The Justice Department said he had not yet presented an opinion and the White House refused to comment on a report that one had been written overruling Krug and siding with Lewis.

The warning that a new contract would complicate return of the seized mines to their owners came from John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal Association.

Battle said in a statement that it was obvious a new agreement would make "much more difficult" the problem of the union and the private owners getting together on a contractual arrangement.

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters President Truman probably will wait until after the election to make any statement regarding the future of the Wage Stabilization Board, which has been administering the wage control program. Unions have been demanding that the board be scrapped in view of OPA's rapid decontrol of prices.

Plan For World Flight Of B-29s Shelved By Army

Decision Follows Maneuvering Between State, War Departments

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Army today pigeonholed temporarily its plan for a world-girdling flight of Superforts, thus laying away a "big stick" at a time of Soviet-American tension.

Officials familiar with the developments, however, said it was a good bet that the flight will be carried out in the not-too-distant future, with tacit—if not formal—approval of the State Department.

Today's decision followed some confused maneuvering between the State and War Departments.

State Department Concerned

The State Department had been somewhat concerned over the matter, partly because of its fear that the flight would bring fresh charges of "sabre rattling" from other countries, particularly Russia.

Also, some department officials resent what they regarded as a postwar encroachment by both Army and Navy on their perogative of charting American foreign policy. They regard the projected flight—announced without State Department notification—as the latest of these intrusions.

Today's developments on the question were there:

"Preliminary Letter"

1. Lincoln White, State Department press officer, told a news conference that the War Department several days ago had sent "a preliminary letter" to the State Department concerning the proposed flight.

2. After sending it, however, War asked State to take no action whatever on the request for permission to make the flight pending further study by the Army on "detailed arrangements," White said.

Actually the War Department letter, addressed to Secretary of State Byrnes and signed by Secretary of War Patterson, reached Byrnes' desk only late yesterday, it was learned on good authority.

Officials Assail Depression Talk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Secretaries W. Averell Harriman, of the Commerce Department, and John W. Snyder, of the Treasury, advised Americans tonight against talking hard times when, they said, the future looks good.

Thus for the third time in two days, top officials took occasion to speak against what John D. Small, the Civilian Production Administrator, calls "talking ourselves into a depression."

Harriman, in a speech for the Herald-Tribune Forum in New York, said fears that a "bust" would follow the time when the war-caused backlog of demand is met are based on "unreasoning defeatism."

Snyder called such talk of depression "bad psychology."

"We have the knowledge and ability," Harriman added, "to handle our affairs in such a way as to maintain a high level of employment with an expanding economy."

The Harriman-Snyder-Small arguments were aimed at forecasts, some of them from within the government, that a business slump may be in the making for next year.

Major Cotton Exchanges Will Reopen Today

Falling Prices Force 24-Hour Closing; Federal Action Demanded

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Plummeting cotton prices today forced a sudden and unexpected 24-hour closing of the nation's major cotton exchanges and raised cries for quick federal action to stabilize the market in the South's biggest crop.

Out of a hurried round of conferences in Washington came answering reports that officials were considering suggestions that ranged from decontrolling cotton textile prices to large government purchases of raw cotton.

From the South, simultaneously, came a flurry of protests against excessive speculation. One authority placed the blame for the market collapse directly on speculation by "farmers, merchants, doctors, and everybody else in the South."

Exchanges To Reopen

The Boards of Managers of the New York, New Orleans and Chicago exchanges finally announced late today, after consultations over the possible effect, that they would reopen for business tomorrow.

All of these developments traced back to the events of the last two turbulent weeks on the cotton exchange, during which the trading doors have been closed three times and prices have tumbled by as much as $50 a bale.

Without advance warning the New York Cotton Exchange decided to shut down this morning, only a matter of minutes before trading was scheduled to begin. The New Orleans and Chicago exchanges promptly took similar action.

The reasons advanced for this action were varied.

An official statement by the president of the New York exchange, Frank J. Knell, said trading was suspended "to enable southern cotton handlers to adjust their affairs, which have been complicated by the percipitate decline of the last few days."

No "Congested Accounts"

Brokers, who would not be quoted by name, asserted the closing was dictated at least in part by delay on the part of some southern traders in meeting calls for increased margins.

Knell said exchange officials could find no "congested accounts," or any other "conditions which could be detrimental to the market."

He apparently referred to the reason advanced officially for the first sharp price break on October 16. It was caused, the exchange said, by the liquidation of a huge

Pauley Hits Reds' Reparations Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Edwin W. Pauley, President Truman's reparations commissioner, warned tonight that the Allies will be "successfully courting "World War III" if they agree to a reported Russian plan concerning reparations from Germany.

The reported plan calls for awarding Russia reparations out of current production in the western zone of Germany in order to secure Soviet co-operation in unifying Germany economically.

Pauley issued a statement to comment on what he called "recent dispatches" which reported that Russian Marshall Sokolowski in Berlin had suggested such a plan to Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

"The reported Soviet proposal that they be given 25 per cent of the current production from the Ruhr Rhineland area would call for maintaining in operation the very plants which all agreed had to be removed," Pauley said.

This, he said, would make Germany a "potential aggressor" once more.

Police Comb City For Pistol-Toting Girl And Gang Of Youths

JERUSALEM, Oct. 30 (AP) — At least 15 suspects — three of them wounded — were arrested tonight as police combed Jerusalem for a girl carrying a pistol and a gang of quick-shooting youths who machine-gunned the central railway station and blew up its main waiting room.

Two persons were known to have been killed and at least one other was missing in three explosions occurring at 15 second intervals, at 3:30 p. m. this afternoon. The bombs were believed to have been planted an hour before by the girl.

The station had been hastily evacuated shortly before the blasts, and was occupied only by sappers.

Jewish Underground Blamed

Police, who engaged in a running gun battle with the gang, attributed the bombing to Irgun Zvail Leumi, Jewish underground organization, which blew up the King David Hotel July 22.

Parts of the body of one sapper were removed from the station, and workmen dug through debris in search of other victims. A police sergeant was known to have been blown to bits as he was carrying one bomb from the station.

An extended curfew was imposed over the Jewish quarter, as tension soared to the highest pitch since the July bombing of the King David hotel in which 91 persons perished.

Violence also flared elsewhere in the Holy Land. Two British soldiers were killed and 10 others were wounded in Jerusalem when two military trucks were blasted by a road mine; four heavily-armed men robbed two Polish cashiers of $2,000 in Tel Aviv; and a British jeep was fired on 14 miles north of Jerusalem.

Many Witnessed Bombing

The bombing of the railway station occurred in full view of many persons who stood in the windows of nearby buildings as word spread that the gang had planted the explosives.

Artist Carrying Ashes Of Bride, Slain In Mexico, To Kansas City

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 30 (AP) — Charles Edward Beach headed northward tonight with shattered dreams and a brown box containing the ashes of his bride.

One week ago tonight his wife, Nan Pelker Meach, 19, was slain by bandits in the wild Balsas river country, more than 100 miles south of Mexico City.

The lean face of the tall, 28-year-old New York artist was expressionless as he emerged from a plane here en route to Kansas City where funeral services will be held. He carried under his arm a box perhaps 18 inches long, a foot wide, a foot deep, wrapped in heavy brown paper.

"There is nothing left for me now," he said.

He placed the box beside him in a booth at the airport restaurant.

"We had a lot of plans," he said. "We were going to do so many things. Well, I haven't any plans now. Just a bunch of shattered dreams.

"We were taking colored pictures of the trip," Beach continued, "and we hoped to sell them with an article. We wanted just to keep on taking pictures and writing articles. We planned to keep on the go. That's the way we wanted to live.

"Both of us were excited by the adventure. Nan was an outdoor girl. She loved nature and she loved life. It meant so much to her just to be alive.

"To me she was beautiful. She was five feet two and she had blonde hair and blue eyes. We drove down to Mexico in June after we were married in New York. We had visited in Mexico City x x x and all the time we planned the canoe trip down the river. A friend of mine in Mexico City warned me I was liable to get shot in the back. I just didn't think anything like that would happen."

"We went to bed in our tent at about 7:30. There was the shotgun blast about 8:30. There were three men. One of them had a hawk face—they wore masks. They had shot her in the shoulder and me in the finger."

For more than 11 hours that night Beach paddled frantically down the river. Just before 8 a. m., within sight of a village, Nan said she couldn't go on any longer. A few minutes later she died on the bank of the river.

U. S. Objects To British Accord With Argentina

BRITISH EMBASSY IN ROME DAMAGED BY BOMB BLASTS

ROME, Thursday, Oct. 31—(AP)—Two heavy bomb explosions badly damaged the residential section of the British Embassy on Venti Settembre street in Rome today.

The bombs knocked a gaping hole in the front of the building. The quarters of Sir Noel Charles, the British ambassador who was away on leave, were heavily damaged. The explosions shook the central part of the city.

No embassy personnel was injured, but police picked up two passersby suffering from shock and minor injuries and sent them to a hospital.

Government Officials Say Parts Of Accord Appear To Violate Sections Of Loan Pact

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — The United States has objected to Britain over sections of the British-Argentine economic agreement which, in the view of officials here, appear to violate promises Britain made in obtaining a $3,750,000,000 American loan.

The objections have already been expressed orally, officials said, and Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder plans to follow up with a letter to London asking for an explanation of one of the financial provisions in the accord.

Undersecretary of State William L. Clayton discussed certain objections to trade provisions of the pact in talks with Hugh Dalton, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, who visited Washington recently.

Joint Action

State and Treasury Department officials are acting jointly in the matter after a detailed study of the British-Argentine agreement, which was concluded last September 17 in Buenos Aires.

Snyder, who is empowered by congress to make certain the British-American loan agreement is carried out, will call attention to a provision in the British-Argentine pact which prevents Argentina from spending blocked sterling where she desires under certain circumstances.

This is a clause under which Britain promises to release some of the money it owes Argentina if Argentina purchases more from Britain and sterling bloc countries than it sells to them.

American officials expressed belief this violates a pledge that Britain will permit all such freed sterling to be converted into any type of currency a country may wish.

State Department trade policy makers have told the British they dislike the long-term, exclusive basis of the four-year meat agreement with Argentina which was part of the agreement. Britain was granted the privilege of buying 83 per cent of all exportable Argentine meat the first year and 78 per cent yearly thereafter.

See Differences Worked Out

The United States maintains, on this point, that the agreement, coupled with similar exclusive Brit-

Agreement In Principle Reported By Military Informants In London

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Authoritative British military informants said today that British Empire and American political and military chiefs have agreed in principle to standardize land, air and naval weapons and munitions to fixed United States sizes and patterns.

These informants said A. V. Alexander, defense minister designate, would give the decision practical effect as soon as he takes office.

Asked whether such an agreement implied the conclusion of a formal military alliance between the two countries, an army source said "no, but it does mean a deliberate decision from the British side to settle any disputes that might arise in the future by discussion."

The source said Britain and America were continuing to swap information on military weapons developments—more than a year after the end of the war—adding "I don't believe there is a single military secret between ourselves and the Americans."

In the House of Commons, Prime Minister Attlee, without referring to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's proposals before the United Nations Assembly in New York yesterday for a general curtailment of armaments, began a two-day debate on a government proposal for a central defense ministry. Alexander has been designated as chief of this proposed ministry, heading up the land, air and sea forces of Britain.

Informants said the issue of weapon standardization was first broached by Canadian Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King during the April conference of the empire premiers in London.

Army "Thinly Stretched," Gen. Eisenhower Asserts

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said tonight the diminishing American Army was "thinly stretched" and that weakness might breed trouble.

Until the United Nations develops machinery to control "dangerous outcroppings of human weakness and greed for power," the War Department Chief of Staff said at the New York Herald Tribune Forum, "we must realistically face the need for military strength adequate to our times and our position."

"Inspections" As Safeguard Are Demanded

Austin Tells World Nation Won't Repeat Error Of Disarming Alone

ALLIES ARE CALLED ON TO "FIGHT" FOR PEACE

U.N. Delegate Dismisses Molotov's Charges Against U. S. Policies

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The United States supported to the fullest tonight Russia's call for worldwide arms limitation but simultaneously served notice on the world that this country would not repeat its old mistake of disarming alone.

It also insisted sharply on effective inspections and other safeguards against states which might try to arm secretly.

Loud applause rang through the hall of the United Nations Assembly as Warren R. Austin, Vermont-born chief of the United States delegation, said with great emphasis that "after the last war we made the mistake of disarming unilaterally. We shall not repeat that mistake."

Then, looking directly at Vyacheslav Molotov, Russian Foreign Minister, who sprang a proposal for world arms limitation on the Assembly late yesterday, Austin said slowly and clearly:

"The United States is prepared to co-operate fully with all other members of the United Nations on disarmament. It advocates effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violation and evasion."

Applause Greets Austin

Austin was cheered by the delegates and a chamber virtually filled with spectators as he thus picked up the Soviet challenge. Molotov had been given a Russian-language copy of Austin's text before the American began his speech. The Russian Foreign Minister sat quietly paying close attention as Austin spoke.

Applause burst out when Austin, wearing a blue suit and a reddish tie, was announced. He strode to the rostrum with a determined air.

There were hand-claps as he pledged once more the United States support of the United Nations; as he dismissed Molotov's charges against United States foreign and atomic policies with the hope that the Allies can "fight" for peace side by side without recrimination; as he urged that the Molotov disarmament proposals be discussed by the Assembly; and as he told how the United States has "progressively and rapidly reduced its military establishment" in Europe and the Pacific.

Refuses Fight With Molotov

In refusing to be drawn into a fight with Molotov on American policies, Austin said:

"Our motives in war and peace we leave to the judgment of history. We fought for fredom side by side without recrimination. Can't we fight

U. S., Britain Accused Of Violating Charter

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—Yugoslavia today accused the United States and Great Britain of repeated violations of the United Nations Charter and declared that "certain circles" were attempting to use the atom bomb as "a means for intimidating the world."

In one of the most aggressive speeches delivered so far before the United Nations Assembly, Yugoslav Foreign Minister Stanoje Simich assailed the western powers on a half dozen counts, called for retention of the veto in the Security Council and urged immediate approval of the broad disarmament proposals outlined yesterday by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Hannegan Repudiates Communist Support, Blasts Taft And Martin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan tonight repudiated all Communist support for his party in next Tuesday's elections and blasted at Republican leadership of Sen. Taft (Ohio) and Rep. Martin (Mass).

"To the Communists, I say, this administration neither wants nor deserves your support," Hannegan said in an address prepared for radio delivery as the congressional campaigns drew near the finish.

"You should give it to the Republican Party. In that party are your best friends, the proven champions of chaos. Give them your vote; for they, not the Democrats have earned it."

A vote for a Republican candidate, Hannegan declared, "is a vote for Taft and Martin and for the party that undermined America's stabilization program in the last Congress.

"It is a vote for the party that sabotaged housing for veterans.

"It is a vote for the party that wanted to give the secret of atomic defense into the hands of those who are interested only in their own private profit."

Assailing Taft, the Democratic National Chairman said:

"If you believe world co-operation is our only hope of avoiding World War III, then you should know that Taft voted against American participation in the United Nations.

"If you are being squeezed today by price inflation, you should know that for this machinery, Taft was the great engineer."

Hannegan declared Taft also had "protested the retribution that has overtaken" high Nazi leaders.

Asserting that Martin "long and faithfully has served as the prophet in the temple of the profiteers," Hannegan declared "he voted against the soldier, against the working man, against the veteran and the housewife."

Mayor McKeldin Has Cost Baltimore "Unnecessary Millions," Lane Says

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—"Mayor McKeldin and the Republican city administrations in which he has participated have cost and are costing the taxpayers unnecessary millions of dollars," his Democratic opponent in the governor's race, William Preston Lane, Jr., declared today in a speech before the 11th Ward Democratic Club.

Asserting that McKeldin's record as a public official had been made an issue in the campaign, Lane proceeded to "examine the record."

He said McKeldin got into office as Mayor of Baltimore in 1943 on a claim that small houses were over-assessed and that large downtown office buildings were under-assessed. But, Lane declared, since McKeldin became Mayor assessments on small home buildings had increased by as much as 41 per cent in some instances, while office building assessments "stay pretty much where they were".

Lane told his audience "there are good reasons why Mayor McKeldin prefers to talk about what happened at Yalta, at Casablanca and Tehran". As one instance of this he cited a proposed water loan for Baltimore City, a campaign issue in the Mayor's race in 1943.

Lane declared McKeldin sold the voters on expending only $12,500,000 for the water loan, instead of $32,000,000 as originally advocated by Mayor Jackson.

As the former sum has not been expended due to wartime conditions, Lane said the work to be done at present-day prices will cost Baltimore taxpayers $42,000,000 for what Jackson could have accomplished with only $28,000,000 of the $32,000,000 asked.

Lane said the State of Maryland is faced with the problem of developing a long-range aviation program for adequate facilities throughout the entire state, but he added, "Mayor McKeldin's record in this and other service fields hardly war-

Guardsmen Post Is Instituted

New Organization Plans To Take Part In Armistice Day Parade

Institution of Algonquin Post No. 3, Legion of Guardsmen, was effected last night at the State Armory under the direction of Robert J. Herstine, this city, district organizer for Maryland.

Herstine, who was installed as temporary commander, said the post was instituted with 96 members and that 63 of them were present last night. A mass obligation will be held at the armory next Wednesday night.

Getting off to a quick start, plans were made for the post to take part in the parade on Armistice night with James Cecil, David Durst, Edward Malloy and Harry Cline named the committee in charge.

Herstine said he hopes at least 150 men will take part in the parade, and extended an invitation to all members of the Minute Men organization to participate. They also were invited to attend the meeting next Wednesday.

The charter of the organization is still open, according to Herstine, who said anyone wishing to join should contact him. Austin Ward, William Smith, William Rank or Robert V. Baker.

Two other committees were named last night. They are Constitution and By-laws, with Walter Esminger, chairman, and Jacob Shanholtz and Malloy as members; and Social, with W. T. Turley, chairman, and Verner Winner and Thomas Gibson as members.

Herstine said an effort now will be made to form a Legion of Guardsmen Post at Oakland and another at Hagerstown.

Mark McCauley, 35

homes and lives and our society"? Thompson argued.

"Insanity is the refuge of the guilty, not the defense of the innocent," Thompson stated. "This man has convicted himself. Listen to this." Then he read and brilliantly analyzed each part of McCauley's signed confession.

"And there are people who would have us believe that this man doesn't know right from wrong."

"May the stars that shine over Mineral County grow dim, may the sun that shines in the skies grow cold, may the laws that are written on our judgment books grow old, if this man," and he shook his finger angrily at McCauley, "if this man is insane."

"He is just as smart and as capable of knowing right from wrong as any man in this room," Thompson said quietly.

Then he told the jury, "Some have wondered why I am here. Gentlemen, I am here to see justice done. I am here as a member of my profession trying to help you uphold the laws of this state. Defense pleads for sympathy for McCauley's child and for his aged parents. Gentlemen, I plead for some justice for Joseph Horne and some mercy for his wife and kids."

There were few dry eyes in the spectators gallery, when Thompson took his seat.

Rankin Opens For State

Prosecutor Vernon E. Rankin opened the pleas before the jury. Rankin took the jury through a word picture of all the incidents involved in the shooting of Sgt. Horne. He outlined step by step how the crime had been committed and the actions of the defendant before and immediately after the shooting. Rankin declared, "McCauley has convicted himself.

"First he shot Joe Horne. Then he shot Sheriff Hovatter. Then he shot Donald Hovatter. He fled to the mountains. He returned and obtained food and clothing and a razor and things he would need. When seen by the men who captured him he jumped over a bank and tossed his guns away. He put up his hands and said, 'I'm Mark McCauley.' He signed and made his own confession.

Outlined Testimony

This was the word picture Rankin painted for the jurors to leave with them the evidence as it was presented in the testimony.

Then the prosecutor declared, "To prove first degree murder under the law we must prove premeditation. The state has proved this many times in this case. First, Mark McCauley, according to witnesses couldn't take the word of Sgt. Joe Horne, who had always treated him well. Second, McCauley was saved from shooting Joe Horne on a previous occasion when his brother-in-law Glen Walbritten pushed the rifle aside. Third, McCauley said later, 'I am going to fill Joe Horne full of lead.' Fourth, he carried a loaded gun."

Touching on the insanity plea, Rankin told the jury that to prove insanity in a West Virginia court in a case of this kind it is necessary under the law to show the defendant does not know right from wrong.

The state proved McCauley knows right from wrong, and McCauley has proved it himself, Rankin exclaimed. Psychiatrists who testified described him as selfish and willing to do anything to gain his own willful end, the prosecutor continued. McCauley's own family testified that he "was one of the meanest boys who ever lived, was a bully, willfully disobedient, had a mean heart and utter disregard for the law.

Rankin said "no man who is insane, or doesn't know what he is doing, could enter into real estate transactions, serve in the Navy and get an honorable discharge, conduct business of normal individuals, drive trucks and make a good living, unless he knew right from wrong."

"This man," Rankin said, "is just a mean, vicious individual, who has no regard for society or the laws of society."

After speaking at some length on the details of the crime, and reviewing the testimony of the case, Rankin said the defense had used the only plea open to them.

"What in the name of God does the state have to do to prove this man has murdered somebody?" he shouted.

He reminded the jury that every man is presumed to be sane under the law until he has been proven otherwise. "Mark's family say he is mean as the devil, but is crazy so he can't be accused of crime," Rankin cried.

Asked For Conviction

Then calmly and deliberately, Rankin outlined the verdicts as previously explained by the court and told the jurors, "I am interested in this case, not because I want to hang somebody, or because I knew Joe Horne, but because it is my duty to bring criminals to justice, and because this man willfully shot and killed in cold blood, an officer who was performing his duty."

"You can't say McCauley is dumb," Rankin exclaimed. "He is smart, cunning, has criminal instincts with the record and reputation of a gun carrier."

"There isn't any first degree murder in this state, if this isn't it," he exclaimed in conclusion.

Defense Argues Insanity

Emphasizing the testimony of the psychiatrists, and appealing to the emotions of the jurors, both H. G. Shores and Edward J. Ryan co-counsel for the defense made masterful pleas for McCauley's life.

Shores opened for the defense by declaring, "Joe Horne was my friend, one of my best friends, and I still believe this man must not hang for killing him because he is insane."

"Look at him", Shores exclaimed. "He has no sense of judgment, no sense of right or wrong. I've tried, as his attorney to talk with him and help him, but he can't even carry on an intelligent conversation or keep on a single subject long enough to make sense."

"The expert brain specialist who testified here said McCauley is mentally ill and should be committed to an institution," Shores recalled. "You wouldn't hang an 11 year old child, and you can't hang this man, because he has a mentality rating of a child. He isn't responsible", Shores repeated.

Pointing to McCauley's son, who was seated with Mrs. McCauley, divorced first wife of the defendant in the spectators gallery, Shores asked the jury, "Do you want to put the stigma of hanging his father over the life of this boy?" Pointing to McCauley's father and mother, Shores asked the jury to spare them the grief of knowing their "mentally ill son was hanged for committing a crime for which he was not mentally responsible".

Ryan Makes Brilliant Plea

Ryan, a Cumberland, Md., attorney, paraded the guns McCauley used, the gun worn by Sgt. Horne and the officer's bullet punctured uniform before the jury and declared, "This shirt is a badge of honor. This gun he wore is a badge of honor and a symbol of authority and the laws of the state he represented. Sgt. Horne died an honorable death performing his duty, as a soldier on the battlefield."

"There is only pride in my heart for any officer of the law who falls in the performance of his duty. There is only sympathy in my heart for those who mourn him," Ryan continued.

"But taking the life of an insane and irresponsible man who killed Sgt. Horne, would be a plot upon the pages of justice of the fair state of West Virginia," Ryan exclaimed.

He recalled the testimony of witnesses and analyzed it. He reminded the jurors that "the greatest brain specialists obtainable" had examined McCauley, and two out of three of them had declared him a dual personality who does not know the meaning or consequences of his act."

"If Dr. Irving J. Spear had told me this man was sane, then I would not have come before you with a plea of insanity," Ryan declared.

"No one can honestly say what destiny prompted Mark McCauley to shoot and kill these men. We do not know what may be behind all this. It is written that the sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children and who knows what may have happened generations back in the forefathers of Mark McCauley which would cause him to have a warped mentality when the rest of the family are fine respectable citizens," Ryan argued.

"No one knows why the Lord said to Mark McCauley, you shall bear the sign, and to his brother, Paul, the minister, you shall carry the cross" . . ."and the multitudes cried, crucify him, crucify him," Ryan quoted.

He gave the jury two choices in his plea. He asked the jurors, "Don't turn this crazy man loose upon society, return a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity so he can be committed and treated, but if you don't think he is insane, and I assure you, he is crazy, you must return a verdict of second degree murder because there is no premeditation, no willful planning, no criminal plotting here."

"I leave in your hands, the life of insane Mark McCauley," Ryan concluded.

DRIVER SAVES STATION— When this gasoline truck caught fire at a filling station in Huntington, W. Va., Walter Burris, of Kenova, didn't hesitate. Clarysville, who died early Tuesday afternoon in Memorial Hospital, will be conducted Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home. Burial will be in St. Michael's Cemetery.

MRS. MINNIE WOLFE

BEDFORD, Pa., Oct. 30 — Mrs. Minnie A. Wolfe, who observed her 83rd birthday last Saturday, died at noon today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Beegle, Friends Cove. She had been bedfast for the past ten weeks.

A native of Snake Spring Township, and a lifelong resident of Bedford county, Mrs. Wolfe was a daughter of the late Solomon and Catherine L. Schaffer Diehl. She was married December 10, 1880, to William H. Wolfe, who died many years ago.

Besides her daughter, with whom she made her home, Mrs. Wolfe is survived by four sons, Percy C. and R. Burdette Wolfe, Bedford, and Harvey F. and Philip R. Wolfe, both of Akron, O.

Also surviving are two brothers, Harry M. Diehl, RFD 1, Everett, and H. Reeder Diehl, Bedford, and one sister, Mrs. Effie J. Smith, Cumberland, Md.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at St. Mark's Lutheran Church near Bedford, where Mrs. Wolfe was a member. Rev. M. J. Ross, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

The body will be taken to the home of Mrs. Beegle tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon.

"Inspections"

for peace side by side without recrimination? That closes the sad chapter so far as we are concerned. I shall not participate in any exchange of recriminations."

Austin's 6,500-word speech was cleared by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes after the first 1,000 words were rewritten to answer Molotov's fiery speech last night. It presumably was cleared also by President Truman, who also delivered a strong statement of American policy from the same rostrum just a week ago.

Austin also declared that the United States wants full information on troops at home and abroad.

This again carries even further a Soviet Russian demand for information on Allied troops stationed in alien former non-enemy countries and if approved by the Assembly would call upon Russia to give an accounting of her troops as well as those of the United States and Britain.

U. S. Veto Position Unchanged

On the veto question, which has been thoroughly hammered by the small countries and stoutly defended by Soviet Russia, Austin said that the United States does not want to eliminate the power now but hopes that in the future at some indefinite date the five great powers will agree unanimously to remove the veto from the peaceful settlement of disputes.

For the present, he said, the voting system in the Security Council, where the veto power is vested, should be interpreted in such a way as "to carry out the spirit as well as the letter" of the United Nations Charter.

Indicating that the United States thus had not changed its position in favor of moderate use of the veto under present conditions, Austin added firmly: "This is a United States policy."

The United States delegate spoke as the general debate neared an end, with all statements to be concluded by tomorrow and committee work scheduled to come up Friday. If that schedule is followed, the United Nations would be two days behind on its Assembly time-table.

Cosner Case Is Set For November 6

KEYSER, W. Va., Oct. 30—The murder trial of Oscar Cosner, 36-year-old letter carrier, scheduled to begin this week in Mineral County Circuit Court, has been set for November 6, by agreement of attorneys.

Defense and prosecution attorneys told the court today that a total of 36 witnesses are summoned, and more may be called. They indicated to Judge Ernest A. See that six days will be required to complete the case.

If it were started now, the jury would be idle two days, Sunday and election day which is a legal holiday with no session of court. Judge See agreed that it would be unfair to confine jurors for so long a period, and set the case for next Wednesday.

Guardsmen Post Is Instituted

New Organization Plans To Take Part In Armistice Day Parade

Institution of Algonquin Post No. 2, Legion of Guardsmen, was effected last night at the State Armory under the direction of Robert J. Herstine, this city, district organizer for Maryland.

Herstine, who was installed as temporary commander, said the post was instituted with 96 members and that 63 of them were present last night. A mass obligation will be held at the armory next Wednesday night.

Getting off to a quick start, plans were made for the post to take part in the parade on Armistice night with James Cecil, David Durst, Edward Malloy and Harry Cline named the committee in charge.

Herstine said he hopes at least 150 men will take part in the parade, and extended an invitation to all members of the Minute Men organization to participate. They also were invited to attend the meeting next Wednesday.

The charter of the organization is still open, according to Herstine, who said anyone wishing to join should contact him. Austin Ward, William Smith, William Rank or Robert V. Baker.

Two other committees were named last night. They are Constitution and By-laws, with Walter Esminger, chairman, and Jacob Shanholtz and Malloy as members; and Social, with W. T. Turley, chairman, and Verner Winner and Thomas Gibson as members.

Herstine said an effort now will be made to form a Legion of Guardsmen Post at Oakland and another at Hagerstown.

Mark McCauley, 35

homes and lives and our society"? Thompson argued.

"Insanity is the refuge of the guilty, not the defense of the innocent," Thompson stated. "This man has convicted himself. Listen to this." Then he read and brilliantly analyzed each part of McCauley's signed confession.

"And there are people who would have us believe that this man doesn't know right from wrong."

"May the stars that shine over Mineral County grow dim, may the sun that shines in the skies grow cold, may the laws that are written on our judgment books grow old, if this man," and he shook his finger angrily at McCauley, "if this man is insane."

"He is just as smart and as capable of knowing right from wrong as any man in this room," Thompson said quietly.

Then he told the jury, "Some have wondered why I am here. Gentlemen, I am here to see justice done. I am here as a member of my profession trying to help you uphold the laws of this state. Defense pleads for sympathy for McCauley's child and for his aged parents. Gentlemen, I plead for some justice for Joseph Horne and some mercy for his wife and kids."

There were few dry eyes in the spectators gallery, when Thompson took his seat.

Rankin Opens For State

Prosecutor Vernon E. Rankin opened the pleas before the jury. Rankin took the jury through a word picture of all the incidents involved in the shooting of Sgt. Horne. He outlined step by step how the crime had been committed and the actions of the defendant before and immediately after the shooting. Rankin declared, "McCauley has convicted himself.

"First he shot Joe Horne. Then he shot Sheriff Hovatter. Then he shot Donald Hovatter. He fled to the mountains. He returned and obtained food and clothing and a razor and things he would need. When seen by the men who captured him he jumped over a bank and tossed his guns away. He put up his hands and said, 'I'm Mark McCauley.' He signed and made his own confession.

Outlined Testimony

This was the word picture Rankin painted for the jurors to leave with them the evidence as it was presented in the testimony.

Then the prosecutor declared, "To prove first degree murder under the law we must prove premeditation. The state has proved this many times in this case. First, Mark McCauley, according to witnesses couldn't take the word of Sgt. Joe Horne, who had always treated him well. Second, McCauley was saved from shooting Joe Horne on a previous occasion when his brother-in-law Glen Walbritten pushed the rifle aside. Third, McCauley said later, 'I am going to fill Joe Horne full of lead.' Fourth, he carried a loaded gun."

Touching on the insanity plea, Rankin told the jury that to prove insanity in a West Virginia court in a case of this kind it is necessary under the law to show the defendant does not know right from wrong.

The state proved McCauley knows right from wrong, and McCauley has proved it himself, Rankin exclaimed. Psychiatrists who testified described him as selfish and willing to do anything to gain his own willful end, the prosecutor continued. McCauley's own family testified that he "was one of the meanest boys who ever lived, was a bully, willfully disobedient, had a mean heart and utter disregard for the law.

Rankin said "no man who is insane, or doesn't know what he is doing, could enter into real estate transactions, serve in the Navy and get an honorable discharge, conduct business of normal individuals, drive trucks and make a good living, unless he knew right from wrong."

"This man," Rankin said, "is just a mean, vicious individual, who has no regard for society or the laws of society."

After speaking at some length on the details of the crime, and reviewing the testimony of the case, Rankin said the defense had used the only plea open to them.

"What in the name of God does the state have to do to prove this man has murdered somebody?" he shouted.

He reminded the jury that every man is presumed to be sane under the law until he has been proven otherwise. "Mark's family say he is mean as the devil, but is crazy so he can't be accused of crime," Rankin cried.

Asked For Conviction

Then calmly and deliberately, Rankin outlined the verdicts as previously explained by the court and told the jurors, "I am interested in this case, not because I want to hang somebody, or because I knew Joe Horne, but because it is my duty to bring criminals to justice, and because this man willfully shot and killed in cold blood, an officer who was performing his duty."

"You can't say McCauley is dumb," Rankin exclaimed. "He is smart, cunning, has criminal instincts with the record and reputation of a gun carrier."

"There isn't any first degree murder in this state, if this isn't it," he exclaimed in conclusion.

Defense Argues Insanity

Emphasizing the testimony of the psychiatrists, and appealing to the emotions of the jurors, both H. G. Shores and Edward J. Ryan co-counsel for the defense made masterful pleas for McCauley's life.

Shores opened for the defense by declaring, "Joe Horne was my friend, one of my best friends, and I still believe this man must not hang for killing him because he is insane."

"Look at him", Shores exclaimed. "He has no sense of judgment, no sense of right or wrong. I've tried, as his attorney to talk with him and help him, but he can't even carry on an intelligent conversation or keep on a single subject long enough to make sense."

"The expert brain specialist who testified here said McCauley is mentally ill and should be committed to an institution," Shores recalled. "You wouldn't hang an 11 year old child, and you can't hang this man, because he has a mentality rating of a child. He isn't responsible", Shores repeated.

Pointing to McCauley's son, who was seated with Mrs. McCauley, divorced first wife of the defendant in the spectators gallery, Shores asked the jury, "Do you want to put the stigma of hanging his father over the life of this boy?" Pointing to McCauley's father and mother, Shores asked the jury to spare them the grief of knowing their "mentally ill son was hanged for committing a crime for which he was not mentally responsible".

Ryan Makes Brilliant Plea

Ryan, a Cumberland, Md., attorney, paraded the guns McCauley used, the gun worn by Sgt. Horne and the officer's bullet punctured uniform before the jury and declared, "This shirt is a badge of honor. This gun he wore is a badge of honor and a symbol of authority and the laws of the state he represented. Sgt. Horne died an honorable death performing his duty, as a soldier on the battlefield."

"There is only pride in my heart for any officer of the law who falls in the performance of his duty. There is only sympathy in my heart for those who mourn him," Ryan continued.

"But taking the life of an insane and irresponsible man who killed Sgt. Horne, would be a plot upon the pages of justice of the fair state of West Virginia," Ryan exclaimed.

He recalled the testimony of witnesses and analyzed it. He reminded the jurors that "the greatest brain specialists obtainable" had examined McCauley, and two out of three of them had declared him a dual personality who does not know the meaning or consequences of his act."

"If Dr. Irving J. Spear had told me this man was sane, then I would not have come before you with a plea of insanity," Ryan declared.

"No one can honestly say what destiny prompted Mark McCauley to shoot and kill these men. We do not know what may be behind all this. It is written that the sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children and who knows what may have happened generations back in the forefathers of Mark McCauley which would cause him to have a warped mentality when the rest of the family are fine respectable citizens," Ryan argued.

"No one knows why the Lord said to Mark McCauley, you shall bear the sign, and to his brother, Paul, the minister, you shall carry the cross" . . ."and the multitudes cried, crucify him, crucify him," Ryan quoted.

He gave the jury two choices in his plea. He asked the jurors, "Don't turn this crazy man loose upon society, return a verdict of not guilty by reason of insanity so he can be committed and treated, but if you don't think he is insane, and I assure you, he is crazy, you must return a verdict of second degree murder because there is no premeditation, no willful planning, no criminal plotting here."

"I leave in your hands, the life of insane Mark McCauley," Ryan concluded.

MRS. MINNIE WOLFE

BEDFORD, Pa., Oct. 30 — Mrs. Minnie A. Wolfe, who observed her 83rd birthday last Saturday, died at noon today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Beegle, Friends Cove. She had been bedfast for the past ten weeks.

A native of Snake Spring Township, and a lifelong resident of Bedford county, Mrs. Wolfe was a daughter of the late Solomon and Catherine L. Schaffer Diehl. She was married December 10, 1880, to William H. Wolfe, who died many years ago.

Besides her daughter, with whom she made her home, Mrs. Wolfe is survived by four sons, Percy C. and R. Burdette Wolfe, Bedford, and Harvey F. and Phillip R. Wolfe, both of Akron, O.

Also surviving are two brothers, Harry M. Diehl, RFD 1, Everett, and H. Reeder Diehl, Bedford, and one sister, Mrs. Effie J. Smith, Cumberland, Md.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at St. Mark's Lutheran Church near Bedford, where Mrs. Wolfe was a member. Rev. M. J. Ross, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

The body will be taken to the home of Mrs. Beegle tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon.

"Inspections"

for peace side by side without recrimination? That closes the sad chapter so far as we are concerned. I shall not participate in any exchange of recriminations."

Austin's 6,500-word speech was cleared by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes after the first 1,000 words were rewritten to answer Molotov's fiery speech last night. It presumably was cleared also by President Truman, who also delivered a strong statement of American policy from the same rostrum just a week ago.

Austin also declared that the United States wants full information on troops at home and abroad.

This again carries even further a Soviet Russian demand for information on Allied troops stationed in alien former non-enemy countries and if approved by the Assembly would call upon Russia to give an accounting of her troops as well as those of the United States and Britain.

U. S. Veto Position Unchanged

On the veto question, which has been thoroughly hammered by the small countries and stoutly defended by Soviet Russia, Austin said that the United States does not want to eliminate the power now but hopes that in the future at some indefinite date the five great powers will agree unanimously to remove the veto from the peaceful settlement of disputes.

For the present, he said, the voting system in the Security Council, where the veto power is vested, should be interpreted in such a way as "to carry out the spirit as well as the letter" of the United Nations Charter.

Indicating that the United States thus had not changed its position in favor of moderate use of the veto under present conditions, Austin added firmly: "This is a United States policy."

Republicans Prepare For Responsibilities Of Control

With the inevitability of heavy Republican gains in Congress now admitted on all sides—and, inferentially, by Moscow—G. O. P. leaders are not waiting until the returns are in to face up to the responsibilities which victory will entail. They are—wisely and properly—giving serious consideration to the legislative program which the party will put forward as the majority party on Capitol Hill.

Political observers report that all hands agree there is a Republican swing of landslide proportions among the voters of America. This swing has now assured the Republicans of control of the House of Congress, with at least a dozen member majority, and control of the Senate in a narrower division of party alignment. Assaying the situation with the utmost conservatism, Republican leaders said they can count on 35 to 40 seats in the House. Twenty-six are needed to gain control. House gains will be made by the G. O. P. in every section of the nation except the South.

The Republicans need nine additional seats in the Senate to win control. The elephant will pick them up in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Massachusetts, Missouri, West Virginia, Montana and Wyoming. To add insult to injury, it will, in all probability, also elect Senators in New Mexico, Idaho, Washington and Nevada. Many Democrats, who were confident when the campaign opened that they were in no real danger, will be defeated. It will not be a surprise to some analysts if Republican gains in the House exceed fifty seats.

It is because of this outlook that Republican leaders are preparing the Party for the tasks ahead. Their legislative program is not being hurriedly patched together in anticipation of this victory, as Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts makes plain. Mr. Martin, who is now majority leader of the House and who is slated to be the next Speaker, reports that various G. O. P. study committees have been working on such a program for two years.

But these plans must obviously be reconsidered in the light of current conditions and to fit whatever political balance exists in the Senate after the votes have been counted.

Rep. Martin has announced that he intends to call the Republican steering committee of the House to meet on November 18 to put the finishing touches on the party's legislative program. The various study committees will also get together. On December 2, another meeting of all Republican Representatives-eleet is to be called to pass on the program so that the party will be ready for prompt and decisive action when the new Congress convenes January 3.

If this sounds like counting chickens before they are hatching, most thoughtful voters will agree that it is a wise precaution. The worst thing that could happen, in the present national mess, would be for a party to take control of the legislative branch of the Government without the definite plan of action that the state of the nation calls for. The Republicans are wisely taking steps to insure that they will be ready to assume the responsibilities that go with the control that will be theirs after next Tuesday.

When a paragrapher asked what became of Morgenthau, Ickes, Henderson, Bowles, Rosenman and Tugwell, that was probably his way of saying that time marches on.

Consumer Resistance Bringing Prices Down

The nation's housewives, in their capacity as family food buyers, are practically on their own today. Wartime price controls on everything edible except sugar, syrups and rice have been removed, leaving only about 3 per cent of all foods under ceilings. Restrictions have also come off beverages and restaurant meals.

This means that housewives must now balance their food budgets, whether or not they include beverages and meals eaten out, without benefits of government-imposed curbs. For many of them that is already a difficult problem because of the general price level. And there is a possibility that items that are scarce will become more expensive temporarily.

But, as contended by Rep. J. Glenn Beall, when he voted against the continuation of the OPA, consumer resistance and increased supply of some items, including meat, has already had the effect of bringing them down to more reasonable levels. The behavior of meat since the government decontrolled that commodity should offer worried guardians of the pay check some comfort. Meanwhile substitutes for meat have dropped. So it is reasonable to expect that housewives can force prices down still further by their unorganized "strike" against high prices.

A free market for food will mean that supply and demand will come into balance at prices that will tend to stabilize both production and consumption. Normal relationships eventually will be restored. Since food generally is expected to be plentiful unless there is another binge of shipments to Europe, prices will not long remain unreasonable on a single item. And housewives are not helpless. The pocketbook is a powerful weapon when used wisely.

It is alleged that in Pennsylvania a customer who had ordered it refused to take a new car because the price was too high. Has Reuther been told this?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

PAIN IN THE SACROILIAC REGION

PAIN in the back may mean injury or disease in any one of several structures in the area. Possibilities include the bones and joints of the spine and pelvis, ligaments, muscles, cartilages, and other tissues. By careful examination the actual cause can often be tracked down so that appropriate treatment may be given.

The sacroiliac joints in the lower back are a common source of discomfort. These hinges are formed where the triangular shaped sacrum (lowermost section of the spine) fits like a keystone into the right and left sides of the pelvic bones. These structures support the weight of the trunk and absorb the shock [illegible] the lower extremities.

[illegible] the sacroiliacs cannot move as freely as the hips and elbows [illegible] useful gadgets when lifting, [illegible]ing, stooping, or walking. As with many other parts, the joints are surrounded by ligaments are subject to [illegible]tion, infection, toxemia, and trauma.

As a rule, pain occurs on lifting an object at a mechanical disadvantage or in an awkward position. Thus the [illegible]m worker who must stand and [illegible]e and pass heavy parts from side to another is a potential victim. The same can be said of [illegible] and father who swings his [illegible]en from left to right or vice [illegible] and the strong man who attempts to raise a window that is stuck. Another way of throwing the [illegible] out of gear is to kick at [illegible] a football, or hoist a cumbersome article from a level below that on which the subject is standing. The disturbance may appear also during pregnancy and in those with poor posture.

When injury occurs or infection settles in this region, pain near the joint is the clew that something is amiss. If only one side is involved the patient may believe that the hip is the site of distress. Sometimes soreness travels down the back or outer border of the thigh and leg. Mild discomfort is often associated with stiffness and the victim favors the affected side when walking or lying down. On the other hand, with a sudden twist or strain the excruciating pain may prevent the sufferer from standing erect.

Many tests have been devised to help the physician localize the source of trouble and to distinguish the condition from abnormalities in the spine or hips. X-rays are valuable especially when arthritis is responsible. In the presence of strain, however, the film may be normal.

In acute distress, rest is necessary. Only lying flat in bed with a pillow behind the knees, ease can often be obtained altho in some instances weight must be applied to the legs to relieve tension. Manipulation is helpful. In mild cases a trial with adhesive strapping is worth while and if it affords improvement, a corset or brace designed for this purpose should be worn. Heat and massage aid in relaxation. Thereafter the individual should correct faulty habits of standing and working.

RABIES

C. E. L. writes: How long after a dog bite has healed would it be possible to develop hydrophobia?

REPLY

Anywhere from 10 days to a year or more. In the majority, six to eight weeks can be considered an average time. When the face is involved, the period is shorter; with the extremities, it is longer. In case there is any suspicion that the dog had rabies, the Pasteur treatment must be instituted. This is the best method of treatment we have, even tho it is not 100 per cent perfect. We should keep in mind that every one who is bitten by a rabid animal will not develop the disease.

HOUSEMAID'S KNEE

H. S. writes: I have been in bed for four weeks with water on the knee. What is the cause and a good cure?

REPLY

The usual cause is injury or arthritis. Rest and supportive bandages should be maintained until healing occurs. If this fails to relieve the disorder, operation is sometimes necessary.

FEVER THERAPY

C. T. writes: What is meant by artificial fever treatment?

REPLY

Raising the body temperature by artificial means, such as with a heat cabinet. The theory behind the plan is that certain germs in the system can be killed at a high temperature.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

REPORT ON U. N.

NEW YORK. . .The United Nations delegates are staying at my hotel here and they've really crowded it. Of course a man of my standing has no trouble getting a place to sleep, and that's how I slept—standing.

I tried to get in as a Hindu delegate but I didn't wrap my turban right. The house detective saw where it said Pullman.

Then I told the clerk I was a Russian delegate. He kept looking at my nose and saying "Yeah! Where's the hammer that goes with that sickle?"

You should have seen the Indian delegates register. They built a bonfire in the lobby and did it with smoke signals.

I'm sharing a room with one of the Indian delegates. All day he just sits in the bathtub with the shower on, saying: "Uggg! When does salmon go upstream to spawn?"

And the British haven't gotten over the blitz. Every time I snore, their delegates run out into the street and wait for the All Clear.

I went up to a Chinese delegate and asked him how about the laundry, and he was very nice. He let me do it.

BLOW THE WHISTLE, IT LOOKS LIKE A SUBSTITUTION

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, [illegible]30—Inside fact about the firing [illegible] Justice Department Prosecutor [illegible] Rogge was that he was ousted [illegible] direct orders from President Truman.

Indirectly also the orders [illegible] from Senator Burton Wheeler of Montana with reported off-stage promptings from John L. Lewis.

Rogge had discussed his Swarthmore speech in advance with Attorney General Tom Clark, and the latter knew all about the dynamite that was going to be exploded. He knew that various high-placed Americans whom the Nazis tried to use in 1940, including John L. Lewis and Senator Wheeler would have their feet held to the fire. Furthermore, Attorney General Clark discussed the impending speech with at least one other member of the Cabinet.

Two days passed after Rogge's October 22 speech was delivered and nothing happened. There was no move inside the Justice Department to admonish him.

Then, on the second day, October 24, Senator Wheeler called at the White House and had a two-hour conference with Truman. The two men are old friends. Wheeler was the only Democratic Senator to back the President openly supported for renomination.

Furthermore, Wheeler is a close and intimate friend of John L. Lewis. When Wheeler seemed likely to be defeated for re-election in 1929, Lewis helped still the opposition of the Anaconda Copper Company, which has been in Wheeler's camp ever since. They became even closer friends just before the war, when both vehemently opposed Roosevelt's war policies and when Mr. Wheeler and Kathryn Lewis both served as members of the America First Committee.

Following Truman's October 24 conference with Wheeler, he summoned Attorney General Clark late that evening and ordered John Rogge fired. Clark issued the letter of dismissal at the unusual hour of midnight that night—on direct orders of the President.

Note—Rogge has had one of the best records in the Justice Department. As Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Criminal Division he helped prosecute Boss Tom Pendergast of Kansas City (the man who put Truman in the Senate); convicted Gov. Richard Leche of Louisiana and other members of the old Huey Long gang; tried the indicted pro-Nazi seditionists. More recently he had been in Europe collecting evidence from Goering, Ribbentrop and other Nazi prisoners.

GOP and Communists

While squawking about alleged links between Democrats and Communists GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece has been significantly silent about a Republican-Communist alliance right in his own backyard.

It is the link-up between the Republican Party and pro-Communist Vincent Longhi, candidate from New York's 12th Congressional District in Brooklyn.

Despite interesting police and FBI records showing him close to the Communists, the Republicans are pushing Longhi for election to Congress.

Here are some of the things in Longhi's record.

1. He failed to report for induction into the Army, but when later he joined the Merchant Marine, prosecution was dropped.

2. Office manager of the Joint Anti-Fascist League, a pro-Communist organization; also an officer of the National Maritime Union, which has strong leftist leanings.

3. Affiliated with the Communist newspaper, "L'Unita del Popolo."

Dewey-Donovan Feud

Beneath the surface all is not too happy in one wing of the Dewey campaign headquarters. General "Wild Bill" Donovan, most decorated hero of World War I and organizer of the OSS in World War II, is being a good sport about it, but his friends feel anything but [illegible] toward the New York Governor.

It will [illegible]s back to a conference between [illegible]ey and Donovan in the Roo[illegible] Hotel last August, when the [illegible] asked Dewey for his support to [illegible] the GOP nomination for the Sen[illegible]. Dewey, however, gave Donovan the [illegible]n-off. What he said in substance [illegible]

"Let's wait a while. K[illegible]y is a sick man and may not [illegible] for this world. When his vac[illegible] occurs, then I can appoint you [illegible] the Senate."

Dewey assured him that the Republicans were so strong in New York they could sweep any nonentity into office. Reading between the lines, Donovan's friends also say that Dewey was fearful of Donovan's colorful personality and national stature, including his record in two wars. Dewey and his machine still are peevish over the way FDR rolled up 70 per cent of the veterans' vote in 1944.

They feel, however, that they can make a deal with the A. F. of L. and thus crack labor's previous solidarity in New York state. To that end, Donovan's friends claim that Dewey made a deal with the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the State Federation of Labor to scuttle Donovan as the Senatorial candidate taking instead Irving M. Ives, Dean of the School of Industrial Relations at Cornell.

Donovan, a good sport, has been managing Ives' campaign. But a lot of his supporters aren't such good sports. They are bitter over the knifing Dewey gave Donovan, and they may do a little undercutting themselves when 1948 rolls round and the Governor trains his sights once again on the White House.

Note—Some of those strongly in Donovan's camp during the New York pre-convention campaign were George Sibley, vice president of E. R. Squibb; Archie Dawson, a 1944 speech-writer for Dewey; Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, prominent metropolitan civic worker and campaigner for Willkie; Jo Robert Rubin, vice-president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; and Albert Lasker, retired advertising magnate.

Capital Chaff

Some brass hats [illegible] high heaven when they get unfavorable publicity about their branch of the service. Not, however, Admiral Lou Denfield, head of the Navy's Bureau of Personnel. When this column reported inefficiencies at the Naval Air Station at Olathe, Kansas, Denfield expressed his appreciation for having the situation called to his attention and transferred the responsible officer . . . Funny, how certain Republican candidates have failed to repudiate the support of rabble-rousing Gerald L. K. Smith. So far Senator Alexander Smith of New Jersey is among those who have been mute . . . William Pawley, U. S. Ambassador to Brazil, is at Mayo Clinic. He flew back from Rio in his private airplane . . . Charles Bay, U. S. Ambassador to Norway, has come home to vote—and perhaps look for greener diplomatic pastures . . . Seven-year-old John E. Gibson, son of the Assistant Secretary of Labor, is recovering from a tough bout with polio . . . Speaker Sam Rayburn phoned 23 Democratic Congressmen in tough districts to ask if they needed more money. Twenty said they had enough. When a candidate doesn't want any more money, says Sam, he's confident.

Farmers Earnest, Dependable Foes Of Inflation

By MARK SULLIVAN

Avondale, Chester County, Pa. — In this farm community is occurring, to an increasing degree from day to day, something which throws strong light on high prices and inflation, and in a direction contrary to what the public is most often told. The condition described here should be illuminating to everybody. It needs especially to be read by Mr. Philip Murray, who says his CIO union of steel workers is going to demand higher wages, and Mr. Walter Reuther who says his CIO union of automobile workers is going to do the same—both saying that higher wages are justified because the cost of living is high and, as they seem to assume, going higher.

In this neighborhood many mushrooms are raised. Here was the birthplace of the industry in America, and a territory some ten miles [illegible] ten is the principal seat of it.

[illegible]son in Supply and Demand

[illegible] day this is written, mushrooms [illegible] at $1 a basket. Ten days ago this [illegible] for $2. As recently as last sunda[illegible] they sold as high as $3.50. At [illegible]eak they sold as high as $4 and [illegible].

The reason for [illegible] drop is a plain lesson in supply a[illegible]mand. When demand was high, [illegible] prices high with it, supply set ou[illegible] to catch up. New mushroom houses [illegible] built in large numbers in this [illegible]unity, and in other parts of the [illegible]try mushroom raising started up.

Presently supply caught up [illegible] demand, and passed beyond [illegible]. Right now more mushrooms are being produced than the public demands and more than canners are equipped to take. The condition was accentuated by weather, always a factor when prices and other economic conditions are left to take their natural course. During October was an exceptional period of warm weather accompanied by dampness. Both conditions hastened the growth of the mushroom. Mushrooms are being picked now which ordinarily would not be picked until later.

Mushrooms are a comparatively small item of food. But most farmers here abouts who raise the stable crops and forms of food think that prices, if left to nature, are likely to go lower—not perhaps so drastically low in the near future as mushrooms, but ultimately to a normal level of prices. For this judgment they cite good reasons, including precedents during previous periods following war. The end of war brings cessation of abnormal and imperative demands, for feeding armed forces, forces which, in the recent war and the First World War included not only our own but those of allied countries. Moreover, the end of the war permits return of other countries to normal production of food, largely suspended while the war was on.

Deplore Further Rise

Most farmers in this neighborhood go on the assumption that present prices of crops are peaks. They deplore any further rise and would do nothing to bring it about. Presumably farmers throughout the country generally feel the same way. The [illegible] farmers as a class would suffer less from inflation than other groups in the nation's industrial economy—because farmers produce food for themselves and because they have some compensating set off in the form of increased prices of their farm land—nevertheless farmers are dependable and earnest opponents of inflation.

Farmers in the aggregate [illegible] largest of all producers of goods, and their attitude should have influence. If there is another wave of high prices, another step upward in the spiral of inflation, it will not start with farmers nor with prices of crops and food. There is possibility of it in the demands of labor unions for higher wages. Wage raises if they take place, would result in higher prices of the manufactured goods which farmers and everybody else must buy and would tend toward a higher price level generally.

Farmers in this community, and I think throughout the country generally, have kept themselves equipped to face a drop in prices of crops, by avoiding purchase of land at excessive prices, and especially avoiding purchase with money on mortgage, entailing burdensome payment of interest. While there is a decided rise in the prices of farm land compared with pre-war, that buying has been done has not been in speculative spirit nor as a rule with borrowed money. There has not been a land boom, and return of prices of farm crops to a normal level would not cause calamitous distress.

Truman Administration Again Has Surrendered Unconditionally

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — The Truman administration has surrendered unconditionally again. John L. Lewis has forced the reopening of a contract merely by threatening to ignore the Smith-Connally law. Instead of accepting the challenge and defending the majesty of the law, the administration yielded and thereby bestowed on Mr. Lewis the potential leadership of the entire labor movement in America.

For Mr. Lewis is out to break up the CIO and to dominate the AFL. By shrewd tactics, the head of the mine workers' union has compelled the Truman administration to promise an increase in wages to the miners and in exchange for this there will be no coal strike called. It is a violation of law anyway for a strike to be called while the federal government is in possession of "any plant or facility" but the Truman administration lacks the courage to enforce the federal laws against labor unions. They are immune because of their political power.

Can Throw Senate Contests

Thus far Lewis, through the miners' vote, is in a position to throw one way or the other the election for senator in two close states—Kentucky and West Virginia. Evidently retention of Senate control by the Democratic administration through any means or any expedient is more important than the principle of law enforcement.

It is well known that Secretary of the Interior Krug, who is an efficient public servant, saw no basis for reopening the coal contract and he was reversed by the President's orders.

Now, when the negotiations are resumed on Friday of this week, Mr. Lewis will be in a position to force the issue at once. He will not brook delay or stalling beyond next Tuesday. He never would have agreed to call off the strike if he had not been assured that there would be an increase in compensation for the miners. However small it may turn out to be, it sets the pattern and challenges Philip Murray and the CIO to ask for wage increases. It starts the whole inflation spiral all over again just at a time when the need for stability or assurance of future stability is greatest.

Lewis Unafraid of Government

If Mr. Lewis out-trumps Mr. Murray, it will be a signal to the rank and file that they had better join the Lewis bandwagon—for he is afraid of nothing, not even the federal government. Such manifestation of prestige in labor circles is unrivalled.

The Truman administration has revealed the weakness of desperation. It is so anxious to hold the Senate that it is willing to make concessions. One reason, on the other hand, for its surrender is a belief that, if the coal operators do not soon agree to take back their mines, they will find that the government has allowed their wage expenses to go to a prohibitive point so that nationalization of coal mines, as in Great Britain, may become more than a mere possibility.

The entire situation is indicative of the administration's failures on the labor front since the end of the war. Inability to grapple with the problem and to meet effectively the crisis of last spring in the coal and rail situations has opened up an era of economic anarchy which next winter will be intensified in a new round of strikes in steel and other important industries. The system of private enterprise may not be able to withstand much more labor warfare as a recession comes into the offing when demands for socialization of industry will naturally be introduced into public debate and some of them may be granted under the pressure of labor's political power.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

Billy Rose

I'm always suspicious of a man who's too well dressed. I'm not talking about the fellow who's neat. I mean the popinjay, the Dapper Daniel with that carelessly elegant look. That kind of carelessness takes hours to achieve — and no fellow who works for his dough has that much time for clothes.

My wife disagrees. She says I cooked up this argument to excuse my own appearance. She says when I wear a herringbone suit, it looks as if the herring is still putting up a struggle. She once asked me whether Sears made up my topcoat behind Roebuck's back.

Last night we were at one of those cafes where the headwaiter looks like the rightful King of France. Suddenly I felt the wifely pinch under the table. "Look at the man who just came in," whispered Eleanor. "Why can't you dress like that?"

I gave him the old up-and-down. He looked like what "Fortune" magazine hopes its subscribers look like. To discredit him, I reached out into deep left field. "That Man of Distinction," I sneered, "happens to be Aquitania Joe, the notorious card-shark. His thumb has been photographed more often than Betty Grable."

"You're making it up," snapped my wife.

"Maybe I am," I replied. "But what's so special about him? He's wearing a blue serge suit. So am I."

Eleanor looked at me tenderly, as if I were an old teddy bear with [illegible]ern ear. "He wears his clothes," [illegible]d sweetly. "You just let them hal[illegible] you."

"I [illegible] you're being picky," I said. "[illegible] it fits like a glove."

"Like a [illegible]e is right," she singed. "The slee[illegible]ne down over your hands."

Well, maybe Jo[illegible]Keeran knows the answer to that [illegible] of remark. I don't. I sat there a[illegible]de faces like Peter Lorre. And th[illegible] thought of a pip.

"I dress this way," I told [illegible]rau, "because I want to make peo[illegible] feel good. If I were to walk into [illegible] Story all slicked up, twenty g[illegible] would be miserable. They'd say to themselves, 'Look at that Rose. Everbody took a bath in the stock market. He sold short and made a killing.' They'd nibble on their hearts for the rest of the night. When I enter wearing what the well-dressed pencil peddler wears, they get happy. They figure I'm one away from the 9-ball. It costs me nothing, and I'm spreading sunshine."

"My dear husband," said Eleanor elegantly, "you're a cockeyed liar. If it wasn't too big, you'd be wearing our Rembrandt in your lapel."

"Look, sugarmouth," I said, "I can be one of the Ten Best Dressed Men any time I want to. Last year Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt was chosen one of America's Ten Best Dressed Men."

"What has that got to do with you?" she interrupted.

"Let me finish," I said. "I asked Alf how come he'd been picked.

"'I'll be darned if I know,' said this nice guy. 'I just got out of the Navy last week. My entire wardrobe consists of the [illegible] suit I'm wearing. I hope to get some duds in a couple of weeks'."

"Very interesting," said Eleanor, "but how would you get to be one of the Ten Best Dressed Men?"

"Very simple," I replied, reaching for the check. "I would change my name from Rose to Vanderbilt."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Our thoughts are what we are, and our plan of thinking marks the way to our health and happiness, or to our ill healuh and unhappiness. Our attitude of mind is everything. We have among us a goodly group of undefeatables—those who strongly control their own lives along cheerful lines and who influence others to do likewise.

A cheerful, unfearing person is an asset, no matter where he is stationed. He will uplift a family, a business—and even a nation! The disturbed mind is the one out of control and out of tune with the Infinite, whose blessings are scattered all about the world, within grasp of the poorest and humblest.

We must somehow get the right attitude toward life itself—not a wondering and skeptical one, but a receptive and believing one. We must believe in ourselves, and in the good intentions of others. We must believe in praising, rather than in complaining and censuring. We must never forget that others have feelings, and are subject to the same influences that we are, to a greater or less degree.

The answer to life is within each of us, and we can make it affirmative. It's all in our own hands. There are those who live the triumphant life the moment that they become conscious of the great forces both physical and spiritual, that background all life. They know no defeat, no failure. Theirs is a positive attitude of mind. They take sorrow, disappointment and all setbacks in their stride—courageously, and with a religious fervor.

Our attitude of mind has a powerful effect upon our bodily health. A stream of cheerfulness and inspired faith travels through every inch of blood circulation and stimulates every physical organ in the human body. Little do we realize [illegible]'s power. The possibilities for [illegible] and happiness lie within our[illegible]

[illegible]ual security is of far more [illegible] than physical security—[illegible]e attained by cultivat[illegible] and peaceful attitude [illegible]y wishing for it is [illegible]t be willed! Our whole nature [illegible] respond toward its attainment.

Republicans Prepare For Responsibilities Of Control

With the inevitability of heavy Republican gains in Congress now admitted on all sides—and, inferentially, in Moscow—G. O. P. leaders are not waiting until the returns are in to face up to the responsibilities which victory will entail. They are—wisely and properly—giving serious consideration to the legislative program which the party will put forward as the majority party on Capitol Hill.

Political observers report that all hands agree there is a Republican swing of landslide proportions among the voters of America. This swing has now assured the Republicans of control of the House of Congress, with at least a dozen member majority, and control of the Senate in a narrower division of party alignment. Assaying the situation with the utmost conservatism, Republican leaders said they can count on 35 to 40 seats in the House. Twenty-six are needed to gain control. House gains will be made by the G. O. P. in every section of the nation except the South.

The Republicans need nine additional seats in the Senate to win control. The elephant will pick them up in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Massachusetts, Missouri, West Virginia, Montana and Wyoming. To add insult to injury, it will, in all probability, also elect Senators in New Mexico, Idaho, Washington and Nevada. Many Democrats, who were confident when the campaign opened that they were in no real danger, will be defeated. It will not be a surprise to some analysts if Republican gains in the House exceed fifty seats.

It is because of this outlook that Republican leaders are preparing the Party for the tasks ahead. Their legislative program is not being hurriedly patched together in anticipation of this victory, as Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts makes plain. Mr. Martin, who is now majority leader of the House and who is slated to be the next Speaker, reports that various G. O. P. study committees have been working on such a program for two years.

But these plans must obviously be reconsidered in the light of current conditions and to fit whatever political balance exists in the Senate after the votes have been counted.

Rep. Martin has announced that he intends to call the Republican steering committee of the House to meet on November 18 to put the finishing touches on the party's legislative program. The various study committees will also get together. On December 2, another meeting of all Republican Representatives-eleet is to be called to pass on the program so that the party will be ready for prompt and decisive action when the new Congress convenes January 3.

If this sounds like counting chickens before they are hatching, most thoughtful voters will agree that it is a wise precaution. The worst thing that could happen, in the present national mess, would be for a party to take control of the legislative branch of the Government without the definite plan of action that the state of the nation calls for. The Republicans are wisely taking steps to insure that they will be ready to assume the responsibilities that go with the control that will be theirs after next Tuesday.

Consumer Resistance Bringing Prices Down

The nation's housewives, in their capacity as family food buyers, are practically on their own today. Wartime price controls on everything edible except sugar, syrups and rice have been removed, leaving only about 3 per cent of all foods under ceilings. Restrictions have also come off beverages and restaurant meals.

This means that housewives must now balance their food budgets, whether or not they include beverages and meals eaten out, without benefits of government-imposed curbs. For many of them that is already a difficult problem because of the general price level. And there is a possibility that items that are scarce will become more expensive temporarily.

But, as contended by Rep. J. Glenn Beall, when he voted against the continuation of the OPA, consumer resistance and increased supply of some items, including meat, has already had the effect of bringing them down to more reasonable levels. The behavior of meat since the government decontrolled that commodity should offer worried guardians of the pay check some comfort. Meanwhile substitutes for meat have dropped. So it is reasonable to expect that housewives can force prices down still further by their unorganized "strike" against high prices.

A free market for food will mean that supply and demand will come into balance at prices that will tend to stabilize both production and consumption. Normal relationships eventually will be restored. Since food generally is expected to be plentiful unless there is another binge of shipments to Europe, prices will not long remain unreasonable on a single item. And housewives are not helpless. The pocketbook is a powerful weapon when used wisely.

It is alleged that in Pennsylvania a customer who had ordered it refused to take a new car because the price was too high. Has Reuther been told this?

HOW TO KEEP WELL

PAIN IN THE SACROILIAC REGION

PAIN in the back may mean injury or disease in any one of several structures in the area. Possibilities include the bones and joints of the spine and pelvis, ligaments, muscles, cartilages, and other tissues. By careful examination the actual cause can often be tracked down so that appropriate treatment may be given.

The sacroiliac joints in the lower back are a common source of discomfort. These hinges are formed where the triangular shaped sacrum (lowermost section of the spine) fits like a keystone into the right and left sides of the pelvic bones. These structures support the weight of the trunk and absorb the shock from the lower extremities.

[illegible] who the sacroiliacs cannot move as freely as the hips and elbows they are useful gadgets when lifting, bending, stooping, or walking. As with many other parts, the joints and surrounding ligaments are subject to strain, infection, toxemia, and trauma.

As a rule, pain occurs on lifting an object at a mechanical disadvantage or in an awkward position. Thus the person worker who must stand astride and pass heavy parts from side to another is a potential victim. The same can be said of the fond father who swings his growing son from left to right or vice versa and the strong man who attempts to raise a window that is stuck. Another way of throwing the apparatus out of gear is to kick at but miss a football, or hoist a cumbersome article from a level below that on which the subject is standing. The disturbance may appear also during pregnancy and in those with poor posture.

When injury occurs or infection settles in this region, pain near the joint is the clew that something is amiss. If only one side is involved the patient may believe that the hip is the site of distress. Sometimes soreness travels down the back or outer border of the thigh and leg. Mild discomfort is often associated with stiffness and the victim favors the affected side when walking or lying down. On the other hand, with a sudden twist or strain the excruciating pain may prevent the sufferer from standing erect.

Many tests have been devised to help the physician localize the source of trouble and to distinguish the condition from abnormalities in the spine or hips. X-rays are valuable especially when arthritis is responsible. In the presence of sprain, however, the film may be normal.

In acute distress, rest is necessary. By lying flat in bed with a pillow behind the knees, ease can often be obtained altho in some instances weight must be applied to the legs to relieve tension. Manipulation is helpful. In mild cases a trial with adhesive strapping is worth while and often it affords improvement, a corset or brace designed for this purpose should be worn. Heat and massage aid in relaxation. Thereafter the individual should correct faulty habits of standing and working.

RABIES

C. E. L. writes: How long after a dog bite has healed would it be possible to develop hydrophobia?

REPLY

Anywhere from 10 days to a year or more. In the majority, six to eight weeks can be considered an average time. When the face is involved, the period is shorter; with the extremities, it is longer. In case there is any suspicion that the dog had rabies, the Pasteur treatment must be instituted. This is the best method of treatment we have, even tho it is not 100 per cent perfect. We should keep in mind that every one who is bitten by a rabid animal will not develop the disease.

HOUSEMAID'S KNEE

H. S. writes: I have been in bed for four weeks with water on the knee. What is the cause and a good cure?

REPLY

The usual cause is injury or arthritis. Rest and supportive bandages should be maintained until healing occurs. If this fails to relieve the disorder, operation is sometimes necessary.

FEVER THERAPY

C. T. writes: What is meant by artificial fever treatment?

REPLY

Raising the body temperature by artificial means, such as with a heat cabinet. The theory behind the plan is that certain germs in the system can be killed at a high temperature.

REPORT ON U. N.

NEW YORK. . .The United Nations delegates are staying at my hotel here and they've really crowded it. Of course a man of my standing has no trouble getting a place to sleep, and that's how I slept—standing.

I tried to get in as a Hindu delegate but I didn't wrap my turban right. The house detective saw where it said Pullman.

Then I told the clerk I was a Russian delegate. He kept looking at my nose and saying "Yeah! Where's the hammer that goes with that sickle?"

You should have seen the Indian delegates register. They built a bonfire in the lobby and did it with smoke signals.

I'm sharing a room with one of the Indian delegates. All day he just sits in the bathtub with the shower on, saying: "Uggg! When does salmon go upstream to spawn?"

And the British haven't gotten over the blitz. Every time I snore, their delegates run out into the street and wait for the All Clear.

I went up to a Chinese delegate and asked him how about the laundry, and he was very nice. He let me do it.

BLOW THE WHISTLE, IT LOOKS LIKE A SUBSTITUTION

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—Inside fact about the firing of Justice Department Prosecutor John Rogge was that he was ousted at direct orders from President Truman.

Indirectly also the orders came from Senator Burton Wheeler of Montana with reported off-stage promptings from John L. Lewis.

Rogge had discussed his Swarthmore speech in advance with Attorney General Tom Clark, and the latter knew all about the dynamite that was going to be exploded. He knew that various high-placed Americans whom the Nazis tried to use in 1940, including John L. Lewis and Senator Wheeler would have their feet held to the fire. Furthermore, Attorney General Clark discussed the impending speech with at least one other member of the Cabinet.

Two days passed after Rogge's October 22 speech was delivered and nothing happened. There was no move inside the Justice Department to admonish him.

Then, on the second day, October 24, Senator Wheeler called at the White House and had a two-hour conference with Truman. The two men are old friends. Wheeler is the only Democratic Senator whom the President openly supported for renomination.

Furthermore, Wheeler is a close and intimate friend of John L. Lewis. When Wheeler seemed likely to be defeated for re-election in 1929, Lewis helped still the opposition of the Anaconda Copper Company, which has been in Wheeler's camp ever since. They became even closer friends just before the war, when both vehemently opposed Roosevelt's war policies and when Mr. Wheeler and Kathryn Lewis both served as members of the America First Committee.

Following Truman's October 24 conference with Wheeler, he summoned Attorney General Clark late that evening and ordered John Rogge fired. Clark issued the letter of dismissal at the unusual hour of midnight that night—on direct orders of the President.

Note—Rogge has had one of the best records in the Justice Department. As Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Criminal Division he helped prosecute Boss Tom Pendergast of Kansas City (the man who put Truman in the Senate); convicted Gov. Richard Leche of Louisiana and other members of the old Huey Long gang; tried the indicted pro-Nazi seditionists. More recently he had been in Europe collecting evidence from Goering, Ribbentrop and other Nazi prisoners.

GOP and Communists

While squawking about alleged links between Democrats and Communists GOP National Chairman Carroll Reece has been significantly silent about a Republican-Communist alliance right in his own backyard.

It is the link-up between the Republican Party and pro-Communist Vincent Longhi, candidate from New York's 12th Congressional District in Brooklyn.

Despite interesting police and FBI records showing him close to the Communists, the Republicans are pushing Longhi for election to Congress.

Here are some of the things in Longhi's record.

1. He failed to report for induction into the Army, but when later he joined the Merchant Marine, prosecution was dropped.

2. Office manager of the Joint Anti-Fascist League, a pro-Communist organization; also an officer of the National Maritime Union, which has strong leftist leanings.

3. Affiliated with the Communist newspaper, "L'Unita del Popolo."

Dewey-Donovan Feud

Beneath the surface all is not too happy in one wing of the Dewey campaign headquarters. General "Wild Bill" Donovan, most decorated hero of World War I and organizer of the OSS in World War II, is being a good sport about it, but his friends feel anything but friendly toward the New York Governor.

It all goes back to a conference between Dewey and Donovan in the Roosevelt Hotel last August, when the General asked Dewey for his support to get the GOP nomination for the Senate. Dewey, however, gave Donovan the run-around. What he said in substance was:

"Let's wait a while. Wagner is a sick man and may not be around for this world. When his vacancy occurs, then I can appoint you to the Senate."

Dewey assured him that the Republicans were so strong in New York they could sweep any nonentity into office. Reading between the lines, Donovan's friends also say that Dewey was fearful of Donovan's colorful personality and national stature, including his record in two wars. Dewey and his machine still are peevish over the way FDR rolled up 70 per cent of the veterans' vote in 1944.

They feel, however, that they can make a deal with the A. F. of L. and thus crack labor's previous solidarity in New York state. To that end, Donovan's friends claim that Dewey made a deal with the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the State Federation of Labor to scuttle Donovan as the Senatorial candidate taking instead Irving M. Ives, Dean of the School of Industrial Relations at Cornell.

Donovan, a good sport, has been managing Ives' campaign. But a lot of his supporters aren't such good sports. They are bitter over the knifing Dewey gave Donovan, and they may do a little undercutting themselves when 1948 rolls round and the Governor trains his sights once again on the White House.

Note—Some of those strongly in Donovan's camp during the pre-convention campaign were George Sibley, vice president of E. R. Squibb; Archie Dawson, a 1944 speech-writer for Dewey; Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, prominent metropolitan civic worker and campaigner for Wilkie; Jo Robert Rubin, vice-president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; and Albert Lasker, retired advertising magnate.

Capital Chaff

Some brass hats are going to high heaven when they get unfavorable publicity about their branch of the service. Not, however, Admiral Lou Denfield, head of the Navy's Bureau of Personnel. When this column reported inefficiencies at the Naval Air Station at Olathe, Kansas, Denfield expressed his appreciation for having the situation called to his attention and transferred the responsible officer . . . Funny, how certain Republican candidates have failed to repudiate the support of rabble-rousing Gerald L. K. Smith. So far Senator Alexander Smith of New Jersey is among those who have been mute . . . William Pawley, U. S. Ambassador to Brazil, is at Mayo Clinic. He flew back from Rio in his private airplane . . . Charles Bay, U. S. Ambassador to Norway, has come home to vote—and perhaps look for greener diplomatic pastures . . . Seven-year-old John E. Gibson, son of the Assistant Secretary of Labor, is recovering from a tough bout with polio . . . Speaker Sam Rayburn phoned 23 Democratic Congressmen in tough districts to ask if they needed more money. Twenty said they had enough. When a candidate doesn't want any more money, says Sam, he's confident.

Farmers Earnest, Dependable Foes Of Inflation

By MARK SULLIVAN

Avondale, Chester County, Pa. — In this farm community is occurring, to an increasing degree from day to day, something which throws strong light on high prices and inflation, and in a direction contrary to what the public is most often told. The condition described here should be illuminating to everybody. It needs especially to be read by Mr. Philip Murray, who says his CIO union of steel workers is going to demand higher wages, and Mr. Walter Reuther who says his CIO union of automobile workers is going to do the same—both saying that higher wages are justified because the cost of living is high and, as they seem to assume, going higher.

In this neighborhood many mushrooms are raised. Here was the birthplace of the industry in America, and a territory some ten miles [illegible] ten is the principal seat of it.

Reason in Supply and Demand

On the day this is written, mushrooms are selling at $1 a basket. Ten days ago they were sold for $2. As recently as last summer they sold as high as $3.50. At the peak they sold as high as $4 and more.

The reason for the drop is a plain lesson in supply and demand. When demand was high, and prices high with it, supply set out to catch up. New mushroom houses were built in large numbers in this community, and in other parts of the country mushroom raising started up.

Presently supply caught up with demand, and passed beyond it. Right now more mushrooms are being produced than the public demands and more than canners are equipped to take. The condition was accentuated by weather, always a factor when prices and other economic conditions are left to take their natural course. During October was an exceptional period of warm weather accompanied by dampness. Both conditions hastened the growth of the mushroom. Mushrooms are being picked now which ordinarily would not be picked until later.

Mushrooms are a comparatively small item of food. But most farmers here abouts who raise the stable crops and forms of food think that prices, if left to nature, are likely to go lower—not perhaps so drastically low in the near future as mushrooms, but ultimately to a normal level of prices. For this judgment they cite good reasons, including precedents during previous periods following war. The end of war brings cessation of abnormal and imperative demands, for feeding armed forces, forces which, in the recent war and the First World War included not only our own but those of allied countries. Moreover, the end of the war permits return of other countries to normal production of food, largely suspended while the war was on.

Deplore Further Rise

Most farmers in this neighborhood go on the assumption that present prices of crops are peaks. They deplore any further rise and would do nothing to bring it about. Presumably farmers throughout the country generally feel the same way. The farmer as a class would suffer less from inflation than other groups in the nation's industrial economy—because farmers produce food for themselves and because they have some compensating set off in the form of increased prices of their farm land—nevertheless farmers are dependable and earnest opponents of inflation.

Farmers in the aggregate are the largest of all producers of goods, and their attitude should have influence. If there is another wave of high prices, another step upward in the spiral of inflation, it will not start with farmers nor with prices of crops and food. The only possibility of it in the demands of labor unions for higher wages. Wage raises if they take place, would result in higher prices of the manufactured goods which farmers and everybody else must buy and would tend toward a higher price level generally.

Farmers in this community, and I think throughout the country generally, have kept themselves equipped to face a drop in prices of crops, by avoiding purchase of land at excessive prices, and especially avoiding purchase with money on mortgage, entailing burdensome payment of interest. While there is a decided rise in the prices of farm land compared with pre-war, that buying has been done has not been in speculative spirit nor as a rule with borrowed money. There has not been a land boom, and return of prices of farm crops to a normal level would not cause calamitous distress.

Truman Administration Again Has Surrendered Unconditionally

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — The Truman administration has surrendered unconditionally again. John L. Lewis has forced the reopening of a contract merely by threatening to ignore the Smith-Connally law. Instead of accepting the challenge and defending the majesty of the law, the administration yielded and thereby bestowed on Mr. Lewis the potential leadership of the entire labor movement in America.

For Mr. Lewis is out to break up the CIO and to dominate the AFL. By shrewd tactics, the head of the mine workers' union has compelled the Truman administration to promise an increase in wages to the miners and in exchange for this there will be no coal strike called. It is a violation of law anyway for a strike to be called while the federal government is in possession of "any plant or facility" but the Truman administration lacks the courage to enforce the federal laws against labor leaders. They are immune because of their political power.

Can Throw Senate Contests

Thus far Lewis, through the miners' vote, is in a position to throw one way or the other the election for senator in two close states—Kentucky and West Virginia. Evidently retention of Senate control by the Democratic administration through any means or any expedient is more important than the principle of law enforcement.

It is well known that Secretary of the Interior Krug, who is an efficient public servant, gave no heed to reopening the coal contract and he was reversed by the President's orders.

Now, when the negotiations are resumed on Friday of this week, Mr. Lewis will be in a position to force the issue at once. He will not brook delay or stalling beyond next Tuesday. He never would have agreed to call off the strike if he had not been assured that there would be an increase in compensation for the miners. However small it may turn out to be, it sets the pattern and challenges Philip Murray and the CIO to ask for wage increases. It starts the whole inflation spiral all over again just at a time when the need for stability or assurance of future stability is greatest.

Lewis Unafraid of Government

If Mr. Lewis out-trumps Mr. Murray, it will be a signal to the rank and file that they had better join the Lewis bandwagon—for he is afraid of nothing, not even the federal government. Such manifestation of prestige in labor circles is unrivalled.

The Truman administration has revealed the weakness of desperation. It is so anxious to hold the Senate that it is willing to make concessions. One reason, on the other hand, for its surrender is a belief that, if the coal operators do not soon agree to take back their mines, they will find that the government has allowed their wage expenses to go to a prohibitive point so that nationalization of coal mines, as in Great Britain, may become more than a mere possibility.

The entire situation is indicative of the administration's failures on the labor front since the end of the war. Inability to grapple with the problem and to meet effectively the crisis of last spring in the coal and rail situations has opened up an era of economic anarchy which next winter will be intensified in a new round of strikes in steel and other important industries. The system of private enterprise may not be able to withstand much more labor warfare as a recession comes into the offing when demands for socialization of industry will naturally be introduced into public debate and some of them may be granted under the pressure of labor's political power.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

I'm always suspicious of a man who's too well dressed. I'm not talking about the fellow who's neat. I mean the popinjay, the Dapper Daniel with that carelessly elegant look. That kind of carelessness takes hours to achieve — and no fellow who works for his dough has that much time for clothes.

Billy Rose

My wife disagrees. She says I cooked up this argument to excuse my own appearance. She says when I wear a herringbone suit, it looks as if the herring is still putting up a struggle. She once asked me whether Sears made up my topcoat behind Roebuck's back.

Last night we were at one of those cafes where the headwaiter looks like the rightful King of France. Suddenly I felt the wifely pinch under the table. "Look at the man who just came in," whispered Eleanor. "Why can't you dress like that?"

I gave him the old up-and-down. He looked like what "Fortune" magazine hopes its subscribers look like. To discredit him, I reached out into deep left field. "That Man of Distinction," I sneered, "happens to be Aquitania Joe, the notorious card-shark. His thumb has been photographed more often than Betty Grable."

"You're making it up," snapped my wife.

"Maybe I am," I replied. "But what's so special about him? He's wearing a blue serge suit. So am I."

Eleanor looked at me tenderly, as if I were an old teddy bear with a torn ear. "He wears his clothes," she said sweetly. "You just let them hang on you."

"I think you're being picky," I said. "My suit fits like a glove."

"Like a sleeve. One more drink and you're right," she zinged. "The sleeves have come down over your hands."

Well, maybe Joe Kieran knows the answer to that one. I don't. I sat there and made faces like Peter Lorre. And then I thought of a pip.

"I dress this way," I told my frau, "because I want to make people feel good. If I were to walk into the Stork all slicked up, twenty guys would be miserable. They'd say to themselves, 'Look at that Rose. Everbody took a bath in the stock market. He sold short and made a killing.' They'd nibble on their hearts for the rest of the night. When I enter wearing what the well-dressed pencil peddler wears, they get happy. They figure I'm one away from the 9-ball. It costs me nothing, and I'm spreading sunshine."

"My dear husband," said Eleanor elegantly, "you're a cockeyed liar. If it wasn't too big, you'd be wearing our Rembrandt in your lapel."

"Look, sugarmouth," I said, "I can be one of the Ten Best Dressed Men any time I want to. Last year Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt was chosen one of America's Ten Best Dressed Men."

"What has that got to do with you?" she interrupted.

"Let me finish," I said. "I asked Alf how come he'd been picked.

"'I'll be darned if I know,' said this nice guy. 'I just got out of the Navy last week. My entire wardrobe consists of the lousy suit I'm wearing. I hope to get some duds in a couple of weeks'."

"Very interesting," said Eleanor, "but how would you get to be one of the Ten Best Dressed Men?"

"Very simple," I replied, reaching for the check. "I would change my name from Rose to Vanderbilt."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Our thoughts are what we are, and our plan of thinking marks the way to our health and happiness, or to our ill health and unhappiness. Our attitude of mind is everything. We have among us a goodly group of undefeatables—those who strongly control their own lives along cheerful lines and who influence others to do likewise.

A cheerful, unfearing person is an asset, no matter where he is stationed. He will uplift a family, a business—and even a nation! The disturbed mind is the one out of control and out of tune with the Infinite, whose blessings are scattered all about the world, within grasp of the poorest and humblest.

We must somehow get the right attitude toward life itself—not a wondering and skeptical one, but a receptive and believing one. We must believe in ourselves, and in the good intentions of others. We must believe in praising, rather than in complaining and censuring. We must never forget that others have feelings, and are subject to the same influences that we are, to a greater or less degree.

The answer to life is within each of us, and we can make it affirmative. It's all in our own hands. There are those who live the triumphant life the moment that they become conscious of the great forces both physical and spiritual, that background all life. They know no defeat, no failure. Theirs is a positive attitude of mind. They take sorrow, disappointment and all setbacks in their stride—courageously, and with a religious fervor.

Our attitude of mind has a powerful effect upon our bodily health. A stream of cheerfulness and inspired faith travels through every inch of blood circulation and stimulates every physical organ in the human body. Little do we realize its power. The possibilities for health and happiness lie within ourselves.

Spiritual security is of more importance than physical security—it can be attained by cultivating a calm and peaceful attitude toward life, sincerely wishing for it is not negative. It must be willed! Our whole nature must respond toward its attainment.

Kathryn Lea Haddix To Be Bride Of Lester C. Wilt

Ceremony To Be Performed In Centre Street Methodist Church

Miss Kathryn Lea Haddix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trey Haddix, Bowling Green, will become the bride of Lester Calvin Wilt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wilt, Baltimore Pike, today.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 6:30 in Centre Street Methodist Church with Rev. Walter Marion Michael, D.D., officiating. Mrs. William Haddix will be her sister-in-law's matron of honor and only attendant. The bridal party will also include Bawna Huff, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, and William Haddix will serve as Mr. Wilt's best man. Richard Hobbs and Walter Wilt, brother of the bridegroom, will be the ushers.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear the traditional white. Her attendant and flower girl will be attired in white and yellow.

The bride-elect, granddaughter of Mrs. M. B. Higgs, is a graduate of Philippi High School and attended Broaddus College, Philippi, W. Va. She is now employed by the Celanese Corporation of America.

Mr. Wilt attended Allegany High School and is a veteran of 35 months service in the Navy. Since his discharge he has been employed at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

The yellow and white color scheme of the gowns will be repeated in the flowers decorating the home where a reception will be held. It will be repeated in the tiered wedding cake.

Upon their return from a wedding trip south Mr. Wilt and his bride will be at home to their friends after October 10, at the home of the bride's parents.

Halloween Party Given By Rawlings Young People

A Halloween party was held, under the sponsorship of the Rawlings Young Peoples Association, Tuesday night, in the Cresaptown church recreation hall, with Elwood Densock as master of ceremonies, and 140 young people attending.

An autumnal setting was the theme of the decorations, which included pumpkins, corn stalks, and leaves as well as ghosts and orange and black streamers.

The program began with a ghost walk, to the accompaniment of clanking chains, through the basement and cemetery, where ghosts met the marchers. The group returned to the hall for a grand march and awarding of prizes.

Mrs. Lester Sherman, Cresaptown, representing an old fashioned lady, received the award for the prettiest costume; Mrs. Thurman Rexroad, Dawson, in a lacy gown and night cap and carrying a lighted candle, the most original; Rev. Louis P. Chastain, as an old woman in bonnet and old dress, the ugliest; and John Hutson, Cresaptown, in an old black suit and odd hat, the funniest.

Various Halloween games were played and prizes for the apple on the string contest were won by William Hardesty, Cresaptown and Arthur Titchnell, Dawson. Mrs. Norval Vandevort was in charge of the games by the Dawson group and Mrs. Alton Walston, for the entire group.

Concluding the night a worship service was conducted by Lester Sherman, who also read the Scriptures. Hymns were sung under the direction of Leroy Lewis.

Mrs. Edward Lewis, Mrs. Sylvester Twigg, Mrs. Dorothy Chastain, Miss Evelyn May, Miss Susan Smith, and Mrs. Earl Walker were in charge of the refreshments, which were in keeping with the season.

Eliason.

Play will be resumed in April.

Veteran Canal Boatman Observes 93rd Birthday

James W. "Uncle Bill" Dodd, one of the few living veteran boatman on the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, celebrated his ninety-third birthday last week at his home in Hagerstown. He is the father of a Cumberland man, Jonathan Dodd.

"Uncle Bill" amazed younger guests at his party with his memory for names and dates. He was born in Marlowe, W. Va., but grew up in Williamsport where he says he remembers the Rebels shelling the town during the war.

For 18 years he worked as boss carpenter on the C & O Canal traveling in a Handy-Andy scow. He later worked for the Union Leather Company in Cumberland until he retired at the age of 32.

Dodd was married to Miss Margaret Bowser in 1876 and they had seven children, two of whom, James Wilson Dodd, Takoma Park, and Jonathan, are still living. One sister, Mrs. Martha Goldsborough, 88, Cumberland and Samuel Dodd, 79, Williamsport, helped him celebrate his birthday.

Today Is Skating Party Reservations Deadline

Today is the last day that Brownies or Girl Scouts can get tickets for the special Girl Scout skating party, to be held at Crystal Park, November 2, from 1:30 until 4:30, according to Mrs. J. Gordan Mitchell, chairman of the Program committee.

Special buses will be at the little house to take the children to the park and will bring them back again. Anyone unable to come to the little house for her ticket, should phone and make a reservation and state whether or not she wants transportation.

Skit-Candlelight Service On 4-H Features Party

A record crowd of approximately 275 members attended the annual Achievement program of the Allegany County 4-H Trail, Tuesday night at the LaVale Firemen's hall.

The 4-H achievements were emphasized in both a skit written and produced by the Midland club; and the candlelight service conducted by Mrs. Wilma Parker and Miss Margaret Ringler. In the former the girls showed the various 4-H projects, and stressed what they learned enabled them to be of more help to their mothers.

"The Torch" was the theme for the candle light ceremony, in which two seven branch candelabra and small birthday candles for the guests, were used. In the service the home, parents, children, gratitude for the abundance of everything, knowledge, brotherhood, and church were stressed and Miss Ringler read Elizabeth Finley's "The Torch Bearer." Following the service the group sang "Follow the Gleam" and "Sing Your Way Home."

Booths depicting the seasons with a holiday for each, included a winter booth with Christmas represented with a Santa and Christmas trees, was in charge of the Nave Cross Roads Club, under the direction of Edith Street and Mrs. John Johnston.

Cresaptown club had charge of the fall booth, decorated in bittersweet colorful leaves and chrysanthemum corsages, with Mrs. A. D. Lechliter and Helen Lechliter in charge.

Bedford Road and Union Grove Clubs sponsored the spring booth, which was decorated in pastel streamers of yellow, green and pink crepe paper, carrying out the Easter theme with bunnies and nests of colored eggs. Mrs. Wilbur Parker and Mrs. John Hardinger were in charge.

The Oldtown junior and senior school clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Belmont Athey and Ellen Jean Rafter had a summer booth depicting a tropical beach scene, with a mirror lake and miniature umbrellas.

The first part of the program consisted of games under the chairmanship of Regina Ferguson and Peggy O'Neal. The remainder included group singing, led by Margaret Robinson with Dorothy Lee Raines at the piano; accordion selections by Jean Snyder and a vocal duet by Dorothy Street and Agnes Wotring, with Dorothy Lee Raines accompanying at the piano.

Two stories told by Miss Dorothy Emerson, College Park, state club agent, climaxed the program. One was for girls under 14 and the other over 16.

RTAO To Hold Blue Jean Halloween Party

A blue jeans dance and Halloween party will be given by Jimmie Flanagan and his staff of officers of the Ridgeley Teen Age Organization, tonight, marking the conclusion of their term of office.

Other members of the retiring staff are William Brehaney, Harry E. McCullough, and Howard Rhodes. Chairmen include Mary Riggleman, Jean Knieriem, Rhodes and William Knieriem.

A jitterbug contest will feature the entertainment and prizes will be awarded.

Kathryn Lea Haddix To Be Bride Of Lester C. Wilt

Ceremony To Be Performed In Centre Street Methodist Church

Miss Kathryn Lea Haddix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trey Haddix, Bowling Green, will become the bride of Lester Calvin Wilt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Wilt, Baltimore Pike, today.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 6:30 in Centre Street Methodist Church with Rev. Walter Marion Michael, D.D., officiating. Mrs. William Haddix will be her sister-in-law's matron of honor and only attendant. The bridal party will also include Bawna Huff, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, and William Haddix will serve as Mr. Wilt's best man. Richard Hobbs and Walter Wilt, brother of the bridegroom, will be the ushers.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear the traditional white. Her attendant and flower girl will be attired in white and yellow.

The bride-elect, granddaughter of Mrs. M. B. Higgs, is a graduate of Philippi High School and attended Broaddus College, Philippi, W. Va. She is now employed by the Celanese Corporation of America.

Mr. Wilt attended Allegany High School and is a veteran of 35 months service in the Navy. Since his discharge he has been employed at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

The yellow and white color scheme of the gowns will be repeated in the flowers decorating the home where a reception will be held. It will be repeated in the tiered wedding cake.

Upon their return from a wedding trip south Mr. Wilt and his bride will be at home to their friends after October 10, at the home of the bride's parents.

Halloween Party Given By Rawlings Young People

A Halloween party was held, under the sponsorship of the Rawlings Young Peoples Association, Tuesday night, in the Cresaptown church recreation hall, with Elwood Densock as master of ceremonies, and 140 young people attending.

An autumnal setting was the theme of the decorations, which included pumpkins, corn stalks, and leaves as well as ghosts and orange and black streamers.

The program began with a ghost walk, to the accompaniment of clanking chains, through the basement and cemetery, where ghosts met the marchers. The group returned to the hall for a grand march and awarding of prizes.

Mrs. Lester Sherman, Cresaptown, representing an old fashioned lady, received the award for the prettiest costume; Mrs. Thurman Rexroad, Dawson, in a lacy gown and night cap and carrying a lighted candle, the most original; Rev. Louis P. Chastain, as an old woman in bonnet and old dress, the ugliest; and John Hutson, Cresaptown, in an old black suit and odd hat, the funniest.

Various Halloween games were played and prizes for the apple on the string contest were won by William Hardesty, Cresaptown and Arthur Titchnell, Dawson. Mrs. Norval Vandevort was in charge of the games by the Dawson group and Mrs. Alton Walston, for the entire group.

Concluding the night a worship service was conducted by Lester Sherman, who also read the Scriptures. Hymns were sung under the direction of Leroy Lewis.

Mrs. Edward Lewis, Mrs. Sylvester Twigg, Mrs. Dorothy Chastain, Miss Evelyn May, Miss Susan Smith, and Mrs. Earl Walker were in charge of the refreshments, which were in keeping with the season.

Veteran Canal Boatman Observes 93rd Birthday

James W. "Uncle Bill" Dodd, one of the few living veteran boatman on the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, celebrated his ninety-third birthday last week at his home in Hagerstown. He is the father of a Cumberland man, Jonathan Dodd.

"Uncle Bill" amazed younger guests at his party with his memory for names and dates. He was born in Marlowe, W. Va., but grew up in Williamsport where he says he remembers the Rebels shelling the town during the war.

For 18 years he worked as boss carpenter on the C & O Canal traveling in a Handy-Andy scow. He later worked for the Union Leather Company in Cumberland until he retired at the age of 32.

Dodd was married to Miss Margaret Bowser in 1876 and they had seven children, two of whom, James Wilson Dodd, Takoma Park, and Jonathan, are still living. One sister, Mrs. Martha Goldsborough, 88, Cumberland and Samuel Dodd, 79, Williamsport, helped him celebrate his birthday.

Today Is Skating Party Reservations Deadline

Today is the last day that Brownies or Girl Scouts can get tickets for the special Girl Scout skating party, to be held at Crystal Park, November 2, from 1:30 until 4:30, according to Mrs. J. Gordan Mitchell, chairman of the Program committee.

Special buses will be at the little house to take the children to the park and will bring them back again. Anyone unable to come to the little house for her ticket, should phone and make a reservation and state whether or not she wants transportation.

Skit-Candlelight Service On 4-H Features Party

A record crowd of approximately 275 members attended the annual Achievement program of the Allegany County 4-H Trail, Tuesday night at the LaVale Firemen's hall.

The 4-H achievements were emphasized in both a skit written and produced by the Midland club; and the candlelight service conducted by Mrs. Wilma Parker and Miss Margaret Ringler. In the former the girls showed the various 4-H projects, and stressed what they learned enabled them to be of more help to their mothers.

"The Torch" was the theme for the candle light ceremony, in which two seven branch candelabra and small birthday candles for the guests, were used. In the service the home, parents, children, gratitude for the abundance of everything, knowledge, brotherhood, and church were stressed and Miss Ringler read Elizabeth Finley's "The Torch Bearer." Following the service the group sang "Follow the Gleam" and "Sing Your Way Home."

Booths depicting the seasons with a holiday for each, included a winter booth with Christmas represented with a Santa and Christmas trees, was in charge of the Nave Cross Roads Club, under the direction of Edith Street and Mrs. John Johnston.

Cresaptown club had charge of the fall booth, decorated in bittersweet colorful leaves and chrysanthemum corsages, with Mrs. A. D. Lechliter and Helen Lechliter in charge.

Bedford Road and Union Grove Clubs sponsored the spring booth, which was decorated in pastel streamers of yellow, green and pink crepe paper, carrying out the Easter theme with bunnies and nests of colored eggs. Mrs. Wilbur Parker and Mrs. John Hardinger were in charge.

The Oldtown junior and senior school clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Belmont Athey and Ellen Jean Rafter had a summer booth depicting a tropical beach scene, with a mirror lake and miniature umbrellas.

The first part of the program consisted of games under the chairmanship of Regina Ferguson and Peggy O'Neal. The remainder included group singing, led by Margaret Robinson with Dorothy Lee Raines at the piano; accordion selections by Jean Snyder and a vocal duet by Dorothy Street and Agnes Wotring, with Dorothy Lee Raines accompanying at the piano.

Two stories told by Miss Dorothy Emerson, College Park, state club agent, climaxed the program. One was for girls under 14 and the other over 16.

O'Conor Is Commended For Pardoning Veterans

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—An announcement from Gov. O'Conor's office said today he had received a resolution of commendation from the 76th annual Congress of Correction for his action in granting pardons to war veterans who had prison records before they went into the armed services.

An act of the Legislature authorized the Governor to extend pardons to those who served honorably in the military forces. The resolution by the congress expressed "to the Governor of Maryland the gratitude for this recognition of the contribution made by so many former offenders to the winning of the war."

Friendship—Three Thousand Miles Apart

Ever play chess? It's a great game! One of the strongest friendships I know of started with a game of chess—between Dad Hoskins, in our town, and a man named Dalton Barnes, in England.

They've never seen each other, never met. But for the past eight years they've been playing chess by mail together — Dad puzzling over Dalton's latest letter, while he sends a chart of his next move to England.

Dad always thinks best with a mellow glass of beer beside his chessboard. And the Englishman writes him that he does the same. "You know, it's almost as if we shared a glass of beer together, too!" says Dad contentedly.

From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often those little things—like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for tolerance and understanding . . . between people of all nations . . . between neighbors here at home!

Market Snaps Out Of Losing Streak After Extending Its Recent Decline

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP) — The stock market snapped out of a losing streak in the last hours of trade today after extending the recent decline by one to five points.

Steel issues, with rails a close second, led one of the fastest rallies in weeks and sent many leaders ahead one to three points. Orders came through so fast for a few minutes the high-speed ticker tape fell behind floor transactions.

Volume expanded rapidly as quotations rallied, which was counter to the recent behavior on the market. Sales totaled 1,940,000 shares, tops since October 15, and compared with 1,240,000 Tuesday.

The advance followed closely on elimination of what one broker described as forced liquidation by certain interests, which was associated in some quarters with the $50 a bale drop in cotton this month. Rumors circulated on the floor of the exchange, too, that the cotton market would reopen for trade Thursday after today's suspension, which had partially accounted for the timidity of morning demand.

Lower priced rails braced in late dealings in today's bond market after heavy offerings had depressed prices one to three points, and at the close many losses were erased or converted into gains.

Other sections of the list were relatively inactive with changes narrow. Total sales of $4,570,000 compared with $4,260,000 Tuesday.

Among those closing unchanged or above Tuesday's final prices, after rebounding as much as two points or more from the lows of the day, were Frisco 4s at 43½, Rock Island refundings 4s at 45, Missouri Pacific general 4s at 29⅛, New Haven 4 1-2s at 41, Central of New Jersey registered 5s at 28, Seaboard Air Line income 4 1-2s at 67⅞, and Baltimore and Ohio stamped convertibles at 47.

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP)—Grain futures rallied sharply in the last quarter hour of trading today on heavy buying of corn and oats, said to have been hedges by shorts in cotton. Trading in cotton was suspended before the opening today, and the shorts in that commodity took advantage of the liquidation in feed grains which had pushed them well below yesterday's close. Closing futures:

WHEAT—January 2.04¼, March 1.94½, May 1.88¼.

CORN — January 1.35-1.35½, March 1.31⅞-¾, May 1.30-1.29¾.

OATS — November 8[illegible], December 77½-⅞, March 89¼-⅝, [illegible].

BARLEY — November [illegible], December 1.38, March 1.32.

CASH WHEAT—No. 2 red [illegible]-2.20; No. 2 hard 2.14-2.15; No. 2 mixed 2.13-2.14.

BARLEY — Malting 1.61 - 1.72 nominal; feed 1.33-1.40 nominal.

Position Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The position of the Treasury October 28:

FELLOW DEMOCRATS OF MARYLAND

The first ballot I ever cast was for Grover Cleveland for the presidency.

I have been a consistent Democrat all my life.

I always supported Governor Albert C. Ritchie.

I have supported Governor O'Conor for the past 8 years with my time and influence.

In 1942 I gave him a banquet at the Cambridge Hotel where he was received by more than 200 guests and followed through by carrying Dorchester by more than 800 majority, this being the first Democratic Governor to carry Dorchester since 1916 when Governor Harrington carried it by a small majority.

Now, to be read out of the party by O'Conor, a man with ice water in his veins and without appreciation in his system, is more than I care to take.

Respectfully,

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP)—Grain futures rallied sharply in the last quarter hour of trading today on heavy buying of corn and oats, said to have been hedges by shorts in cotton. Trading in cotton was suspended before the opening today, and the shorts in that commodity took advantage of the liquidation in feed grains which had pushed them well below yesterday's close. Closing futures:

WHEAT—January 2.04¼, March 1.94½, May 1.88¼.

CORN — January 1.35-1.35⅛, March 1.31⅞-¾, May 1.30-1.29⅝.

OATS — November 8[illegible], December 77½-⅝, March 80¼-⅝, [illegible].

BARLEY — November [illegible], December 1.38, March 1.32.

CASH WHEAT—No. 2 red [illegible]-2.20; No. 2 hard 2.14-2.15; No. 3 mixed 2.13-2.14.

BARLEY — Malting 1.61 - 1.72 nominal; feed 1.33-1.40 nominal.

Position Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The position of the Treasury October 28:

Receipts, $111,439,824.06; expenditures, $111,490,569.27; balance, $7,988,368,835.98; customs receipts for month $39,187,941.27; receipts fiscal year July 1, $11,681,503,576.78; expenditures fiscal year, $11,990,741,487.34; excess of expenditures, $309,237,910.56; total debt, $263,763,276,128.47; increase over previous day, $12,851,019.68; gold assets, $20,387,864,294.37.

New York Produce

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Eggs 26,805, easy.

New York spot quotations follow (based on wholesale sales by receivers to jobbers and large retailers): Whites (minimum quality and weight requirements are same as those specified in mixed colors): Extra fancy heavyweights, 65; nearby 63-64; extras 1 and 2 large, midwest 53-59; nearby 56-62; extras 1 and 2, medium, midwest 43-43-5; nearby 45-46.

The cash wholesale price of butter today dropped 6¼ to seven cents a pound. In trade circles it was said that lack of demand in the face of increased receipts contributed to the decline in the staple. Butter 486,012; weak. Wholesale prices on bulk cartons: Creamery, higher than 92 score and premium marks (AA) 77.5-78.5; 92 score (A) 77; 90 score (B) 75.5; 89 score (C) 73. (New tubs usually command one-half cent a pound over the bulk carton prices).

Pittsburgh Produce

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30 (USDA)—Produce demand moderate.

Apples 18 cars, about steady. U. S. No. 1 bushel baskets Pennsylvania McIntosh 2.75, Baldwins 2.25-50; Maryland Delicious 2.25; New York Cortlands 2.75.

Potatoes 40 cars, about steady. U. S. No. 1 100 lb. sacks Pennsylvania Katahdins 2.00-2.25, 50 lb. sacks 1.25; 100 lb. sacks Maine Katahdins 2.40-50, 50 lb. sacks 1.25, 15 lb. sacks 40-41; Idaho Russet Burbanks 3.25.

Boxer Forfeits Bond

James Catanese, local amateur boxer, forfeited $10 bond in police court yesterday when he failed to appear for a hearing on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct. Police said he was arrested after a disturbance with Stanley Wilfong and his wife, both of this city, near City Hall Tuesday night. Mrs. Wilfong was fined $3 on the same charge and her husband was acquitted, police said.

I HAVE SINNED

Eleven men are dead in Neurnberg—one by suicide.

And I feel as if I were smeared with their last blood.

I do not, I cannot, believe in capital punishment.

I do not think it is a civilized answer to violence.

Make no mistake—I hated the Nazis. I have rebelled against what they were doing just as you have rebelled. But I do not think this mass execution will stop such horrors.

To the contrary, I believe it will perpetuate such horrors and keep them alive, foaming and feeding in our human blood.

"Thou shalt not kill"—the law runs straight and clear. Those ancient laws were not based on politics. They were based on human decency and human necessity and they bore with them terrible retribution.

As long as we hate we shall be hated.

He who lives by the sword shall die by the sword.

I would not have let those eleven men go free. But I would have done the intelligent and civilized thing—I would have put them to work for the society they had violated.

Goering took cyanide but all the cyanide in the world will not bring back one helpless soul he killed. Yet he might still work. He might still contribute to society.

I would not make it soft for any of them. But remember this—

We who live are responsible for the terrible power they seized. Those eleven men are dead today because, in the first war, we sowed the seeds of death. Let us not deny it or try to escape from it. They are dead because we made conditions which breed death. Hate always breeds hate and always will.

And thousands of miles away another young man went to his death. Vorhes Newton, demented by war, killed his two babies and tried to kill their mother, then hanged himself in the jail shower room. But before he died he left a note for the final tribunal—"Bless me, father. I confess before you and Almighty God that I have sinned."

Vorhes Newton was another product of our war—another victim of our hate, as so many of us will be before this dismal mess is over.

I think of those 11 men dead in Neurnberg and Vorhes Newton hanging in that shower room and I feel defiled.

They are dead because our accumulated hate made them dead.

They are not merely dead—we murdered them. There was a saner way to answer the question but we would not take it. Here, where I write, I long to go on my knees and say, as Vorhes Newton said—"Bless me, father, I confess before you and Almighty God that I have sinned."

Pay Scale For Organized Reserve Is Announced

The average yearly pay for the members of the organized naval reserve division here will be $170, according to Lieut. Comdr. Walter N. Hedrick, organizing officer. This amounts to one day's pay a week on the same scale they received in the regular navy.

The training period will be one night a week for an hour and a half. In addition there will be a two week's cruise available for those who want it during which they will receive full pay and allowances.

The total payroll for the Cumberland division including entire 215 officers and men is $36,530.

Commander Hedrick said the program is open to all ex-navy and coast guard personnel who may enter with the same rating and pay status as they held upon discharge. Ex-army and marine personnel may also join but may not be rated higher than seaman first class. Provisions for promotion are made for all personnel according to their abilities and desires, Commander Hedrick said.

Those who are now in the inactive V-6 program must make separate application in order to qualify for the pay status of the organized reserve.

Arsenal Bomb Blast Kills One, Injures Two

EDGEWOOD, Md., Oct. 30. (AP)—A civilian worker at the Army's Edgewood Arsenal was injured fatally today and two others were burned when a 500-pound cluster incendiary bomb exploded on the post.

Robert L. Osbourne, 32, Bel Air, Md., died in the arsenal hospital several hours after he was caught in the blazing shower released when the bomb exploded.

Also treated in the hospital for burns were Richard A. Nelson, 33, Baltimore, and James H. De Bouis, 23, Havre De Grace.

Officials said Osbourne was aboard a two and one half ton truck from which the bomb was being dismantled and that the other two were working nearby when the explosion occurred.

Ellerslie Plans Fire Company

Citizens of Ellerslie discussed the possibility of organizing a volunteer fire company at a public meeting Tuesday night at the town's Community Hall.

The movement is being sponsored by the Patriotic Order of the Sons of America with Allen Shaffer, chairman of the committee.

Arthur C. Howard, director of fire prevention and protection at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, was the principal speaker at the meeting. He explained how essential fire fighting equipment could be secured at a nominal cost.

Another public meeting will be held in the near future, Shaffer said, when representatives of the Allegany and Garrett County Firemen's Association will assist in technical organization details.

District CAA Office Is Opened In Baltimore

Although the Civil Aeronautics Administration has opened a district office in Baltimore in connection with administration of the Federal Airport Act, the office does not have much to offer Maryland in the way of airport air funds, according to Tom Bradford, airport engineer in charge of the office.

The state's share of the $30,822,750 appropriated for apportionment to the states for airport construction and development during the current fiscal year will be only $274,397.

Bradford pointed out that Maryland is relatively small in area and the 29 existing airports serve most sections of the state. He added that in his opinion the state's share will be used for the further development of municipal airports at Salisbury, Easton, Cumberland, Frederick and Crisfield, and to construct several more strategically located Class 1 and Class 2 airports.

Pay Scale For Organized Reserve Is Announced

The average yearly pay for the members of the organized naval reserve division here will be $170, according to Lieut. Comdr. Walter N. Hedrick, organizing officer. This amounts to one day's pay a week on the same scale they received in the regular navy.

The training period will be one night a week for an hour and a half. In addition there will be a two week's cruise available for those who want it during which they will receive full pay and allowances.

The total payroll for the Cumberland division including entire 215 officers and men is $36,530.

Commander Hedrick said the program is open to all ex-navy and coast guard personnel who may enter with the same rating and pay status as they held upon discharge. Ex-army and marine personnel may also join but may not be rated higher than seaman first class. Provisions for promotion are made for all personnel according to their abilities and desires, Commander Hedrick said.

Those who are now in the inactive V-6 program must make separate application in order to qualify for the pay status of the organized reserve.

Arsenal Bomb Blast Kills One, Injures Two

EDGEWOOD, Md., Oct. 30. (AP)—A civilian worker at the Army's Edgewood Arsenal was injured fatally today and two others were burned when a 500-pound cluster incendiary bomb exploded on the post.

Robert L. Osbourne, 32, Bel Air, Md., died in the arsenal hospital several hours after he was caught in the blazing shower released when the bomb exploded.

Also treated in the hospital for burns were Richard A. Nelson, 33, Baltimore, and James H. De Bouis, 23, Havre De Grace.

Officials said Osbourne was aboard a two and one half ton truck from which the bomb was being dismantled and that the other two were working nearby when the explosion occurred.

Ellerslie Plans Fire Company

Citizens of Ellerslie discussed the possibility of organizing a volunteer fire company at a public meeting Tuesday night at the town's Community Hall.

The movement is being sponsored by the Patriotic Order of the Sons of America with Allen Shaffer, chairman of the committee.

Arthur C. Howard, director of fire prevention and protection at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, was the principal speaker at the meeting. He explained how essential fire fighting equipment could be secured at a nominal cost.

Another public meeting will be held in the near future, Shaffer said, when representatives of the Allegany and Garrett County Firemen's Association will assist in technical organization details.

District CAA Office Is Opened In Baltimore

Although the Civil Aeronautics Administration has opened a district office in Baltimore in connection with administration of the Federal Airport Act, the office does not have much to offer Maryland in the way of airport air funds, according to Tom Bradford, airport engineer in charge of the office.

The state's share of the $30,822,750 appropriated for apportionment to the states for airport construction and development during the current fiscal year will be only $274,397.

Bradford pointed out that Maryland is relatively small in area and the 29 existing airports serve most sections of the state. He added that in his opinion the state's share will be used for the further development of municipal airports at Salisbury, Easton, Cumberland, Frederick and Crisfield, and to construct several more strategically located Class 1 and Class 2 airports.

By DANTON WALKER

IF THE DEMOCRATS lose out too badly on November 5, look for them to start romancing Jim Farley to return as Democratic national chairman . . . Also look for Senator Pepper to start agitating for a third party, to embrace all the so-called liberal groups . . . Pepper and Wallace to do their last pre-election trumpeting for the Democrats in New York November 4 . . . The Independent Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions rumored cutting salaries, which may explain the rumor that Ickes is quitting . . . Prominent people who lend their names as sponsors of organizations they know nothing about should take a tip from Senator Saltonstall, of Massachusetts, who thought the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship was a relief outfit. (Saltonstall and four other, including Ickes,) have withdraw their names.)

THE O. John Rogge uproar may be a buildup for the book he is readying on his experiences as an investigator for the Department of Justice from which he has just been fired . . . There is also a lecture tour for him in the works . . . The United States Chamber of Commerce reports, entitled "Communist Infiltration in the United States," will go into a second printing around Christmas . . . Murray Garsson, who was "ill" in Cuba during the recent front-page war contracts investigation, is back in New York . . . Just as former Federal Communications Commission Chairman Porter, now OPA head, decontrolled meat, livestock and other items, the decontrol fever apparently hit the FCC itself. For the first time in its history, the FCC okayed, without hearing, sale of Philadelphia's powerful WCAU radio station to the Philadelphia Record, for an all-time high price of $6,000,000. Ceilings, apparently, are passe.

HENRY LUCE, and two Time, Inc., associates off to Shanghai on a secret mission . . . OPA faced with one of its most unusual cases: Deciding whether the lessee of a boarding house can sell his furniture and toss the boarders out before contesting OPA. The case comes up shortly in the Supreme Court of New York . . . OPA enforcement agents having a field day with auto agencies and apartment house superintendents who are now on the take for renting space. Average arrests are said to be 25 per day . . . Automobile agencies have been told by manufacturers to return deposits on cars that have been held for six months or more, on account of possible lawsuits . . . If New Yorkers want to know where American cars are going, they should pipe the hundreds of crates marked "Chevrolet" piled up on the docks near West Forty-sixth Street.

The famed Ziegfeld Club, made up of gals once glorified, to hold its annual ball (strictly formal) November 16 at the Starlight Roof.

FOR the interesting-if-true department: The squeaky-voiced Teddy Hart (actor brother of the late Larry Hart) taking screen tests for the title role in Metro's planned screen biography of Eddie Cantor . . . Gertrude Niesen, having heard of the joys of farm life from the Lunts, buying an adjacent hunk of property at Genesee Depot, Wis . . . Dave Stanley, whose latest book, "A Treasury of Sports Humor," is just off the presses, working on a book of profiles of Broadway columnists . . . Col. ## Edward Weimers Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Avilton Couple Observe Anniversary At Mass And Dinner Oct. 27

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Oct 30 — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weimer, Avilton, Garrett County, observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday, October 27, in St. Anne's Church Hall, Avilton, by attending mass and a dinner arranged by their children. The reception which followed the dinner was attended by more than 200 persons.

St. Anne's Church was filled with friends and relatives when the couple and their children attended mass. The special blessing of thanksgiving was administered by Father David of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Cumberland.

The dinner was served on five large tables in the dining hall. A huge tiered wedding cake adorned the middle table where Mr. and Mrs. Weimer sat with their sons and daughters and their wives and husbands.

The couple received many beautiful gifts, including $103 in cash. They also received personal greetings from friends who came from distant localities to attend the golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Weimer are the parents of 10 children, nine of whom are living. Members of the immediate family who attended the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Colmer and family, Nikep; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Weimer and family, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Weimer and family, Mt. Savage; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Weimer and family, Borden; Mr. and Mrs. Payne Culp and family, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dietrech and family, Beallsville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Weimer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bingaman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Alphonsus Weimer and family, Avilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Weimer have 39 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Lt. Brown Visits

Lt. Joseph F. Brown, pilot of the Navy patrol bomber that landed at the Cumberland airport Saturday, left for Norfolk, Va., yesterday after spending several days with his mother, Mrs. Anna Brown, Eckhart. He was accompanied to Norfolk by his wife, the former Miss Betty Lee Stark, who flew here last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stark, Maple street.

Lt. Brown, who has been in the Navy four years and six months, received his commission at Pensacola, Fla., in July, 1943. He has been stationed at various Navy airports throughout the country and spent many months in California. He is a grandson of Mrs. J. J. Byrnes, Eckhart. At the present time he is attached to the V. P. B. 73, air patrol squad at the Norfolk, Va., air base.

Ruth Harden Weds

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Harden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harden, West Mechanic street, and Robert E. Lashley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lashley, Mt. Savage. The double ring ceremony was performed Saturday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church by Rev. Justus H. Liesmann, pastor.

Nuptial music was sung by William Plummer, with Mrs. George Charles playing the organ accompaniment and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length gown of rose crepe with black accessories. She carried a white prayer book with white satin shower streamers caught with tiny white mums. Her corsage was white rosebuds. Miss Ruth Lashley, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of gold crepe with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of brown crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a gown of black crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Robert Harden, nephew of the bride, served as best man. Dale Nolan, also a nephew of the bride was the ring bearer. Edward Joseph Eichhorn and Junior Caton were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home. After returning from their honeymoon, the couple will live with the bride's parents.

The bridegroom, a veteran of World War II, is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. During his overseas service with the armed forces he received three battle stars, the combat infantry badge and the Purple Heart Medal.

Halloween Parade Held

The parade held here last night as the Community Halloween celebration was one of the best in many years. The weather was ideal and costumed marchers turned out in large numbers.

The parade was headed by the newly organized drum corps of Farrady Post, No. 24, American Legion, who marched in their new uniforms.

Prizes were awarded to the Good Will Fire Company of Lonaconing for the best appearing volunteer fire company in the line of march. The drum corps prize went to the Fulton Myers Post, Cumberland. The Mt. Savage Band, wearing masquerade costumes, won first prize for bands. The prize winning floats were entered by the Young Men's Republican Club and Via's Market.

The Arion Band also appeared in the line of march but did not compete for a prize. Fire companies from Midland, Clarysville, Piedmont, Westernport, Cresaptown and Frostburg were represented by delegations in the line of march, riding in their respective trucks.

The dance held in Firemen's Hall was largely attended, and a band concert by the Arion Band in front of the local bus terminal attracted a large crowd.

Frostburg Briefs

The Senior Christian Endeavor Society of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church will meet Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Marshall Hill, Linden street.

Mrs. Frederick Wade, Ormond street, was the guest of honor at a family reunion and dinner held Sunday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Lewis, Cresaptown. All members of the family were present. They were Mr. Wade, husband of the guest of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Baird, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Brs. George Kerns, this city; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and five grandchildren, Frederick, and Robert Kerns, Frostburg and Betty and Donald Lewis, Cresaptown.

Herbert Loar, for many years an employe of the Frostburg National Bank as assistant cashier, has purchased the grocery business of Paul Monahan, 112 West Main street, and will take charge of the establishment this week.

Stanley Hawkins, manager of the Acme store, this city, for the past 14 years, has accepted a position in the sales department of the Pritchard Corporation. He assumed his new duties Monday morning.

Personals

Boy Hurt Playing With Bow, Arrow

By DAVID E. KIRK

BARTON, Oct. 30—Rowe Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Miller, Nikep, sustained a severe eye injury Sunday afternoon.

He was playing with several other boys on an empty lot near his home, shooting arrows made from a wild plant. One of the boys accidentally shot an arrow which hit behind Miller's glasses and went into his left eye.

He was taken to the office of Dr. J. Norman Reeves, Westernport, who said the sight of his eye may be saved. Miller, a ninth grader at the Barton High School, was confined to his home following treatment where his condition today was reported fair.

Halloween Dance Held

The feature of the evening was a mummers parade at 9:30 p. m. with cash prizes of $25 being awarded to Mrs. George Saville and Mrs. John Kirk, prettiest; Miss Fay Dohm and Mrs. Marshall Fazenbaker, most original; and Mrs. Margaret Cameon and James Jones, funniest.

Leroy Kiddy Promoted

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kiddy received word from their son, Leroy, in Manila that he has been promoted to sergeant. He re-enlisted in April, after serving three years in World War II receiving his discharge in January, 1946.

After re-enlisting he was sent from Fort Lawton, Seattle, Wash., to Okinawa and from there to Manila. He is a graduate of Barton High School, class of '42. Sgt. Kiddy expects to return to the states some time in February. He also has two brothers who were in service during the war.

Personals

Mrs. Alexander Cross and Mrs. Elizabeth Londridge returned to their home yesterday after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dennison, Morgantown, W. Va.

Iowa State Alumni Will Seek Talent

AMES, Ia., Oct. 30 (AP)—Groups of Iowa State College alumni, concerned with the school's football policy, are organizing for the first time to seek a remedy for Cyclone gridiron ills.

Unlike most cases where a losing team is involved, there's no criticism of the coaching staff. The alumni are blaming themselves.

As one alumni put it after the Cyclones lost to Oklahoma last week, 63 to 0, for the worst defeat in Iowa State history:

"My heart bled for the coaches who are working under such circumstances."

So it isn't Mike Michalske and his staff that the alumni are criticizing for the 1946 record of five defeats in six games.

At a homecoming meeting of the Alumni Association last Friday to honor former football captains, influential alumni, for the first time, were aroused about the football problem. Many agreed they hadn't made an effort to get athletes for Iowa State.

Remedies suggested included: (1) Give athletes preference in college jobs. (2) Set aside living quarters for football playing students. (3) Provide an adequate dining place for the squad. (4) Organize active Alumni Associations to contact players and send them to Iowa State. (5) Work out players' class schedules to avoid late-afternoon classes.

Navy Midgets Expect Tough Game Friday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Navy's so-far victorious 150-pound football team may come against a strong Cornell team Friday in what may be the "turning point" in its first year's play.

Coach Bill Ingram said today that although his Midgets had defeated IC4A Champion Princeton 19-0 and Rutgers 3-0, he wasn't sure of Friday's game.

He said, "we are looking for this game to be our toughest. It will also be a good measuring stick for what can be expected of the team. We take the game as they come and feel Friday's game will be our turning point."

Ingram said Captain Tommy Nealon, who has been out because of a knee injury, will be in Friday's game, bringing the team to physical peak.

Cincinnati Reds Give Giles New Contract

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30. (AP)—Warren C. Giles has been given a new five-year contract as general manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

This was announced tonight by Powell Crosley Jr., president of the National League Club, who said the new contract was substituted for a three-year agreement signed a year ago because "we wanted to make his future here so attractive he could not be lured away from Cincinnati."

Salary figures were not disclosed.

In a statement, Crosley reported Giles recently "had been asked to consider other positions, one of them a very big executive post," and added:

"I asked Warren if he preferred to stay or whether he would like to consider some of the offers that would be made to him if he were available. He was emphatic in his assurances that he preferred to stay in Cincinnati."

SHOOT DEER IN CITY—The Cabell County, W. Va., game protector tried to save this doe which turned up in Huntington. But when B. H. Caldwell, the protector, caught the animal near the American Carand Foundry Company, he discovered it had a broken back and destroyed it. (AP photo).

Pittston Township School Suspended

WLKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP) — Pittston Township High School was suspended from Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association competition for an indefinite period today after school officials testified an 18-year old youth, who died of injuries suffered in a football game, was an ineligible player.

Carl Fiourcchi died Saturday of injuries received in the Pittston-West Wyoming football game the preceding day.

The ruling by a six-man commission at a hearing during which Miss Delia O'Malley, principal of the school, declared Fiourcchi was not on the list of eligible players submitted to the PIAA, that he was graduated in June, 1946 and did not attend classes during the present term.

John Hopkins, coach of the team, testified the youth was put in the game on his own insistence, having attended all practice sessions and having helped "put the boys in condition." He played in only the one game, Hopkins said.

Theo Medina Wins Bantamweight Title

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 30 (AP) —Theo Medina, a swarthy French barberr, won the Bantamweight Boxing Championship of Europe tonight, knocking out Titlist Jackie Paterson of Scotland, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10 round battle.

Medina reduced his weight by last minute massage and exercise to 117 pounds, 15 ounces, one ounce inside the limit. Patterson, who still holds the World Flyweight Title, weighed 118.

A crowd of nearly 50,000 fans saw Paterson go down in a surprise kayoe. The gate and exact attendance were not announced.

Leahy Will Take 36 Players To Baltimore

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 30 (AP) — Coach Frank Leahy today named a 36-man Notre Dame traveling squad to make the trip to Baltimore where the Irish tangle with Navy there Saturday.

John Mastrangelo, right guard, will be the game captain for Notre Dame against the Navy. Jack Zilly, right end, who missed the Iowa game last week because of a sprained ankle, is listed as a probable starter.

The squad will leave South Bend late tomorrow following a short practice session.

Navy Soccer Team Defeats Haverford

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — The Navy soccer team turned a tight soccer match into a riot today as they scored three quick goals in the final quarter to defeat Haverford, 6-4.

Both teams had scored one goal in each of the first three periods.

Stile, a substitute Navy forward booted in all of the Tars' final quarter points. Evan Jones of Jamaica, West Indies, made three goals for Haverford to tie Stiles for high scoring honors.

Navy Works Hard For Notre Dame

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Coach Tom Hamilton, in line with his plan to give Notre Dame plenty of trouble Saturday, sent his teams through offensive drills today.

Navy's gridders working out in a warm sunny afternoon went through passing and running plays, aimed at sparking them for scoring as well as putting up a strong defense against the Irish at Baltimore.

Two A's Sign

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP) — Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, announced today that Pitcher Phil Marchildon and Catcher Buddy Rosar have signed contracts for the 1947 season.

Mack made the announcement before leaving for Cincinnati to attend baseball's annual draft meeting. He said he was hopeful of filling some gaps in his last-place team, particularly in the infield.

Badminton Club Elects Officers

The Cumberland Badminton Club held its annual meeting last night in the reception room of the Cumberland Brewing Company and elected the following officers for the coming season:

W. J. Cramer, president; Mrs. Robert M. King, Vice-president; Mrs. Somerville Nicholson, secretary; and Miss Louise Wilson, treasurer.

About 40 members and prospective members for this season were in attendance and very enthusiastic about the club this year.

The club uses the Fort Hill School gymnasium Monday and Thursday evenings and Saturday afternoons during the winter months. The first meeting will be held next Monday evening.

It was also decided to accept the offer of some national champions to give an exhibition in Cumberland on the club courts in the near future.

Nails Mine Roads Against Poachers

JOHANNESBURG — Trespassing motorists — most of them would-be game poachers — who ignore signs telling them to stay out of the Dongola botanical reserve in northern Transvaal, are likely to wind up in the middle of the park with a set of flat tires.

Roads in the park are skillfully "mined" with bent nails and other sharp pointed obstacles, laid flush with the road and concealed from motorists, who may continue for several miles into the park before the "mines" take effect.

President Of Indians May Lose Foot

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians disclosed today that he may have to submit to amputation of his infected right foot.

"There's a possibility — a good possibility—that I'll lose the foot before I leave this hospital," Veeck said.

The Tribe president has been in Cleveland Clinic Hospital since last Thursday for treatment of the infection, which has flared periodically since the foot was smashed by an anti-aircraft gun more than two years ago on Bougainville. He was a member of the United States Marine Corps.

Penn Captain Named

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP) — Art Littleton, rangy left end, today was named captain for the University of Pennsylvania in its game with Princeton at Franklin Field here Saturday.

After suffering a bruised lip early in the Navy game last Saturday, he played the hard hitting brand of football which led Penn to a 32-19 victory.

Jay-Walking Stopped

WARSAW (AP) — City authorities decided to give Poles "lessons in walking." Militiamen stationed at street intersections forbade "jay-walking" in an effort to cut down the automobile accident rate.

Edward Weimers Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Avilton Couple Observe Anniversary At Mass And Dinner Oct. 27

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Oct 30 — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weimer, Avilton, Garrett County, observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday, October 27, in St. Anne's Church Hall, Avilton, by attending mass and a dinner arranged by their children. The reception which followed the dinner was attended by more than 200 persons.

St. Anne's Church was filled with friends and relatives when the couple and their children attended mass. The special blessing of thanksgiving was administered by Father David of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Cumberland.

The dinner was served on five large tables in the dining hall. A huge tiered wedding cake adorned the middle table where Mr. and Mrs. Weimer sat with their sons and daughters and their wives and husbands.

The couple received many beautiful gifts, including $103 in cash. They also received personal greetings from friends who came from distant localities to attend the golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Weimer are the parents of 10 children, nine of whom are living. Members of the immediate family who attended the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Colmer and family, Nikep; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Weimer and family, Frostburg; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Weimer and family, Mt. Savage; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Weimer and family, Borden; Mr. and Mrs. Payne Culp and family, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dietrech and family, Beallsville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Weimer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bingaman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Alphonsus Weimer and family, Avilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Weimer have 39 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Lt. Brown Visits

Lt. Joseph F. Brown, pilot of the Navy patrol bomber that landed at the Cumberland airport Saturday, left for Norfolk, Va., yesterday after spending several days with his mother, Mrs. Anna Brown, Eckhart. He was accompanied to Norfolk by his wife, the former Miss Betty Lee Stark, who flew here last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Stark, Maple street.

Lt. Brown, who has been in the Navy four years and six months, received his commission at Pensacola, Fla., in July, 1943. He has been stationed at various Navy airports throughout the country and spent many months in California. He is a grandson of Mrs. J. J. Byrnes, Eckhart. At the present time he is attached to the V. P. B. 73, air patrol squad at the Norfolk, Va., air base.

Ruth Harden Weds

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Harden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harden, West Mechanic street, and Robert E. Lashley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lashley, Mt. Savage. The double ring ceremony was performed Saturday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church by Rev. Justus H. Liesmann, pastor.

Nuptial music was sung by William Plummer, with Mrs. George Charles playing the organ accompaniment and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length gown of rose crepe with black accessories. She carried a white prayer book with white satin shower streamers caught with tiny white mums. Her corsage was white rosebuds. Miss Ruth Lashley, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of gold crepe with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of brown crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a gown of black crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Robert Harden, nephew of the bride, served as best man. Dale Nolan, also a nephew of the bride was the ring bearer. Edward Joseph Eichhorn and Junior Caton were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home. After returning from their honeymoon, the couple will live with the bride's parents.

The bridegroom, a veteran of World War II, is employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company. During his overseas service with the armed forces he received three battle stars, the combat infantry badge and the Purple Heart Medal.

Halloween Parade Held

The parade held here last night as the Community Halloween celebration was one of the best in many years. The weather was ideal and costumed marchers turned out in large numbers.

The parade was headed by the newly organized drum corps of Farrady Post, No. 24, American Legion, who marched in their new uniforms.

Prizes were awarded to the Good Will Fire Company of Lonaconing for the best appearing volunteer fire company in the line of march. The drum corps prize went to the Fulton Myers Post, Cumberland. The Mt. Savage Band, wearing masquerade costumes, won first prize for bands. The prize winning floats were entered by the Young Men's Republican Club and Via's Market.

The Arion Band also appeared in the line of march but did not compete for a prize. Fire companies from Midland, Clarysville, Piedmont, Westernport, Cresaptown and Frostburg were represented by delegations in the line of march, riding in their respective trucks.

The dance held in Firemen's Hall was largely attended, and a band concert by the Arion Band in front of the local bus terminal attracted a large crowd.

Frostburg Briefs

Boy Hurt Playing With Bow, Arrow

By DAVID E. KIRK

BARTON, Oct. 30—Rowe Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Miller, Nikep, sustained a severe eye injury Sunday afternoon.

He was playing with several other boys on an empty lot near his home, shooting arrows made from a wild plant. One of the boys accidentally shot an arrow which hit behind Miller's glasses and went into his left eye.

He was taken to the office of Dr. J. Norman Reeves, Westernport, who said the sight of his eye may be saved. Miller, a ninth grader at the Barton High School, was confined to his home following treatment where his condition today was reported fair.

Halloween Dance Held

The feature of the evening was a mummers parade at 9:30 p. m. with cash prizes of $25 being awarded to Mrs. George Saville and Mrs. John Kirk, prettiest; Miss Fay Dohm and Mrs. Marshall Fazenbaker, most original; and Mrs. Margaret Cameon and James Jones, funniest.

Leroy Kiddy Promoted

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kiddy received word from their son, Leroy, in Manila that he has been promoted to sergeant. He re-enlisted in April, after serving three years in World War II receiving his discharge in January, 1946.

After re-enlisting he was sent from Fort Lawton, Seattle, Wash., to Okinawa and from there to Manila. He is a graduate of Barton High School, class of '42. Sgt. Kiddy expects to return to the states some time in February. He also has two brothers who were in service during the war.

Personals

Mrs. Alexander Cross and Mrs. Elizabeth Londridge returned to their home yesterday after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dennison, Morgantown, W. Va.

Iowa State Alumni Will Seek Talent

AMES, Ia., Oct. 30 (AP)—Groups of Iowa State College alumni, concerned with the school's football policy, are organizing for the first time to seek a remedy for Cyclone gridiron ills.

Unlike most cases where a losing team is involved, there's no criticism of the coaching staff. The alumni are blaming themselves.

As one alumni put it after the Cyclones lost to Oklahoma last week, 63 to 0, for the worst defeat in Iowa State history:

"My heart bled for the coaches who are working under such circumstances."

So it isn't Mike Michalske and his staff that the alumni are criticizing for the 1946 record of five defeats in six games.

At a homecoming meeting of the Alumni Association last Friday to honor former football captains, influential alumni, for the first time, were aroused about the football problem. Many agreed they hadn't made an effort to get athletes for Iowa State.

Remedies suggested included:

(1) Give athletes preference in college jobs. (2) Set aside living quarters for football playing students. (3) Provide an adequate dining place for the squad. (4) Organize active Alumni Associations to contact players and send them to Iowa State. (5) Work out players' class schedules to avoid late-afternoon classes.

Navy Midgets Expect Tough Game Friday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Navy's so-far victorious 150-pound football team may come against a strong Cornell team Friday in what may be the "turning point" in its first year's play.

Coach Bill Ingram said today that although his Midgets had defeated IC4A Champion Princeton 19-0 and Rutgers 3-0, he wasn't sure of Friday's game.

He said, "we are looking for this game to be our toughest. It will also be a good measuring stick for what can be expected of the team. We take the game as they come and feel Friday's game will be our turning point."

Ingram said Captain Tommy Nealon, who has been out because of a knee injury, will be in Friday's game, bringing the team to physical peak.

Cincinnati Reds Give Giles New Contract

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30. (AP)—Warren C. Giles has been given a new five-year contract as general manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

This was announced tonight by Powell Crosley Jr., president of the National League Club, who said the new contract was substituted for a three-year agreement signed a year ago because "we wanted to make his future here so attractive he could not be lured away from Cincinnati."

Salary figures were not disclosed.

In a statement, Crosley reported Giles recently "had been asked to consider other positions, one of them a very big executive post," and added:

"I asked Warren if he preferred to stay or whether he would like to consider some of the offers that would be made to him if he were available. He was emphatic in his assurances that he preferred to stay in Cincinnati."

SHOOT DEER IN CITY—The Cabell County, W. Va., game protector tried to save this doe which turned up in Huntington. But when B. H. Caldwell, the protector, caught the animal near the American Carand Foundry Company, he discovered it had a broken back and destroyed it. (AP photo).

Pittston Township School Suspended

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP) — Pittston Township High School was suspended from Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association competition for an indefinite period today after school officials testified an 18-year old youth, who died of injuries suffered in a football game, was an ineligible player.

Carl Fiourcchi died Saturday of injuries received in the Pittston-West Wyoming football game the preceding day.

The ruling by a six-man commission at a hearing during which Miss Delia O'Malley, principal of the school, declared Fiourcchi was not on the list of eligible players submitted to the PIAA, that he was graduated in June, 1946 and did not attend classes during the present term.

John Hopkins, coach of the team, testified the youth was put in the game on his own insistence, having attended all practice sessions and having helped "put the boys in condition." He played in only the one game, Hopkins said.

Theo Medina Wins Bantamweight Title

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 30 (AP) —Theo Medina, a swarthy French barberr, won the Bantamweight Boxing Championship of Europe tonight, knocking out Titlist Jackie Paterson of Scotland, in the fourth round of a scheduled 10 round battle.

Medina reduced his weight by last minute massage and exercise to 117 pounds, 15 ounces, one ounce inside the limit. Patterson, who still holds the World Flyweight Title, weighed 118.

A crowd of nearly 50,000 fans saw Paterson go down in a surprise kayoe. The gate and exact attendance were not announced.

Leahy Will Take 36 Players To Baltimore

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 30 (AP) — Coach Frank Leahy today named a 36-man Notre Dame traveling squad to make the trip to Baltimore where the Irish tangle with Navy there Saturday.

John Mastrangelo, right guard, will be the game captain for Notre Dame against the Navy. Jack Zilly, right end, who missed the Iowa game last week because of a sprained ankle, is listed as a probable starter.

Navy Soccer Team Defeats Haverford

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — The Navy soccer team turned a tight soccer match into a riot today as they scored three quick goals in the final quarter to defeat Haverford, 6-4.

Both teams had scored one goal in each of the first three periods.

Stile, a substitute Navy forward booted in all of the Tars' final quarter points. Evan Jones of Jamaica, West Indies, made three goals for Haverford to tie Stiles for high scoring honors.

Navy Works Hard For Notre Dame

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Coach Tom Hamilton, in line with his plan to give Notre Dame plenty of trouble Saturday, sent his teams through offensive drills today.

Navy's gridders working out in a warm sunny afternoon went through passing and running plays, aimed at sparking them for scoring as well as putting up a strong defense against the Irish at Baltimore.

Two A's Sign

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP) — Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, announced today that Pitcher Phil Marchildon and Catcher Buddy Rosar have signed contracts for the 1947 season.

Mack made the announcement before leaving for Cincinnati to attend baseball's annual draft meeting. He said he was hopeful of filling some gaps in his last-place team, particularly in the infield.

Badminton Club Elects Officers

The Cumberland Badminton Club held its annual meeting last night in the reception room of the Cumberland Brewing Company and elected the following officers for the coming season:

W. J. Cramer, president; Mrs. Robert M. King, Vice-president; Mrs. Somerville Nicholson, secretary; and Miss Louise Wilson, treasurer.

About 40 members and prospective members for this season were in attendance and very enthusiastic about the club this year.

The club uses the Fort Hill School gymnasium Monday and Thursday evenings and Saturday afternoons during the winter months. The first meeting will be held next Monday evening.

It was also decided to accept the offer of some national champions to give an exhibition in Cumberland on the club courts in the near future.

Nails Mine Roads Against Poachers

JOHANNESBURG — Trespassing motorists — most of them would-be game poachers — who ignore signs telling them to stay out of the Dongola botanical reserve in northern Transvaal, are likely to wind up in the middle of the park with a set of flat tires.

Roads in the park are skillfully "mined" with bent nails and other sharp pointed obstacles, laid flush with the road and concealed from motorists, who may continue for several miles into the park before the "mines" take effect.

President Of Indians May Lose Foot

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians disclosed today that he may have to submit to amputation of his infected right foot.

"There's a possibility — a good possibility—that I'll lose the foot before I leave this hospital," Veeck said.

The Tribe president has been in Cleveland Clinic Hospital since last Thursday for treatment of the infection, which has flared periodically since the foot was smashed by an anti-aircraft gun more than two years ago on Bougainville. He was a member of the United States Marine Corps.

Penn Captain Named

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP) — Art Littleton, rangy left end, today was named captain for the University of Pennsylvania in its game with Princeton at Franklin Field here Saturday.

After suffering a bruised lip early in the Navy game last Saturday, he played the hard hitting brand of football which led Penn to a 32-19 victory.

Jay-Walking Stopped

WARSAW (AP) — City authorities decided to give Poles "lessons in walking." Militiamen stationed at street intersections forbade "jay-walking" in an effort to cut down the automobile accident rate.

Softball League Holds Banquet In Piedmont

Coach Bobby Cavanaugh Is Guest Speaker At Tri-Towns Affair

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN.

WESTERNPORT, Oct. 30—Coach Bobby Cavanaugh, of Fort Hill High School, Cumberland, was the guest speaker at a turkey banquet held last night given by the Tri-Towns Softball League at the home of Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52 American Legion at Piedmont, W. Va. Using sportsmanship as his theme he told of the difficulties in holding a league together. He also suggested that a monument in the form of a ball park or recreation area be erected in memory of the veterans who served in World War II.

John E. Grindle, coach of Bruce High School, Westernport, was master of ceremonies. Short speeches were made by Thomas Gilchrist, representing the Wilson sporting store of Cumberland and Joseph K. Burns, Westernport, president of the league.

The league trophy was presented to the winner of the pennant, the Devon Club, by the toastmaster on behalf of the league. Aronne DiUbaldo, manager of the club, accepted the trophy. Julius McCabe, manager of the league was presented with a check of $25 by the Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52 of the A. L. of Piedmont, for sportsmanship and Americanism. Special mention was made of Jake's Oilers of which Tommy Haywood is the manager.

The six teams were well represented. They are listed according to their standing in the league, Devon club, Burn's Tavern, Victory Post No. 155 American Legion of Westernport, Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, A. L. of Piedmont, Boal's and Jake's Oilers. Mr. Burns was given a rising vote of thanks for his fine work during this season. Approximately 100 members and guests attended.

The banquet was served by the American Legion Auxiliary of Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, A. L. unit.

Amendments Affecting Sheriffs, State Attorneys Will Be Voted Upon Tuesday

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — Four amendments to the state constitution will be voted upon in the general election next Tuesday, two affecting the City of Baltimore only, and the others state's attorneys and sheriffs.

The four proposed amendments were approved by the 1945 Legislature for submission to the state's voters at the next general election.

The first, aimed at speeding up slum clearance in Baltimore, would eliminate the need for the City Redevelopment Commission to have in hand, either by purchase or option, 50 per cent of a tract before it could exercise condemnation powers to acquire the property.

Supporters of the proposal say that this is in line with steps being taken to strengthen the commission's hands and open the way for its proper operation.

Another proposed amendment would permit the Governor to name an associate judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City as chief judge of that tribunal in event of a vacancy in the office. The associate judge so elevated would serve in the higher office for the residue of the term for which he was named associate judge.

Also to be voted upon is a proposal to give the counties the fees collected in the offices of their respective sheriffs, less the costs of operating those offices, and would increase the salary of the Baltimore City sheriff from $6,000 to $7,500 a year.

The fourth proposed amendment would permit the General Assembly to prescribe by act the amount and type of surety bond that a state's attorney must post before taking office. At present, the sum is fixed at $10,000 by the constitution.

The four proposals will be acted upon by all voters of the state, although the redevelopment amendment concerns only an agency whose operations are limited to the confines of Baltimore City.

Blind State's Attorney Ends Public Career

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—Harrison W. Vickers, who was stricken blind shortly after being elected state's attorney for the first time 16 years ago, has ended his public career and today is back at private law practice.

Vickers declined to seek renomination this year, saying he preferred to give a younger man a chance at the office. But he let it be known he didn't expect to give up the law work.

Vickers was elected state's attorney after serving as state conservation commissioner. Not long after taking office he lost his sight, but he continued as prosecutor and was re-elected to three subsequent terms.

Swiss Ban U. S. Flag As Trade Booster

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP)—The Stars and Stripes, frequently seen in display windows, especially of watch shops, throughout Switzerland, are being withdrawn.

The Swiss Justice and Police Department recently warned shopkeepers that the use of he United States flag for business purpose in Switzerland was punishable.

80 Candidates Admitted To Bar

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Eighty candidates for the Bar were admitted Tuesday by the Court of Appeals and counseled to practice their profession diligently and give thought to the "science of government."

The class was admitted on the motion of Attorney General William Curran. He advised them to study the law continuously in their practice, saying, "you ought not only to give much of your time to your clients but also consider serving your state."

Extend Validity Of Sugar Stamps

Spare stamps No. 9 and 10, each good for five pounds of sugar, will be valid through November 30, according to the Maryland office of the OPA. Both stamps were to expire on October 31.

Following the recently announced decision on a joint U. S. Department of Agriculture-OPA program to move western beet sugar into eastern deficit areas, the action is the second 30-day extension granted by OPA to permit housewives to receive their fair share of sugar.

In granting the extension, OPA pointed out that local area shortages of sugar had developed largely because of the maritime strike. The measure, it is expected, will permit housewives who have been unable to obtain home canning sugar to finish putting up the last fruits of the canning season, OPA said.

15 Men Initiated By Eagles Here

Cumberland Aerie No. 245, F. O. Eagles, initiated 15 men into the order Tuesday night at the home on North Mechanic street. The class brought the membership of the aerie to more than 3,000, making it one of the largest in the country, Eagle officials said.

Frank F. Kelly, worthy president, assisted by lodge officers, exemplified the ritual. Julius E. Schindler, local attorney, gave a brief address.

Members of the class initiated include Arthur C. Billmyer, William A. Dick, Thomas S. Day, James F. Eells, Jr., John H. Fossett, Kenneth D. Hite, William E. Hinkle, James G. Hounshell, James A. Luteman, Harold W. Stewart, Paul E. Shaffer, Walter C. Shanholtz, Allan H. Tyler, James A. Whitman and Carl F. Williams.

Last year the trolley coach, street car and gas bus companies of America spent more than $106,000,000 for electric power, gasoline, diesel oil, coal and lubricants.

In the 10 years preceding World War II, the world population increased by 200,000,000.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1945, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 529

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 12 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Attorney-General and State's Attorneys," sub-title "The State's Attorneys," relating to the duties of the State's Attorneys and the requirement to file a bond.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 12 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Attorney-General and State's Attorneys," sub-title "The State's Attorneys," the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 12 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

12. The State's Attorney in each county, and the City of Baltimore, shall have authority to collect, and give receipt, in the name of the State, for such sums of money as may be collected by him, and forthwith make return of and pay over the same to the proper accounting officer. And the State's Attorney of each county, and the City of Baltimore, before he shall enter on the discharge of his duties, and from time to time thereafter, shall give such corporate surety bond as may hereafter be prescribed by Act of the General Assembly.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing Section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 5, 1945.

CHAPTER 659

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1(e) of Article 11B of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Baltimore Redevelopment Commission," relating to the use of the power of eminent domain, and to provide for the submission of said Amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland, for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1(e) of Article 11B of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Baltimore Redevelopment Commission," the same, if adopted by the qualified voters of the State of Maryland, as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland.

(e) The Baltimore Redevelopment Commission shall have authority to use the power of eminent domain to acquire any land needed for any redevelopment project within the corporate limits of the City of Baltimore. Property already devoted to a public use may be acquired by the Baltimore Redevelopment Commission; provided, however, that no real property belonging to the State of Maryland or the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore or of the Baltimore Housing Authority may be acquired without the consent of said State or of said City or of said Baltimore Housing Authority, as the case may be. No property taken by the Baltimore Redevelopment Commission by exercise of the power of eminent domain, shall be taken without just compensation, as agreed upon between the parties, or awarded by a Jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, shall, at the Election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State of Maryland, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of Maryland, and at the said General Election, the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment," and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said Election, due return shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and said proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

CHAPTER 708

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 5 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part I. General Provisions," relating to the vacancies in the office of the Chief Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 5 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part I. General Provisions," the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 5 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

PART I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

Sec. 5. Upon every occurrence or recurrence of a vacancy through death, resignation, removal, disqualification by reason of age or otherwise, or expiration of the term of fifteen years of any judge, or creation of the office of any judge, or in any other way, the Governor shall appoint a person duly qualified to fill said office, who shall hold the same until the election and qualification of his successor; except that when a vacancy shall exist in the office of Chief Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City, the Governor may designate an Associate Judge of said Supreme Bench as Chief Judge of said Supreme Bench, and such appointee as Chief Judge shall hold such office for the residue of the term for which he was last elected an Associate Judge of said Supreme Bench. His successor shall be elected at the first biennial general election for Representatives in Congress after the expiration of the term of fifteen years (if the vacancy occurred in that way) or the first such general election after one year after the occurrence of the vacancy in any other way than through expiration of such term. Except in case of reappointment of a judge upon expiration of his term of fifteen years, no person shall be appointed who will become disqualified by reason of age and thereby unable to continue to hold office until the prescribed time when his successor would have been elected.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 23, 1945.

CHAPTER 786

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 44 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part VII—Sheriffs," relating to the election and compensation of Sheriffs and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 44 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part VII—Sheriffs," the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 44 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

44. There shall be elected in each county in the year 1946 and in every fourth year thereafter, one person, resident in said county, above the age of twenty-five years and at least five years preceding his election, a citizen of the State, to the office of Sheriff. He shall hold office for four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; shall give such bond, exercise such powers and perform such duties as now are or may hereafter be fixed by law.

In the City of Baltimore at the general election to be held in the year 1946 and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected in said City of Baltimore, one person who shall be a resident of said city, above the age of twenty-five years, and who shall have been at least five years preceding his election a citizen of this state, to the office of Sheriff. He shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; shall be eligible for re-election; shall give such bond, exercise such powers and perform such duties as now are or may hereafter be fixed by law.

In case of vacancy by death, resignation, refusal to serve, or neglect to qualify, or give bond, or by disqualification or removal from the County or City, the Governor shall appoint a person to be Sheriff for the remainder of the official term.

The Sheriff in each county and in Baltimore City shall receive such salary or compensation and such expenses necessary to the conduct of his office as may be fixed by law; provided, that the salary of the Sheriff in Baltimore City shall be seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00) per year. All fees collected by the Sheriff shall be accounted for and paid to the Treasury of the several counties and of Baltimore City, respectively.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article.

Approved: April 27, 1945.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Bertha C. Bittinger vs. Franz C. Bittinger, No. 19692 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the plaintiff A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the defendant.

The Bill states that they were married on the 24th day of November, 1939, and that the defendant abandoned and deserted the plaintiff on the 2nd of March, 1945, and has declared his intention to live with her no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that there was one adopted child, namely, Victoria Edith Bittinger, aged three, and the plaintiff asks that the permanent custody of this child be awarded to her; that the plaintiff has been a resident of the State of Maryland for more than one year prior to the bringing of this action, and the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and is not engaged in Active Military Service, and the plaintiff asks for an Order of Publication against the defendant and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 22nd. day of October, 1946, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, sitting in equity, ordered that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, once in each of four successive weeks, on or before the 24th day of November, 1946, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, and warning him to appear in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of December, 1946, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Amendments Affecting Sheriffs, State Attorneys Will Be Voted Upon Tuesday

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP) — Four amendments to the state constitution will be voted upon in the general election next Tuesday, two affecting the City of Baltimore only, and the others state's attorneys and sheriffs.

The four proposed amendments were approved by the 1945 Legislature for submission to the state's voters at the next general election.

The first, aimed at speeding up slum clearance in Baltimore, would eliminate the need for the City Redevelopment Commission to have in hand, either by purchase or option, 50 per cent of a tract before it could exercise condemnation powers to acquire the property.

Supporters of the proposal say that this is in line with steps being taken to strengthen the commission's hands and open the way for its proper operation.

Another proposed amendment would permit the Governor to name an associate judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City as chief judge of that tribunal in event of a vacancy in the office. The associate judge so elevated would serve in the higher office for the residue of the term for which he was named associate judge.

Also to be voted upon is a proposal to give the counties the fees collected in the offices of their respective sheriffs, less the costs of operating those offices, and would increase the salary of the Baltimore City sheriff from $6,000 to $7,500 a year.

The fourth proposed amendment would permit the General Assembly to prescribe by act the amount and type of surety bond that a state's attorney must post before taking office. At present, the sum is fixed at $10,000 by the constitution.

The four proposals will be acted upon by all voters of the state, although the redevelopment amendment concerns only an agency whose operations are limited to the confines of Baltimore City.

80 Candidates Admitted To Bar

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 30 (AP) — Eighty candidates for the Bar were admitted Tuesday by the Court of Appeals and counseled to practice their profession diligently and give thought to the "science of government."

The class was admitted on the motion of Attorney General William Curran. He advised them to study the law continuously in their practice, saying, "you ought not only to give much of your time to your clients but also consider serving your state."

Blind State's Attorney Ends Public Career

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—Harrison W. Vickers, who was stricken blind shortly after being elected state's attorney for the first time 16 years ago, has ended his public career and today is back at private law practice.

Vickers declined to seek renomination this year, saying he preferred to give a younger man a chance at the office. But he let it be known he didn't expect to give up the law work.

Vickers was elected state's attorney after serving as state conservation commissioner. Not long after taking office he lost his sight, but he continued as prosecutor and was re-elected to three subsequent terms.

Swiss Ban U. S. Flag As Trade Booster

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP)—The Stars and Stripes, frequently seen in display windows, especially of watch shops, throughout Switzerland, are being withdrawn.

The Swiss Justice and Police Department recently warned shopkeepers that the use of he United States flag for business purpose in Switzerland was punishable.

Extend Validity Of Sugar Stamps

Spare stamps No. 9 and 10, each good for five pounds of sugar, will be valid through November 30, according to the Maryland office of the OPA. Both stamps were to expire on October 31.

Following the recently announced decision on a joint U. S. Department of Agriculture-OPA program to move western beet sugar into eastern deficit areas, the action is the second 30-day extension granted by OPA to permit housewives to receive their fair share of sugar.

In granting the extension, OPA pointed out that local area shortages of sugar had developed largely because of the maritime strike. The measure, it is expected, will permit housewives who have been unable to obtain home canning sugar to finish putting up the last fruits of the canning season, OPA said.

15 Men Initiated By Eagles Here

Cumberland Aerie No. 245, F. O. Eagles, initiated 15 men into the order Tuesday night at the home on North Mechanic street. The class brought the membership of the aerie to more than 3,000, making it one of the largest in the country, Eagle officials said.

Frank F. Kelly, worthy president, assisted by lodge officers, exemplified the ritual. Julius E. Schindler, local attorney, gave a brief address.

Members of the class initiated include Arthur C. Billmyer, William A. Dick, Thomas S. Day, James F. Eells, Jr., John H. Fossett, Kenneth D. Hite, William E. Hinkle, James G. Hounshell, James A. Luteman, Harold W. Stewart, Paul E. Shaffer, Walter C. Shanholtz, Allan H. Tyler, James A. Whitman and Carl F. Williams.

Last year the trolley coach, street car and gas bus companies of America spent more than $106,000,000 for electric power, gasoline, diesel oil, coal and lubricants.

In the 10 years preceding World War II, the world population increased by 200,000,000.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE.

WHEREAS, at the January session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1945, the following Acts were passed, providing for the submission of amendments to the Constitution of the State to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection, namely:

CHAPTER 529

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 12 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Attorney-General and State's Attorneys," sub-title "The State's Attorneys," relating to the duties of the State's Attorneys and the requirement to file a bond.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 12 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Attorney-General and State's Attorneys," sub-title "The State's Attorneys," the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 12 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

12. The State's Attorney in each county, and the City of Baltimore, shall have authority to collect, and give receipt, in the name of the State, for such sums of money as may be collected by him, and forthwith make return of and pay over the same to the proper accounting officer. And the State's Attorney of each county, and the City of Baltimore, before he shall enter on the discharge of his duties, and from time to time thereafter, shall give such corporate surety bond as may hereafter be prescribed by Act of the General Assembly.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing Section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Articles Fourteen.

Approved: April 5, 1945.

CHAPTER 659

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 1(e) of Article 11B of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Baltimore Redevelopment Commission," relating to the use of the power of eminent domain, and to provide for the submission of said Amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland, for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1(e) of Article 11B of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Baltimore Redevelopment Commission," the same, if adopted by the qualified voters of the State of Maryland, as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland.

(e) The Baltimore Redevelopment Commission shall have authority to use the power of eminent domain to acquire any land needed for any redevelopment project within the corporate limits of the City of Baltimore. Property already devoted to a public use may be acquired by the Baltimore Redevelopment Commission; provided, however, that no real property belonging to the State of Maryland or the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore or of the Baltimore Housing Authority may be acquired without the consent of said State or of said City or of said Baltimore Housing Authority, as the case may be. No property taken by the Baltimore Redevelopment Commission by exercise of the power of eminent domain, shall be taken without just compensation, as agreed upon between the parties, or awarded by a Jury.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing Article hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, shall, at the Election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State of Maryland, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, and at the said General Election, the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment," and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article Fourteen.

Approved: April 25, 1945.

CHAPTER 702

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 5 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part I. General Provisions," relating to the vacancies in the office of the Chief Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 5 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part I. General Provisions," the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 12 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

12. The State's Attorney in each county, and the City of Baltimore, shall have authority to collect, and give receipt, in the name of the State, for such sums of money as may be collected by him, and forthwith make return of and pay over the same to the proper accounting officer. And the State's Attorney of each county, and the City of Baltimore, before he shall enter on the discharge of his duties, and from time to time thereafter, shall give such corporate surety bond as may hereafter be prescribed by Act of the General Assembly.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing Section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Articles Fourteen.

Approved: April 5, 1945.

CHAPTER 703

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Section 4 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part VII.—Sheriffs," relating to the election and compensation of Sheriffs and to provide for the submission of said amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all the members of each of the two Houses concurring), That the following be and the same is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 44 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Judiciary Department," sub-title "Part VII.—Sheriffs," the same, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become Section 44 of Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland.

44. There shall be elected in each county in the year 1946 and in every fourth year thereafter, one person, resident in said county, above the age of twenty-five years and at least five years preceding his election, a citizen of the State, to the office of Sheriff. He shall hold office for four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; shall give such bond, execute such powers and perform such duties as now are or may hereafter be fixed by law.

In the City of Baltimore at the general election to be held in the year 1946 and every four years thereafter, there shall be elected in said City of Baltimore, one person who shall be a resident of said city, above the age of twenty-five years, and who shall have been at least five years preceding his election a citizen of this state, to the office of Sheriff. He shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor is duly elected and qualified; shall be eligible for re-election; shall give such bond, exercise such powers and perform such duties as now are or may hereafter be fixed by law.

In case of vacancy by death, resignation, refusal to serve, or neglect to qualify, or give bond, or by disqualification or removal from the County or City, the Governor shall appoint a person to be Sheriff for the remainder of the official term.

The Sheriff in each county and in Baltimore City shall receive such salary or compensation and such expenses necessary to the conduct of his office as may be fixed by law; provided, that the salary of the Sheriff in Baltimore City shall be seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7,500.00) per year. All fees collected by the Sheriff shall be accounted for and paid to the Treasury of the several counties and of Baltimore City, respectively.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That said aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Maryland shall, at the next general election to be held in November, 1946, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, in pursuance of the directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, and at the said general election the vote on the said proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment," and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now provided by law, and immediately after said election due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against the said proposed amendment, as directed by said Fourteenth Article of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article.

Approved: April 27, 1945.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HERBERT R. O'CONOR, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, in pursuance of the direction contained in Section 1 of Article 14 of the Constitution of Maryland, do hereby order and direct that this proclamation containing a full, true and correct copy of the text of said Chapters 529, 659, 702 and 703 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1945, be published in at least two newspapers in each of the counties of the State where so many may be published and where not more than one may be published then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in the City of Baltimore, once a week for at least four weeks next preceding the general election to be held in the State of Maryland on Tuesday, the 5th day of November, 1946, at which election the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be submitted in form and manner prescribed by the General Assembly, to the legal and qualified voters of the State for their adoption or rejection.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF MARYLAND, DONE AT THE CITY OF ANNAPOLIS THIS 3rd DAY OF OCTOBER, IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD, ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SIX.

By the Governor:
HERBERT R. O'CONOR
EDWARD G. CHANEY
Secretary of State.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Bertha C. Bittinger vs. Franz C. Bittinger, No. 19692 Equity, in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree divorcing the plaintiff A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the defendant.

The Bill states that they were married on the 24th day of November, 1939, and that the defendant abandoned and deserted the plaintiff on the 2nd of March, 1945, and has declared his intention to live with her no longer, and that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months, and is deliberate and final, and the separation of the parties beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation; that there was one adopted child, namely, Victoria Edith Bittinger, aged three, and the plaintiff asks that the permanent custody of this child be awarded to her; that the plaintiff has been a resident of the State of Maryland for more than one year prior to the bringing of this action, and the defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and is not engaged in Active Military Service, and the plaintiff asks for an Order of Publication against the defendant and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 22nd. day of October, 1946, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, sitting in equity, ordered that the plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, once in each of four successive weeks, on or before the 24th day of November, 1946, give notice to the said absent defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, and warning him to appear in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 10th day of December, 1946, to show cause, if any he has, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Big Four To Decide Rubber Wage Boost

Although the URCLPWA will pearhead its drive for a 26 cent wage increase through the Big Four-Goodyear, Firestone, Goodrich and U. S. Rubber-other companies, including the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, will be notified Friday of the union's desire to reopen contracts for the purpose of adjusting wages, Ralph C. Beard, president of Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America.

Last March, wages of Kelly employes were increased in line with an agreement between the URCL-PWA and the Big Four and provision was made in the contract to reopen the contract in the event of a change in economic conditions and the ability of the companies to pay, union officials said.

Local 26 will meet Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the union hall to nominate officers, hear a report of the national convention and to hear an official report of the recent wage policy conference, Beard said.

A national policy to be followed by rayon division of the Textile Workers Union of America in regard to possible wage increase will be decided in Philadelphia this week.

William Boyd Coleman, president, and Joseph J. Barley, business manager of Local 1874, left Tuesday to meet with representatives of the General Textile Mill regarding vacations at the company's Lonaconing plant. They will be joined in Philadelphia at today's wage parley by Janet Castle, George A. Meyers, and Neil Toey, who left here yesterday.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Ridgeley Man Fined For Drunken Driving

Joseph A. Wolfe, Ridgeley, W. Va., paid fines totaling $112.20 yesterday morning when he was convicted, at a hearing before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew, of charges of drunken and reckless driving.

He was arrested on Route 40 Sunday by Trooper G. E. Coddington who testified Wolfe was weaving over the road. Magistrate Perdew said Wolfe admitted he had been drinking but was not drunk. Two other state policemen and a city officer, however, testified for the prosecution.

WONDERFUL TO HELP YOUR GALL BLADDER

Pep Up Lazy Bile Flow To Relieve CONSTIPATION!

Don't feel so good? Dull headaches, upset stomach, bad breath, coated tongue, lack of pep, mentally dull? This is often due to constipation when bile doesn't flow freely every day from your gall bladder into your intestines.

So take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a purely vegetable formula used for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for patients with sluggish bile and constipation.

Olive Tablets are simply wonderful to pep up bile secretion from the gall bladder into intestines to help digest fatty foods and give gentle yet thorough bowel movements. No griping. Follow label directions. 15c, 30c. All drugstores.

A Three Days' Cough is Your Danger Signal

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Ridgeley Man Fined For Drunken Driving

Joseph A. Wolfe, Ridgeley, W. Va., paid fines totaling $112.20 yesterday morning when he was convicted, at a hearing before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew, of charges of drunken and reckless driving.

He was arrested on Route 40 Sunday by Trooper G. E. Coddington who testified Wolfe was weaving over the road. Magistrate Perdew said Wolfe admitted he had been drinking but was not drunk. Two other state policemen and a city officer, however, testified for the prosecution.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25.—Jackie Coogan and Jackie Cooper, the two most famous boy stars, both of whom served in the recent war, have been contacted to play in "Kilroy Was Here". Jackie Cooper has accepted and it seems likely that "The Kid" will also say yes. Kilroy is a name dear to all the G. I.s.—Sid Luft, Lynn Bari's husband, was a pilot during the war, and Dick Hyland are producing the "Kilroy" movie, which should be interesting to all G. I.s who discussed this fictional character all over the world. Chalked up were such phrases as "Kilroy Slept here" "Kilroy Passed Through", and so forth. Surprising no one ever thought of using the name on the screen before.

A flash from England brings word that Sir Alex Korda has bought Elizabeth Goudge's new book "Middle Window". She is the gal who sold "Green Dolphin Street" to MGM for $250,000. Korda has cabled William Cameron Menzies to come to England to direct and produce it, but Menzies has two commitments to do first. If Alex stars David Niven in this story he can't go to England anyway until April, after he finishes "The Bishop's Wife" for Goldwyn. That would make it right for Bill. Why I think David may do this story is because it goes from 1936 back to the days of Bonnie Prince Charlie in the 18th century. David is scheduled to do the life of Bonnie Prince Charlie and Korda would hardly do two stories on the same subject.

By the time this appears in this column the doors of the David Selznick Studio will undoubtedly be open. The strike, of course, may be settled by that time. It looks very favorable but even if it isn't, Selznick, who cannot hope to hold Ann Todd or Sir Cedric Hardwicke unless work is started soon, will do what he can to get "The Paradine Case" under way. He has within the last few days signed Charles Laughton for the story by Robert Hichens, dealing with a celebrated English murder trial. Laughton will play the very stern judge and if you remember him in "Mutiny On the Bounty" you know he is the one who can do it.

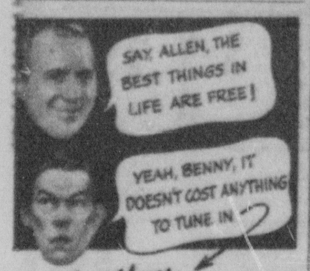

Sidney Chaplin, youngest son of Charlie Chaplin, is a very talented boy and eager for a fling at acting. He'll make his debut as a stage actor November 15 at the Circle, a non-profit theater, which is run by Maxine Andrews, of the Andrews Sisters, and her husband, Lou Levy. Young Sid, who was overseas just a few months ago, will be seen in "The Adding Machine", and those who watched him at rehearsals say he is excellent.

Chatter in Hollywood: The Joan Crawford-Greg Bautzer romance is no longer sizzling. True, they are friends, but it is not an exclusive arrangement. She's been out with Otto Preminger and other men friends while Greg has been in San Francisco. I believe, however, that Greg is still number one with Joan, but because of the many misunderstandings they have had, they have talked it over and decided he will take out other girls and she will go out with other men. How long this will last nobody knows.

Two years ago, at least, "Young Man With a Horn", Dorothy Baker's book, was being readied by Jules Furthman for Warners. Then something happened—the story didn't come out as expected, and we heard no more about it. Now, starting from scratch, Jerry Wald is having a complete rewrite done on the story, and adapting it from the book more literally. As soon as it is finished it will go into production. It's a very tragic story with a strong dramatic flavor.

Here's one gal who turned down a chance to return to the movies. Marian Nixon, who in her starring days was one of the cutest girls on the screen, had a birthday and her director husband, William Seiter, gave Marian an emerald ring. He said, "I've got another surprise. I've written a part in for you in Deanna Durbin's picture, 'I'll Be Yours' Here's the contract, put your name on the dotted line.'" Surprising as it sounds, Marian refused, telling Bill that she's perfectly happy being just a wife and mother.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random. Bette Davis received an avalanche of calls after the false report that she had fallen and was sick. She and her husband have left for their farm, Butternut, and her friends will be glad to know she's all right. . . . The government has condemned the Brideport flying field where Bob Mitchum figured in a crack up last week. . . . Olga San Juan and Bob Moon, the radio announcer, were a twosome at Ivy House. . . . Natalie Draper confirms that she will go to Juarez and get another divorce. She's already divorced in the California courts from Merrill Pye, MGM art director, but it takes a year for it to be final. . . . Ann Todd and Herbert Marshall entertained a party of six British newspaper correspondents at the Beverly Hills Club. . . . Steve Hanagan returns to New York after spending two weeks with Annie Sheridan, who is still his number one girl friend. . . . Natalie Schafer flies out to play in "The Other Love" for Charlie Einfield. Just as she flies in, her ex-husband, Louis Calhern, flies out. He's just finished a role in "Arch of Triumph" for Charlie. . . . There was a reunion when Jane Russell met Jack Buetel and Malcolm McTaggart at Ciro's the other evening. Jane and Jack have been good friends ever since they were in "The Outlaw." . . . Fred Brady is a generous rival. He gave a dinner at the Westside Tennis Club and invited his favorite girl friend, Yvonne De Carlo and her admirer, Robert Stack. . . . Niven Busch presented his wife, Teresa Wright, with a thoroughbred, which she is calling Percy—short for "Pursued", the title of her new movie. . . . Beverly Hills will soon have a $250,000 hitching post theater, where westerns will be shown. That's all today.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Girl Probably Hasn't Made Up Mind; Man Is Advised To Wait A While

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a young man of 23, and I go with a girl whom I love very much, and I think she loves me, too. I want her to marry me.

Now, since I asked her to marry me, she has been out on a couple of dates. Should I go out and have dates, too? I really don't want one, but I hate to see her go out. What shall I do? "HENRY."

Well, Henry, it doesn't look to me as though this girl had made up her mind yet whether or not she loves you enough to marry you.

You don't say what her answer was to your proposal. If she accepted it, you naturally would have a right to take it for granted that she was in love with you and liked to be with you as much as you like to be with her. On the other hand, if she declined your offer, or stalled on it, then there is no reason why you should feel that she ought to spend all her time with you.

As I see it, if your girl wishes to go out with other people, I wouldn't think she was wildly in love with you. In which case, I would suggest that you keep up your friendships with other girls, yourself. Perhaps, if she sees you paying attention to others, she will decide that she wants you for herself. In any event, it sounds as though it were all too indefinite yet for you to pin either yourself or her down. Wait a little while and just play along, and see what happens.

Always Best To Speak Out

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I go with a boy whom I love very much. He gave me his ring. We had a few arguments, but always made up right away.

He lives quite a way from where I live and I have heard that he goes out with other girls. When I heard this, I called him up and acted cold to him. He asked me what was wrong, but I told him nothing. I just didn't know what to tell him about having heard that he went out with other girls when we go steady, so I lost my temper and hung up. Now he thinks I am mad and hasn't come around for three weeks.

I love him very much and I want to know what I should do. It was foolish of me to hang up before telling him what was wrong.

"C. D."

If you realize that you did a foolish thing in holding out on your boy friend, when he asked you what was wrong, there is one way you can remedy the situation. That is, you can write him a note and tell him, quite frankly, what the trouble was.

You are quite right; it was very foolish, indeed, to get angry and hang up without telling him why you were angry. It was doubly foolish when all you were going on was a rumor that he goes out with other girls. Certainly it wasn't very fair of you to judge his conduct before you gave him a chance to explain things.

I think it is definitely up to you to make a new approach, apologize for your hasty conduct, and see if you can get things straightened out.

Bedford To Play Shade Township Eleven Tonight

Final Game On Schedule Is Changed From Friday To Thursday Night

BEDFORD, Pa., Oct. 30 — The Bedford High School-Shade Township football game will be played at Bedford tomorrow (Thursday) night instead of Friday as originally scheduled, Coach Fisher announced yesterday.

The Bedford coach says he is expecting an unusually hard game in the last contest of the season for Bedford as the Shade Township eleven is much heavier than the Bedford team. He also said that the visiting eleven will be at full strength, since being hit by injuries throughout the season.

Shade Township which has won three and lost four games this season uses the "T" formation almost entirely, the Bedford coach said tonight, but often shift into the single wing or Notre Dame box and run a variety of plays from those formations.

Seven seniors on the Bedford team will be playing their last high school game Thursday night, Coach Fisher said. They are Bruce Fisher, Jack Faust, Dan Budd, John Heacock, Clyde Shoemaker, Glenn Nee and Robert Clacomb.

Upsets Feature Closing Day Of Laurel Racing

Refugio And Monsoon Win Features As Favorites Are Beaten

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—Upsets marked the closing day features at Laurel Park today when Mrs. Charles E. Adams' Refugio and C. V. Whitney's Monsoon carried off first money in the Chevy Chase Steeplechase Handicap and the Queen Isabella Handicap.

The largest week-day crowd of the meeting, approximately 18,000 persons, turned out to witness the closing program of the 25-day meeting, and saw the favorites in both stake events finish third.

Calumet Farm's Good Blood, the odds-on favorite in the one mile and furlong Queen Isabella, pulled up lame as Monsoon hit the wire an easy winner by five lengths over Mrs. H. K. Haggerty's Rampart. Good Blood was another two and a half lengths in arrears in the field of six fillies and mares.

In the two-and-a-half mile Chevy Chase, Mrs. E. DuPont Weir's Burma Road, the 1 to 2 favorite, trailed during the entire race to finish last in a three-horse field.

Bayard Sharp's Lieut. Weil, winner of the Butler Steeplechase last Saturday, alternated in setting the pace with Refugio. The pair raced almost abreast in the final half mile, but upon clearing the last fence, Refugio drew out on the flat to score by four lengths.

Monsoon, undefeated now in three Laurel races, paid $7.20 for $2 and was timed in 1:53.4 on a slow track. She earned $8,050, and was piloted by Jockey Bobby Watson.

Charles Peoples had the mount on Refugio, which paid $9.40 straight while picking up $10,850 for Mrs. Adams. Refugio covered the two and a half miles in 5:21.1, lightly weighted at 135 pounds compared with Burma Road's 160 pound impost.

Negro Grid Star Has Fine Record

FORT BELVOIR, Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—Such football players as Army's Glenn Davis and Felix Blanchard, Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack and Penn's Skippy Minisi are good, too.

But around Fort Belvoir they'll take their own Calvin Martin, flashy 19-year-old, 6 foot one, 185-pound negro back from Indiana University.

Belvoir, alias Calvin Martin, beat Fort Myer 66-0 Saturday.

Martin touched the ball on offense exactly eight times.

Results: six touchdowns.

He ran with ball five times, and on four of these occasions he went all the way on touchdown dashes of 59, 48, 43 and 21 yards. The other time Martin apparently grew careless. He made only eight yards.

He tried three passes. Two were good for touchdowns, of 31 and 21 yards. The third was a comparative failure, complete for 11 yards.

Naturally Martin isn't quite this good in every game. But in five Fort Belvoir games he has picked up 977 yards with his running and passing. He has scored seven touchdowns, and passed for seven more.

And in the only game which Fort Belvoir has lost, 8-0 to Camp Lee, Martin was hurt, and played less than a quarter.

Martin, who lives in Evansville, Ind., was only a third stringer on Indiana's Big Nine champions last year.

But he was just a freshman, and his coach, Myron "Stretch" Everett, figures he has developed amazingly since then.

"He's a whirlwind now," Everett told a reporter, "and here's the best part of it: when he gets out of the Army, he still has three years of eligibility left."

LaSalle And Allegany Jayvees Clash Today

The LaSalle High Jayvees will open their football season this afternoon at 4 o'clock when they meet the Allegany High Jayvees at Campobello. The LaSalle Jayvees also have contests scheduled with Fort Hill, Ridgeley and West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney.

Col. Geldie Gardner Sets Speed Record

OSTEND, Belgium, Oct. 30 (AP)—Colonel Geldie Gardner, British motor racing driver, today established what is believed to be a new world speed record for cars of 750 cubic centimeters attaining a speed of 150.098 miles per hour over a distance of one kilometre.

The previous record was 140.50 miles per hour set up by Kohlrausch in 1936 on the Frankfurt-Heidelberg Autobahn.

"Brute" Williams Is Leading Pass Catcher In College

University Of Florida End Takes 23 Passes For Total Of 433 Yards

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP) — Although he plays on a team that hasn't won a game all season, Brought (Brute) Williams of the University of Florida is the No. 1 pass catcher among all the college football players in the nation.

The six-foot three-inch 195-pound end has been on the receiving end of 23 successful forward passes which gained a total of 433 yards in losses to Mississippi, Tulane, Vanderbilt, Miami and North Carolina, statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau showed today.

Not only has Williams covered nearly twice as much ground on his catches as his closest pursuer, but if he maintains the pace he set for himself in the North Carolina game last Saturday he would establish a ned collegiate record.

Stanton Holds Record

The present record was set in 1941 by Harry Stanton of Arizona, who caught 50 passes covering a total of 828 yards. That wiped out the previous high mark set by Jim Benton of Arkansas in 1937 when he caught 47 for 754 yards, still the second best performance in the bureau's history. Reid Moseley of Georgia had the third best achievement of its kind last year when he caught 31 for 662 yards.

Against North Carolina, Williams snagged eight passes which were good for 166 yards to recapture the lead in this department from Neill Armstrong of Oklahoma A. and M. The statistics bureau ranks the pass receivers on the number of catches, rather than on yardage.

Williams, one of the few experienced members of the Florida squad, returned to the gridiron this year after serving as an army sergeant in Europe, where he won five battle stars. The 22-year-old former Tampa High School star played at Florida in 1941 and 1942.

Louie Mihajlovich of Indiana, who caught six passes against Nebraska, jumped from eighth to second place among the nation's leaders with 19 catches for a total of 226 yards. Armstrong slipped into a third-place tie with Dean Laun of Iowa state, each with 18 catches for 255 yards.

Wendt Leading Punter

Harry Gilmer of Alabama replaced George Clark of Duke as the number one safety man and Louis Viau of the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy took over the lead in running back kickoffs from Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A. and M.

Gilmer has returned 22 punts 277 yards. Clark, who had only one chance to catch a punt against Army and returned it only nine yards, has covered 260 yards on 12 returns to be second. Ernie Johnson of ULCA is third with 260 yards on 15 punt runbacks.

Viau has carried eight kickoffs back a total of 229 yards, compared with Fenimore 213 yards on the same number of returns. Virgin Turner of North Carolina state is third in this department with 208 yards on four kickoff returns.

Fred Wendt of Texas Mines succeeded Art Pollard of Arizona as the leading punter with an average of 43.8 yards on 20 kicks, moving up from six place as Pollard skidded out of the picture based on a minimum of 15 punts.

MIDGET LEAGUE WILL TRY TO REORGANIZE AT MEETING TONIGHT

An effort to reorganize the Midget Basketball League, which has been inactive since the 1944-45 season, will be made at a meeting tonight.

Harold Naughton, president of the circuit, announced last night that a reorganization session will be held at his office in the Liberty Trust Building tonight at 7:30. All clubs interested in the loop should have representatives at this meeting, Naughton said.

It is planned to have games Wednesday evenings and Sunday afternoons on the SS. Peter and Paul School court.

Williams Chosen Lineman Of Week In A. P. Survey

Courageous Rice Athlete Played Well Despite Ankle, Wrist Injury

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—The Southwest's hero of the hour and the Associated Press' lineman of the week is Windell Williams, a courageous athlete from Rice Institute of Houston, Tex.

Williams, an end, injured his ankle in pre-game practice for the important game with the high-riding Texas Longhorns. This was the contest Rice wanted to win and this was the game for which the Owls' wingman had been preparing himself all season.

It didn't look like he was going to make it. Long hours were spent with the team's trainer Wednesday, Thursday and Friday but by game-time last Saturday Williams was willing, ready and able to play part of the game—on offense only.

It's football history now how he snared two passes for touchdowns that sent the Longhorns down to their first defeat of the year, 18-13. After catching the first scoring aerial he ran into a fence and injured his wrist. He was taken out of the game.

After fidgeting on the bench a while, he came back and scored his second touchdown. That was when Texas rooters wished he had "stood in bed."

ENDS—Williams, Rice. Wilson, Southern Methodist. McClurkin, Auburn. Sellers, Georgia. Poole, Army. Steckroth, William and Mary. Zatkoff, Illinois. Hagen, Washington. Edwards, Georgia.

TACKLES—Connor, Notre Dame. Davis, Georgia Tech. Stautzenberger, Texas Aggies. Ferrero, Southern California. Ed Champagne, Louisiana State. Edwards, Texas Christian. Frizzell, Tulsa. Hilkene, Michigan. Boensch, Stanford. Greene, Tulsa.

GUARDS — Wright, Southern Methodist. Leonetti, Wake Forest. Cooke, Virginia Tech. Royston, Wake Forest.

CENTERS — Bednarik, Pennsylvania. Duke, Georgia Tech. Meeks, South Carolina.

New Basketball Loop Organized

Organization of an independent basketball league was effected at the Amvets home here last night with the election of C. Van Roby, physical director at Central YMCA, as president and Thomas Gilchrist as secretary-treasurer. A vice president will be named later.

Selection of a name for the new loop will be decided at another meeting, set for 8 p. m. next Tuesday at the Amvets home. At that time, Roby said, representatives of all teams interested in playing in the circuit should be prepared to state whether or not their team has a floor available and if proper equipment is on hand.

Other matters to be decided next Tuesday include the date for opening of the season and dates on which entrance fees and rosters must be turned in.

The entrance fee was set at $50. Any team forfeiting a game will be fined $25. It was decided that no more than two players from any of the local professional teams will be allowed to play on any one team in the league.

Benjamin Franklin forecast the use of parachute troops.

Show Moves To Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 30—Baltimore will have two of sport's most distinguished visitors this weekend. It is quite possible you have heard of both. Their names are Stymie and Notre Dame.

One happens to be a race horse, the other a football team. Stymie, the race horse, hopes to increase his earnings to $541,285 by late Friday afternoon, which puts him within easy striking distance of Whirlaway's all-time financial total.

Notre Dame on Saturday is quite confident of getting by a heavily battered Navy team to move against Army unbeaten just a week later on.

The odds on Notre Dame to beat Navy are much safer than the odds on Stymie to win the Pimlico Special, good as Stymie is. There is only one Stymie running in the Special, whereas there are 30 or 40 fine Notre Dame players who will gang up against an out-classed Navy squad on Saturday. With the withdrawal of Lucky Draw and Armed, the Calumet and the Widener winners, Al Vanderbilt's worthy Pimlico Special has been covered by something approaching a combined fog and mist. But the Special has carried more than its share of thrills in the past, and the same thing can happen again, with the list on hand ready to move against the horse which seems destined to break Whirlaway's money record.

After all, Whirlaway lost over 20 races and Stymie has lost his share. As Hirsch Jacobs, his trainer says, "when Stymie is good, he is better than good. But he isn't always good. He is still a horse and can have his off days. The big thing about Stymie is that he is so good on his good days. That's what counts."

Horsemen I have talked to figure Stymie this way: "He is always good—but he is better when he has to follow a fast pace where he can cut down the leaders through the stretch. A slow pace throws him back. Stymie is at his best killing off tired sprinters. All he wants is a shot at that stretch. He isn't a Man o' War, a Count Fleet or a Whirlaway. But he is still Stymie, which is something—and usually it is enough. He's tough, game, well conditioned, durable, consistent and he can run. Stymie has been beaten often and he can be beaten again. But it will take good running to head him off. He's as tough a horse as we've seen in a long time, and in Hirsch Jacobs he has one of the best trainers the track ever knew, as far as condition is concerned."

Stymie will have plenty to beat. The 1946 Pimlico Special will be no walkover.

And Then—Notre Dame

After Stymie has had his shot at the Pimlico Special and the added $25,000 on Friday, Notre Dame moves in on Saturday against Tom Hamilton's Navy squad.

There are possibly one or two men on the Navy team who could make Notre Dame's first line strength. We wouldn't know who they are. Neither would Tom Hamilton or Frank Leahy.

It was a bit ironical to check back to last Saturday's games. Here is what we heard or read: "Halfback Walmsley is playing brilliantly for Rice against Texas this afternoon—"; "Halfback Ellsworth of Texas is having one of his best days—"; "Halfback Minisi of Pennsylvania is a thorn in Navy's side, the best back on the field—"; "Arkansas is banking heavily on Clyde Scott when ready—"; "Tulane's fine guard, Deramee, is near his peak."

These were all Navy football players only a short time ago, scattered to the unnumbered winds while Penn's first team was galloping up and down the field through Navy's Blue and Gold.

With the exception of McWilliams, Army's players stuck with Army, barring only Tex Coulter, who flunked out. It was Navy that caught the poisoned trident, that took the rap.

A year from now, Army will be in Navy's place, unable to meet the healthy inducements and the easier life offered by college teams.

We have heard pretty directly of pay that ranges from $2,000 to $15,000 for certain college stars, which so far, no one can prove. But we have enough testimony to know that a good part of this is true, with no section of the country able to offer a clean slate. It is a pretty sad, sorry and morbid state of affairs that will have to be changed in a hurry if we are to have much more college football, that isn't to be listed as pro football.

But in the meanwhile, Notre Dame comes to Baltimore with one of her best teams—the one team left that can stand against Army on even terms. Navy spirit, plus a few good men, should at least give a better line on what Notre Dame has to offer. Always remembering that Notre Dame's feeling towards Navy is entirely different from Notre Dame's attitude towards Army. You get the idea.

Hertz Sues To Bar Topping From Using Name Of "Yankees"

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Decision was reserved today by State Supreme Court Justice Caroll G. Walter today on a suit by Sports Promoter Douglas G. Hertz to restrain the New York Yankees pro football team of the All-America Conference from using that name "or any variation of said name containing 'Yanks' or 'Yankees'."

Through his attorneys, Hertz said that he had a prior claim to that title because on Dec. 10, 1940 he bought a controlling interest in the Yankee Football Exhibition Corp. which was incorporated in 1937, and operated a pro football eleven known as the New York Yankees football team.

Hertz added that he had spent more than $100,000 to build up the team for the 1941 grid campaign but suspended further promotion with the start of the war.

He charged that Dan Topping, head of the New York Yankees Football Club, Inc., selected the name "for the purpose of appropriating the good will attached to said name" and that he (Hertz) was entitled to a restraining order.

New Formations Will Be Given By Hyndman Band

High School Musicians Have Real Treat In Store For Fans Here

A larger and improved band will greet Cumberland and LaSalle football fans here Friday evening when LaSalle plays St. Francis Prep, of Spring Grove, Pa. Hyndman High School and the community have worked hard to place this organization before the public. Since the middle of May the band has traveled over 1,200 miles parading and playing concerts. Many of the places the band appeared were by request.

The band is prepared to put on a show made up of all the formations and maneuvers it did on many of its parade appearances. There will be some changes necessary due to the length of the football field. Most of the formations performed will be made during the playing of a March. The Drum Major is required to count the number of steps between whistles and the band members have that certain number of steps to get in the new position in time for the next whistle.

The fans will notice that most of the formations are different from formations of any other marching group. Two letter formations will be made while marching, as will two street formations, together with two specialty stunts to well known selections, one a recently popular number.

Some drilling will be done previous to the game with the playing of the National Anthem just prior to the kickoff. During the game when time is out the band and twirlers will perform, with the Drum Major and Head Majorette putting on a twirling act unequaled in this section. This will take place in the center of the field at half time, so all specators will be able to view their performances.

The band welcomes the opportunity to appear in Cumberland and hopes that Friday evening's performance will be even better than those on previous occasions with an additional touch of finesse.

Tackle Gains Weight

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP) — The unseasonable heat has caused many football players to lose weight this season—but not so Bernie Gallagher, tackle for the University of Pennsylvania.

The Okinawa veteran started off the season at 197 pounds. In seven weeks, he has upped his weight 22 pounds.

Jockey Nick Wall Struggles To Live

SAN MATEO, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP)—His slight frame crushed in a fall from his mount at Bay Meadows yesterday, 102-pound Jockey Nick Wall held his own today in his struggle to live.

Wall, who suffered 12 broken ribs and a dangerous spinal injury, was given a slight chance to recover by physicians at Mills Memorial Hospital. But he may never ride again.

Knocked unconscious in his spill, Wall regained his senses during the night, but otherwise his condition was unchanged.

Potomac State Is Expecting Hard Game Saturday

Contest With Glenville Will Mark 12th Meeting Of The Teams

KEYSER, W. Va., Oct. 30—This Saturday's clash between the Potomac State Catamounts and the Glenville State Pioneers will mark the 12th time that the two schools have met in a series which began back in 1926. Potomac State won that year 9-7. After losing in 1927 the Hilltoppers won 9-6 in 1928. Except for two ties the Pioneers have taken all games since that time. The biggest score rolled up by Glenville was 38-7 in 1931.

Coach Dana "Horse" Lough has had the Glenville outfit scouted in several games this year and after looking over reports on these contests he said, "I expect this to be a very hard game. They've got a tough team." From a man whose team has won six games in a row and has been rated among the top 35-football teams in the United States for two consecutive weeks, this statement carries a lot of weight.

Coach Carlos Ratliff of Glenville is bringing a squad of 39 players with him for the game.

Lough said today that Neal Baisi will not play in the Glenville game for the Cats. Baisi suffered a rib injury against the Salem Tigers two weeks ago and has not taken part in any of the Cats' scrimmages this week.

The game Saturday begins at 2 o'clock as do the games against the California State Teachers eleven and West Liberty College on November 9 and 16.

Yankee Manager To Be Named By MacPhail Tuesday

Dressen, Harris, Frisch And Durocher Said To Be In Running

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Baseball's most celebrated mystery since Judge Landis' successor was named will be solved Tuesday when Larry MacPhail concludes the great off-season guessing contest by announcing the 1947 manager of the New York Yankees.

After trotting various candidates before the public in the guise of executives, coaches and just plain visitors, MacPhail at last is ready to make his selection . . . positively.

Chuck Dressen, Bucky Harris, Frankie Frisch and even Leo "I'll stay in Brooklyn 'till the day I die" Durocher are reported in the running although there is no guarantee that any of them will get the job. There is only one thing for sure. It will not be one of those meek "hide - my - light - under-a-bushel-basket" characters.

Dressen's name leads all the rest in most of the crystal-gazing because he appears to have the temperament that is necessary to cope with the MacPhail moods. Furthermore, Charley has the record to back him up for he actually did manage for MacPhail in Cincinnati when Larry was making the world safe for night baseball.

As has been highly publicized the Dressen case has many angles, not the least of which is Branch Rickey's assertion that he would release him from a verbal agreement to stay in Brooklyn only if he is assured that the Dodger coach will become a manager.

Four Players Released By The Red Sox

BOSTON, Oct. 30—(AP)—Four of the American League Champion Red Sox were released as players tonight but retained in the Boston organization.

They are the veteran relief hurlers Mike Ryba and Mace Brown, utility infielder Tommy Carey, who was made a coach in midseason, and Charlie (Broadway) Wagner, right handed pitcher who rejoined the club this past season after entering the Navy in 1942. Carey, too, served in Uncle Sam's Navy for three years.

Wagner will move into the Sox front office as assistant to farm Director George Toporcer.

The other three will be assigned posts in the Sox farm system to develop young players.

Final Game On Schedule Is Changed From Friday To Thursday Night

BEDFORD, Pa., Oct. 30 — The Bedford High School-Shade Township football game will be played at Bedford tomorrow (Thursday) night instead of Friday as originally scheduled, Coach Fisher announced yesterday.

The Bedford coach says he is expecting an unusually hard game in the last contest of the season for Bedford as the Shade Township eleven is much heavier than the Bedford team. He also said that the visiting eleven will be at full strength, since being hit by injuries throughout the season.

Shade Township which has won three and lost four games this season uses the "T" formation almost entirely, the Bedford coach said tonight, but often shift into the single wing or Notre Dame box and run a variety of plays from those formations.

Seven seniors on the Bedford team will be playing their last high school game Thursday night, Coach Fisher said. They are Bruce Fisher, Jack Faust, Dan Budd, John Heacock, Clyde Shoemaker, Glenn Nee and Robert Claecmb.

Refugio And Monsoon Win Features As Favorites Are Beaten

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—Upsets marked the closing day features at Laurel Park today when Mrs. Charles E. Adams' Refugio and C. V. Whitney's Monsoon carried off first money in the Chevy Chase Steeplechase Handicap and the Queen Isabella Handicap.

The largest week-day crowd of the meeting, approximately 18,000 persons, turned out to witness the closing program of the 25-day meeting, and saw the favorites in both stake events finish third.

Calumet Farm's Good Blood, the odds-on favorite in the one mile and furlong Queen Isabella, pulled up lame as Monsoon hit the wire an easy winner by five lengths over Mrs. H. K. Haggerty's Rampart. Good Blood was another two and a half lengths in arrears in the field of six fillies and mares.

In the two-and-a-half mile Chevy Chase, Mrs. E. DuPont Weir's Burma Road, the 1 to 2 favorite, trailed during the entire race to finish last in a three-horse field.

Bayard Sharp's Lieut. Weil, winner of the Butler Steeplechase last Saturday, alternated in setting the pace with Refugio. The pair raced almost abreast in the final half mile, but upon clearing the last fence, Refugio drew out on the flat to score by four lengths.

Monsoon, undefeated now in three Laurel races, paid $7.20 for $2 and was timed in 1:53.4 on a slow track. She earned $8,050, and was piloted by Jockey Bobby Watson.

Charles Peoples had the mount on Refugio, which paid $9.40 straight while picking up $10,850 for Mrs. Adams. Refugio covered the two and a half miles in 5:21.1, lightly weighted at 135 pounds compared with Burma Road's 160 pound impost.

Negro Grid Star Has Fine Record

FORT BELVOIR, Va., Oct. 30 (AP)—Such football players as Army's Glenn Davis and Felix Blanchard, Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack and Penn's Skippy Minisi are good, too.

But around Fort Belvoir they'll take their own Calvin Martin, flashy 19-year-old, 6 foot one, 185-pound negro back from Indiana University.

Belvoir, alias Calvin Martin, beat Fort Myer 66-0 Saturday.

Martin touched the ball on offense exactly eight times.

Results: six touchdowns.

He ran with ball five times, and on four of these occasions he went all the way on touchdown dashes of 59, 48, 42 and 21 yards. The other time Martin apparently grew careless. He made only eight yards.

He tried three passes. Two were good for touchdowns, of 31 and 21 yards. The third was a comparative failure, complete for 11 yards.

Naturally Martin isn't quite this good in every game. But in five Fort Belvoir games he has picked up 977 yards with his running and passing. He has scored seven touchdowns, and passed for seven more.

And in the only game which Fort Belvoir has lost, 8-0 to Camp Lee, Martin was hurt, and played less than a quarter.

Martin, who lives in Evansville, Ind., was only a third stringer on Indiana's Big Nine champions last year.

But he was just a freshman, and his coach, Myron "Stretch" Everett, figures he has developed amazingly since then.

"He's a whirlwind now," Everett told a reporter, "and here's the best part of it: when he gets out of the Army, he still has three years of eligibility left."

LaSalle And Allegany Jayvees Clash Today

The LaSalle High Jayvees will open their football season this afternoon at 4 o'clock when they meet the Allegany High Jayvees at Campobello. The LaSalle Jayvees also have contests scheduled with Fort Hill, Ridgeley and West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney.

Col. Geldie Gardner Sets Speed Record

OSTEND, Belgium, Oct. 30 (AP)—Colonel Geldie Gardner, British motor racing driver, today established what is believed to be a new world speed record for cars of 756 cubic centimeters attaining a speed of 158.098 miles per hour over a distance of one kilometre.

The previous record was 140.50 miles per hour set up by Kohlrausch in 1936 on the Frankfurt-Heidelberg Autobahn.

"Brute" Williams Is Leading Pass Catcher In College

University Of Florida End Takes 23 Passes For Total Of 433 Yards

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP) — Although he plays on a team that hasn't won a game all season, Brought (Brute) Williams of the University of Florida is the No. 1 pass catcher among all the college football players in the nation.

The six-foot three-inch 195-pound end has been on the receiving end of 23 successful forward passes which gained a total of 433 yards in losses to Mississippi, Tulane, Vanderbilt, Miami and North Carolina, statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic bureau showed today.

Not only has Williams covered nearly twice as much ground on his catches as his closest pursuer, but if he maintains the pace he set for himself in the North Carolina game last Saturday he would establish a ned collegiate record.

Stanton Holds Record

The present record was set in 1941 by Harry Stanton of Arizona, who caught 50 passes covering a total of 828 yards. That wiped out the previous high mark set by Jim Benton of Arkansas in 1937 when he caught 47 for 754 yards, still the second best performance in the bureau's history. Reid Moseley of Georgia had the third best achievement of its kind last year when he caught 31 for 662 yards.

Against North Carolina, Williams snagged eight passes which were good for 166 yards to recapture the lead in this department from Neill Armstrong of Oklahoma A. and M. The statistics bureau ranks the pass receivers on the number of catches, rather than on yardage.

Williams, one of the few experienced members of the Florida squad, returned to the gridiron this year after serving as an army sergeant in Europe, where he won five battle stars. The 23-year-old former Tampa High School star played at Florida in 1941 and 1942.

Louie Mihajlovich of Indiana, who caught six passes against Nebraska, jumped from eighth to second place among the nation's leaders with 19 catches for a total of 226 yards. Armstrong slipped into a third-place tie with Dean Laun of Iowa state, each with 18 catches for 255 yards.

Wendt Leading Punter

Harry Gilmer of Alabama replaced George Clark of Duke as the number one safety man and Louis Viau of the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy took over the lead in running back kickoffs from Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A. and M.

Gilmer has returned 22 punts 277 yards. Clark, who had only one chance to catch a punt against Army and returned it only nine yards, has covered 260 yards on 12 returns to be second. Ernie Johnson of ULCA is third with 260 yards on 15 punt runbacks.

Viau has carried eight kickoffs back a total of 229 yards, compared with Fenimore 213 yards on the same number of returns. Virgin Turner of North Carolina state is third in this department with 204 yards on four kickoff returns.

Fred Wendt of Texas Mines succeeded Art Pollard of Arizona as the leading punter with an average of 43.8 yards on 20 kicks, moving up from six place as Pollard skidded out of the picture based on a minimum of 15 punts.

MIDGET LEAGUE WILL TRY TO REORGANIZE AT MEETING TONIGHT

An effort to reorganize the Midget Basketball League, which has been inactive since the 1944-45 season, will be made at a meeting tonight.

Harold Naughton, president of the circuit, announced last night that a reorganization session will be held at his office in the Liberty Trust Building tonight at 7:30. All clubs interested in the loop should have representatives at this meeting, Naughton said.

It is planned to have games Wednesday evenings and Sunday afternoons on the SS. Peter and Paul School court.

Williams Chosen Lineman Of Week In A. P. Survey

Courageous Rice Athlete Played Well Despite Ankle, Wrist Injury

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—(AP)—The Southwest's hero of the hour and the Associated Press' lineman of the week is Windell Williams, a courageous athlete from Rice Institute of Houston, Tex.

Williams, an end, injured his ankle in pre-game practice for the important game with the high-riding Texas Longhorns. This was the contest Rice wanted to win and this was the game for which the Owls' wingman had been preparing himself all season.

It didn't look like he was going to make it. Long hours were spent with the team's trainer Wednesday, Thursday and Friday but by game-time last Saturday Williams was willing, ready and able to play part of the game—on offense only.

It's football history now how he snared two passes for touchdowns that sent the Longhorns down to their first defeat of the year, 18-13. After catching the first scoring aerial he ran into a fence and injured his wrist. He was taken out of the game.

After fidgeting on the bench a while, he came back and scored his second touchdown. That was when Texas rooters wished he had "stood in bed."

ENDS—Williams, Rice. Wilson, Southern Methodist. McClurkin, Auburn. Sellers, Georgia. Poole, Army. Steckroth, William and Mary. Zatkoff, Illinois. Hagen, Washington. Edwards, Georgia.

TACKLES—Connor, Notre Dame. Davis, Georgia Tech. Stautzenberger, Texas Aggies. Ferrero, Southern California. Ed Champagne, Louisiana State. Edwards, Texas Christian. Frizzell, Tulsa. Hilkene, Michigan. Boensch, Stanford. Greene, Tulsa.

GUARDS — Wright, Southern Methodist. Leonetti, Wake Forest. Cooke, Virginia Tech. Royston, Wake Forest.

New Basketball Loop Organized

Organization of an independent basketball league was effected at the Amvets home here last night with the election of C. Van Roby, physical director at Central YMCA, as president and Thomas Gilchrist as secretary-treasurer. A vice president will be named later.

Selection of a name for the new loop will be decided at another meeting, set for 8 p. m. next Tuesday at the Amvets home. At that time, Roby said, representatives of all teams interested in playing in the circuit should be prepared to state whether or not their team has a floor available and if proper equipment is on hand.

Other matters to be decided next Tuesday include the date for opening of the season and dates on which entrance fees and rosters must be turned in.

The entrance fee was set at $50. Any team forfeiting a game will be fined $25. It was decided that no more than two players from any of the local professional teams will be allowed to play on any one team in the league.

Benjamin Franklin forecast the use of parachute troops.

Show Moves To Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 30—Baltimore will have two of sport's most distinguished visitors this weekend. It is quite possible you have heard of both. Their names are Stymie and Notre Dame.

One happens to be a race horse, the other a football team. Stymie, the race horse, hopes to increase his earnings to $541,285 by late Friday afternoon, which puts him within easy striking distance of Whirlaway's all-time financial total.

Notre Dame on Saturday is quite confident of getting by a heavily battered Navy team to move against Army unbeaten just a week later on.

The odds on Notre Dame to beat Navy are much safer than the odds on Stymie to win the Pimlico Special, good as Stymie is. There is only one Stymie running in the Special, whereas there are 30 or 40 fine Notre Dame players who will gang up against an out-classed Navy squad on Saturday. During the game when time is out the band and twirlers will perform, with the Drum Major and Head Majorette putting on a twirling act unequalled in this section. This will take place in the center of the field at half time, so all specators will be able to view their performances.

The band welcomes the opportunity to appear in Cumberland and hopes that Friday evening's performance will be even better than those on previous occasions with an additional touch of finesse.

Tackle Gains Weight

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP) — The unseasonable heat has caused many football players to lose weight this season—but not so Bernie Gallagher, tackle for the University of Pennsylvania.

The Okinawa veteran started off the season at 197 pounds. In seven weeks, he has upped his weight 22 pounds.

Jockey Nick Wall Struggles To Live

SAN MATEO, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP)—His slight frame crushed in a fall from his mount at Bay Meadows yesterday, 102-pound Jockey Nick Wall held his own todya in his struggle to live.

Wall, who suffered 12 broken ribs and a dangerous spinal injury, was given a slight chance to recover by physicians at Mills Memorial Hospital. But he may never ride again.

Potomac State Is Expecting Hard Game Saturday

Contest With Glenville Will Mark 12th Meeting Of The Teams

KEYSER, W. Va., Oct. 30—This Saturday's clash between the Potomac State Catamounts and the Glenville State Pioneers will mark the 12th time that the two schools have met in a series which began back in 1926. Potomac State won that year 9-7. After losing in 1927 the Hilltoppers won 9-6 in 1928. Except for two ties the Pioneers have taken all games since that time. The biggest score rolled up by Glenville was 38-7 in 1931.

Coach Dana "Horse" Lough has had the Glenville outfit scouted in several games this year and after looking over reports on these contests he said, "I expect this to be a very hard game. They've got a tough team." From a man whose team has won six games in a row and has been rated among the top 35-football teams in the United States for two consecutive weeks, this statement carries a lot of weight.

Coach Carlos Ratliff of Glenville is bringing a squad of 39 players with him for the game.

Lough said today that Neal Baisi will not play in the Glenville game for the Cats. Baisi suffered a rib injury against the Salem Tigers two weeks ago and has not taken part in any of the Cats' scrimmages this week.

The game Saturday begins at 2 o'clock as do the games against the California State Teachers eleven and West Liberty College on November 9 and 16.

Dressen, Harris, Frisch And Durocher Said To Be In Running

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Baseball's most celebrated mystery since Judge Landis' successor was named will be solved Tuesday when Larry MacPhail concludes the great off-season guessing contest by announcing the 1947 manager of the New York Yankees.

After trotting various candidates before the public in the guise of executives, coaches and just plain visitors, MacPhail at last is ready to make his selection . . . positively.

Chuck Dressen, Bucky Harris, Frankie Frisch and even Leo "I'll stay in Brooklyn 'till the day I die" Durocher are reported in the running although there is no guarantee that any of them will get the job. There is only one thing for sure. It will not be one of those meek "hide - my - light - under-a-bushel-basket" characters.

Dressen's name leads all the rest in most of the crystal-gazing because he appears to have the temperament that is necessary to cope with the MacPhail moods. Furthermore, Charley has the record to back him up for he actually did manage for MacPhail in Cincinnati when Larry was making the world safe for night baseball.

As has been highly publicized the Dressen case has many angles, not the least of which is Branch Rickey's assertion that he would release him from a verbal agreement to stay in Brooklyn only if he is assured that the Dodger coach will become a manager.

Four Players Released By The Red Sox

BOSTON, Oct. 30—(AP)—Four of the American League Champion Red Sox were released as players tonight but retained in the Boston organization.

They are the veteran relief hurlers Mike Ryba and Mace Brown, utility infielder Tommy Carey, who was made a coach in midseason, and Charlie (Broadway) Wagner, right handed pitcher who rejoined the club this past season after entering the Navy in 1942. Carey, too, served in Uncle Sam's Navy for three years.

Wagner will move into the Sox front office as assistant to farm Director George Toporcer.

The other three will be assigned posts in the Sox farm system to develop young players.

Assault Is Entered In Pimlico Special Friday

Will Challenge Stymie And Four Other Star Performers In Winner Take All Race

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—Assault, from Richard J. Kleberg's King Ranch in Texas, is coming back to old hilltop Friday for another crack at gold and glory in the Pimlico Special.

Previously listed as a doubtful starter in the sporting winner-take-all $25,000 mile and three sixteenths classic, Assault was due on the grounds today from New York to challenge money-bags Stymie and four other of the year's star turf performers.

It will be the first time Assault has appeared in Maryland since May, when he galloped off with the Preakness—the second jewel in racing's coveted triple crown. The up-and-down three-year-old sandwiched the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont around the Preakness to become the seventh horse to grab the triple crown.

He'll have some stern competition again this time, and from another Texas-bred, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacob's Stymie, outstanding five-year-old handicap performer.

Brown Hotel Stable announced Seven Hearts definitely was out of the Special, which is an affair to which you get invited, and just don't crash the gate with an entry fee. Seven Hearts injured an off hind leg in the Trenton Handicap last Saturday at Garden State.

Plan Tournament

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP)—The books were opened today for first entries in the National YMCA Basketball Tournament with officials pointing to a banner postwar resumption of the event which attracts scores of teams from a number of states.

J. M. Good, chairman of the National YMCA Basketball Committee, said the site of the tourney to be held in the latter part of March will be selected later. Pittsburgh is being mentioned as a likely place, he added.

Homecoming Game

WESTMINSTER, Md., Oct. 30—(AP)—Western Maryland College will play its first homecoming football game since 1943 on Saturday when Hampden-Sydney College from Virginia makes its initial visit to Hoffa Field.

The visitors will attempt to be the first team ever to win a homecoming game from the Terrors, who will be favored on past performances. The teams were scheduled to meet in 1943, but war intervened.

Tickets Now On Sale For Grid "Twin-Bill"

Tickets for Friday night's "doubleheader" at the Fort Hill Stadium are now on sale at five places in Cumberland, it was announced last night by LaSalle High officials.

The gates will open at 6:15 and at 6:45, St. Mary's and St. Patrick's Catholic Youth Organization elevens sponsored by the Knights of Columbus will collide. Quarters will be limited to eight minutes with John Blough, the referee, Chick Snider, the umpire and Ray Swach, the head linesman.

At 8 o'clock, the LaSalle High Explorers will engage St. Francis Prep. At halftime, the Hyndman (Pa.) High band under the direction of J. Elwood Miller will entertain the spectators.

Tickets for the twin-bill are on sale at the K. of C., Wilson Hardware, Vogue Bar, Centre Street Sports Store and LaSalle High.

Would Prohibit Sale

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 31—(AP)—Thomas S. Bohne, of West Palm Beach, Fla., identified as a stockholder and former secretary of the late E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour Stock Farm Company, brought suit here today to prevent the pending sale of the 1,291 acre Fayette County farm.

Bohne petitioned Federal District Court for an order setting aside the option for sale of the property for $2,681,545 to a "syndicate" of Greentree Stud, Inc., New York; King Ranch, Texas, and Ogden Phipps, New York.

Bohne contended in his petition that the price was not fair.

Will Challenge Stymie And Four Other Star Performers In Winner Take All Race

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—Assault, from Richard J. Kleberg's King Ranch in Texas, is coming back to old hilltop Friday for another crack at gold and glory in the Pimlico Special.

Previously listed as a doubtful starter in the sporting winner-take-all $25,000 mile and three sixteenths classic, Assault was due on the grounds today from New York to challenge money-bags Stymie and four other of the year's star turf performers.

It will be the first time Assault has appeared in Maryland since May, when he galloped off with the Preakness—the second jewel in racing's coveted triple crown. The up-and-down three-year-old sandwiched the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont around the Preakness to become the seventh horse to grab the triple crown.

He'll have some stern competition again this time, and from another Texas-bred, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacob's Stymie, outstanding five-year-old handicap performer.

Brown Hotel Stable announced Seven Hearts definitely was out of the Special, which is an affair to which you get invited, and just don't crash the gate with an entry fee. Seven Hearts injured an off hind leg in the Trenton Handicap last Saturday at Garden State.

Plan Tournament

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP)—The books were opened today for first entries in the National YMCA Basketball Tournament with officials pointing to a banner postwar resumption of the event which attracts scores of teams from a number of states.

J. M. Good, chairman of the National YMCA Basketball Committee, said the site of the tourney to be held in the latter part of March will be selected later. Pittsburgh is being mentioned as a likely place, he added.

Homecoming Game

WESTMINSTER, Md., Oct. 30—(AP)—Western Maryland College will play its first homecoming football game since 1943 on Saturday when Hampden-Sydney College from Virginia makes its initial visit to Hoffa Field.

The visitors will attempt to be the first team ever to win a homecoming game from the Terrors, who will be favored on past performances. The teams were scheduled to meet in 1943, but war intervened.

Tickets Now On Sale For Grid "Twin-Bill"

Tickets for Friday night's "doubleheader" at the Fort Hill Stadium are now on sale at five places in Cumberland, it was announced last night by LaSalle High officials.

The gates will open at 6:15 and at 6:45, St. Mary's and St. Patrick's Catholic Youth Organization elevens sponsored by the Knights of Columbus will collide. Quarters will be limited to eight minutes with John Blough, the referee, Chick Snider, the umpire and Ray Swach, the head linesman.

At 8 o'clock, the LaSalle High Explorers will engage St. Francis Prep. At halftime, the Hyndman (Pa.) High band under the direction of J. Elwood Miller will entertain the spectators.

Would Prohibit Sale

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 31—(AP)—Thomas S. Bohne, of West Palm Beach, Fla., identified as a stockholder and former secretary of the late E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour Stock Farm Company, brought suit here today to prevent the pending sale of the 1,291 acre Fayette County farm.

Bohne petitioned Federal District Court for an order setting aside the option for sale of the property for $2,681,545 to a "syndicate" of Greentree Stud, Inc., New York; King Ranch, Texas, and Ogden Phipps, New York.

Story Of Music Coming Back On NBC Network

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Oct. 30—The Story of Music, which traces the development of various forms of compositions, will be back on NBC Thursday night at 11:30 for another weekly series. This year music of the lyric theater will be taken up as Dr. Frank Black directs the orchestra.

America's Town meeting will seek an answer to "Should the U. S. Open its Doors to Displaced Persons?" Debate will be carried forward by Dr. J. G. McDonald, of the Foreign Policy association, and Col. P. H. Griffith, new American Legion commander. Time and network the usual 8:30 on ABC.

A preview of the Pimlico special, which will be broadcast Friday, is to come to NBC from Clem McCarthy at 8:30 instead of the regular sports period.

Mickey Rooney, ex-GI and now back in the films, is to drop around for the Music Hall of E. E. Horton and Eddy Duchin via NBC at 9. He'll try acting, dancing and comicing.

It being that kind of a day, the Crime Photographer will put on a "Halloween Story" for CBS at 9:30.

One of the ABC most moved programs, is doing it again. It's the Samm; Kaye lead-a-band show. New time is 9:30. The shift will displace the stunt series. Take it from There, will be heard a half-hour later at 10.

Mark McCauley, 35 Found Guilty Of Murder In First Degree By Jury

Verdict Without Recommendation, Returned In 53 Minutes, Makes Death Mandatory

KEYSER, W. Va., Oct. 30 —Mark Roy McCauley, 35-year-old strip miner of Davis, W. Va., was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a Mineral County Jury in Circuit Court here late today. The jury returned its verdict without recommendations, which makes a sentence of death mandatory.

After three days of testimony and pleas, the case went to the jury at 4:34 p. m. today. The jury returned at 5:28 p. m., only 53 minutes after leaving the court room. The 12 men, some of whom had never served on a jury before, stood in the court room quietly and with grim, serious expressions, while Judge Ernest A. See inquired, "Gentlemen have you reached a verdict?"

Paul Dayton, clerk of circuit court, read from a paper handed him by one of the jurors, "We the men of this jury find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. (signed) Foreman of the Jury, William E. Tanner."

As Judge See inquired "Do all of you agree on this verdict", the 12 jurors nodded in assent.

His Mother Sobs

The silence in the packed court room, the absence of any demonstration, created in itself a dramatic scene. As the verdict was read, McCauley, who has remained stolid, impassive and apparently emotionless throughout the proceedings, merely looked down at his hands, folded in front of him. The silence was broken by a muffled sob from his mother who had remained seated beside him all during the day.

McCauley's father, Rev. Roy A. McCauley, of Davis, and his brother Rev. Paul McCauley of Mason City, Illinois, also sat with him. As the verdict was pronounced, and confirmed to the court's satisfaction, Judge See said immediately, "Sheriff, take charge of the prisoner." Officer Edgell W. Rotruck of the Keyser police force who has guarded McCauley constantly throughout the trial, handcuffed him and rushed him from the court room, followed by Sheriff Dixon and another deputy.

H. G. Shores, one of the defense attorneys asked the court's permission to file a motion for a new trial, and the court indicated this could be done before sentence is passed.

Killed Two Officers

McCauley was convicted on a charge of killing Sgt. Joseph P. Horne, West Virginia State Police Officer of 25 years service, at the home of James Harding, Emoryville, W. Va. He also shot and killed Sheriff O. Gay Hovatter of Tucker county and shot and wounded the sheriff's son Donald Hovatter, 19 year old World War II veteran.

The young strip miner, who fled the scene of his crime, was captured after a 30-hour man hunt over a wide area by a posse of 250 peace officers and civilians. Taken to the Clarksburg jail he made and signed a voluntary statement admitting the shootings, but when arraigned for trial, based his plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity," on mental peculiarities and social attitude which his attorneys claimed were a part of his make-up.

All of this morning was consumed while attorneys for defense and prosecution met in the judge's chambers in presence of the defendant to prepare and discuss instructions to be given the jury.

At about 1:30 p. m. Judge See called court to order and read 12 pages of instructions to the jurors, outlining procedure under the law and explaining law involving pleas of insanity.

Six possible verdicts were open to the jury.

(1) Guilty of murder in the first degree, which the court explained made sentence of hanging mandatory. (2) Guilty of murder in the first degree with recommendation of mercy, which meant life imprisonment or hanging at the court's discretion. (3) Guilty of murder in the second degree, which meant imprisonment for five to 18 years. (4) Guilty of manslaughter. (5) Guilty of involuntary manslaughter. (6) Not guilty for reasons of insanity.

Thompson Proves Eloquent

All during the trial, spectators and observers had been impressed with the appearance, poise and evident legal ability of William G. Thompson, of Montgomery, Fayette county, W. Va., who came here to assist Rankin with the prosecution of the case.

The last of the four attorneys to appear before the jury, Thompson made the most masterful and eloquent plea for conviction ever heard in this court room.

A skilled and able orator, he led the jury through the details of the case dramatically and quickly. "The man who died on the cross repeated an old law, 'Thou Shalt Not Kill,' he explained, "and this man also spoke, 'he who sheds blood shall pay by the spilling of his own blood'."

"We are not concerned with this man's mental peculiarities, or the attempts he may make to lead specialists or anyone else to believe he is insane," Thompson declared.

"This man is a killer. He is a vicious criminal who shot and killed two peace officers, and then calmly walked upstairs and got another gun and shot, intending to kill the only living witness to his crime," Thompson exclaimed.

"Murder has been committed. A grave wrong has been done the grand state of West Virginia. Two men, charged with enforcing the law, one of them elected by the people, both paid by taxpayers, and under-paid at that, have been murdered. Killed because they went forth to do their duty."

Pleads For Justice

"In the state of West Virginia, are the people of West Virginia, are the people of this county, this community, going to permit gunsters to go about shooting those we charge with protecting our

Laing Avenue Man Is Treated After Car-Truck Collision

A 12-year-old local boy was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment of a fractured left leg after he was struck by a car in South Cumberland and a 20-year-old Laing avenue man was treated in Allegany yesterday for slight injuries suffered in a car-truck collision.

The lad, Charles Elfritz, son of William Elfritz, retired B. and O. worker, 21 West Oldtown road, was admitted at 3:40 p. m. for treatment of the fracture suffered when he was struck by the car on East Second street. Attaches said his condition was good.

Presley W. Mauk, 142 Arch street, manager of the Royale Dairy, and driver of the car, explained last night the accident occurred yesterday at 3:15 p. m., about 75 feet from the Virginia avenue intersection, when the boy ran in front of the car as he (Mauk) was driving east on Second street.

Is Injured In Crash

Cleveland Kearchner, 20, 524 Laing avenue, was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday at 12:30 p. m. for slight injuries suffered, he told attaches, when the car in which he was riding struck the rear of a truck.

He was treated, attaches said, for injuries on both hands and X-rays were taken to determine possible left arm injuries.

A Queen City Paint and Glass Company worker, William Bartlett, 18 Pear street, was treated yesterday at Allegany for a possible fracture of the left big toe. He told attaches a carton of glass dropped upon his foot as he was at work. X-rays were taken to determine the extent of injury.

Wayne Dehart, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Dehart, Route 6, was admitted to Allegany yesterday at 4 p. m. after, attaches were told, he accidentally swallowed some ant poison. Attaches said his condition was good.

Falls Upon Fence

Dorothy Phillips, 10, 545 Fairview avenue, was treated at 5:30 p. m. in Allegany for a deep laceration under the left arm after, she said, she fell upon a picket fence.

Treated in Allegany last night were Thomas Dougherty, 15, 1211 Bedford street, for a cut on the right knee suffered when he fell upon a rock and Edward Brown, 5, 453 Goethe street, for a fracture of the left lower arm after he fell upon the sidewalk.

Rites Are Planned For Jacob Gottlieb

Well Known Businessman Was President Of Old Municipal Band

Funeral services for Jacob Gottlieb, 76, former city sanitary inspector and one of the organizers of the old Cumberland Municipal Band, who died yesterday morning at his home, 167 North Centre street, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Stein Funeral Home.

Lot oi Maurice Feuer, of B'er Chayim congregation, will officiate and interment will be in East Gate Cemetery. Please omit flowers.

Mr. Gottlieb, who had been in failing health for the past four months, was a native of this city, a son of the late Max and Fannie Gross Gottlieb.

As a young man, Mr. Gottlieb was associated with a printing firm here but sold his interests to the late James Young in 1892 and went to Hagerstown where he operated a box factory until his return to this city about 30 years ago.

An ardent music lover, he was chiefly responsible for the organization of the Cumberland Municipal Band, during World War I and served as president and played a bass clarinet in the civic organization directed by the late Gerald Everstein until about 1933.

Mr. Gottlieb was also a well known baseball fan and was a director of the Cumberland Colts when the team was a member of the Mid-Atlantic League.

He served as city sanitary inspector for about four years and in recent years engaged in the real estate and insurance business here.

Mr. Gottlieb was a member of Potomac Lodge No. 100, A. F. and A. M. and a Shriner. He was also a member of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

His widow, Mrs. Sarah White Gottlieb, survives. He was the last surviving member of his immediate family.

MR. COULEHAN RITES

Funeral services for James Bernard Coulehan, 77, a native of this city who died last Saturday at his home in Akron, Ohio, were conducted yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rev. Thomas A. Hardesty, assistant pastor, was the celebrant of the requiem mass and interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were Milton McKenzie, George Trost, Albert Straub, F. A. Triplett, William Lee and A. G. Zembower.

MRS. DEAN RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Sallie C. Dean, 83, widow of George W. Dean, who died Sunday at her home, 415 Pulaski street, were conducted yesterday afternoon at the home.

Dr. H. Hall Sharp, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, officiated at the rites and interment was in German Beneficial Cemetery. Pallbearers were William Marean, William Buley, George Allen Thompson, Stewart Berkeley, George E. Smith and Fred M. Beck.

MRS. SMITH RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Smith, 46, wife of James H. Smith,

Preparations For Marian Anderson Concert Tonight Being Completed

World-Famous Contralto To Present Program At Fort Hill

Final preparations are being made for the arrival here this morning of Marian Anderson, world-famous contralto, who will be heard for the first time in Cumberland at a concert tonight at 8:30 at Fort Hill auditorium.

Less than two weeks before her first recital of the season in Carnegie Hall, New York, Miss Anderson, who has sung in the major capitals of Europe, will present a varied program, ranging from an operatic aria and folk songs to several Negro spirituals.

To Sing "Ave Maria"

At the request of many persons who purchased tickets well in advance to hear her sing tonight, Miss Anderson will sing Schubert's "Ave Maria" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's oratorio "The Messiah" as encores, according to Earle L. Bracey, principal of Carver High School, which is sponsoring the concert.

The concert star, who sang for an audience of 75,000 persons in 1939 at an Easter Sunday concert at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, was born in Philadelphia, one of three daughters of a modest negro family.

Scholarships from teachers who foresaw her future furthered her study until in 1926 she won her debut with the New York Philharmonic Symphony against 300 contestants. After going abroad to study, she sang in major European cities. Arturo Toscanini told her, after a concert in Salzburg, "Yours is a voice heard once in a hundred years."

Since her return to this country in 1935, Miss Anderson has won the Bok Award, the Spingard Medal, three honorary doctorates of music, and numerous lesser honors. She will sing four times in New York this season, the first on November 10 at Carnegie Hall. Every date has been booked until the close of the concert year next May.

Selections Listed

First Group: "Ardent Longing," Ahle; "Vieni, Che poi Sereno," Gluck; "Odio la Pastorella," Bellini; "Le Violette," Scarlatti.

Fourth Group: "The Sally Gardens," Irish tune; "A Maiden," Thomas; "Yarmouth Fair," English folk song; "Summer Night," Gibbs; "When Lights Go Rolling round the Sky," John Ireland.

Fifth Group: Negro spirituals, "Behold that Star," "My Good Lord Done Been Here," "Where Does the Road Lead?", "Soon I Will Be Done."

Legion To Hold Memorial Service At Honor Roll

Ceremony Will Be Held In City Hall Rotunda November 11

A ceremony in observance of Memorial Day will be held at the county honor roll in City Hall rotunda from 10:30 to 11 a. m. on Monday, November 11, sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, according to Thomas F. Conlon, service officer of the post.

Conlon said the Legion is sending invitations to all local veterans' organizations to attend the ceremony, and that the public is invited to attend.

The auditorium and council chamber in City Hall will be wired for sound so that the program may be heard throughout the building. Loudspeakers will also be set up to broadcast the program to those in City Hall plaza, the service officer said.

The bugle and drum corps of the Legion will be present, and at 11 a. m., the hour when bugles sounded the "cease firing" order on November 11, 1918, taps will be sounded by Joseph Fradiska, Legion bugler.

A minister, priest and rabbi will be invited to participate in the ceremony, with the guest speaker to be announced later. Mayor Thomas S. Post will give a short talk.

Conlon also announced that several organizations have already responded to the Legion's invitation to march in a parade that evening, starting at 7 o'clock from the State Armory. All veterans are invited to take part.

Woman Is Hurt In Leap From Car

Cumberlander Jumps After Crash On Route 40 West Of Eckhart

A Cumberland young woman was injured late Tuesday night when she leaped from an automobile after it struck another car on Route 40 a short distance west of Eckhart, State Police reported.

Trooper William O. McElfish, who investigated, said the woman, Mrs. Margaret Burkett, 23, 23 Offutt street, was riding in the automobile driven by James Thomas Bush, Maryland Hotel, this city, and that she was treated in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, for brush burns about the body and lacerations of the face.

Bush began to drive the automobile owned by George Johnson Mosser because the latter was too drunk to drive, according to the state policeman. He added that Bush had no driver's license.

A short time after Bush took over the wheel, the car sideswiped the westbound machine operated by George C. Weimer, Route 2, Frostburg, Trooper McElfish said, continued down the highway 200 feet and then turned completely around.

Bush was charged with reckless driving and driving without an operator's license. He will be given a hearing before Magistrate Owen Porter, Frostburg, today. State Trooper Walter Wilt assisted in the investigation.

John Bosley, Bloomington, arrested October 19 after a head-on crash at Wright's Crossing, was found guilty of drunken and reckless driving charges at a hearing recently before Magistrate Porter. He was fined $100 on the former charge and $10 on the latter, according to Trooper McElfish who filed the charges. He said Bosley's car struck the machine operated by James Joseph Whetstone, Frostburg.

Property Is Sold

The Harry Mullen property at 49 Henderson avenue has been purchased by W. S. Kinch, Bedford road, and his son, Willis P. Kinch, Hagerstown, through their attorney, Thomas Lohr Richards.

In the near future the building will be enlarged for the feed business in which W. S. Kinch and Dr. T. Bailey Hunter are associated.

New Deal Must Be Wiped Out, Beall Asserts

Cites "Controlled Defeatism And Corruption" In Radio Talk Here

"We must rid ourselves of New Dealism, controlled defeatism and corruption," Rep. J. Glenn Beall, candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket as congressman of the Sixth District, said last night in an address over Station WTBO.

Stating that "in this great year of decision the future of our country is at stake," Rep. Beall said that the American economic system was built upon sound principles, and that private enterprise "must and will survive."

He charged that the American people have found themselves "bewildered and bedeviled," with no sound organization and administration in government, and called for a return of the government to the people.

Lists Projects

Asserting that "I have not been a talking congressman," the speaker recalled that four of the major projects which he has been instrumental in inaugurating for the Sixth District total nearly $15,000,000.

These include, he said, a $5,000,000 building project in Montgomery County to house naval research laboratories, which will employ up to 2,000 chemists, engineers and research technicians; a new $1,500,000 highway to be known as the George Washington Memorial Highway, running through the National Park from Fort George Washington in Prince Georges county to Great Falls in Montgomery county; appropriations in the omnibus flood control bill of $7,442,000 for flood control work in Cumberland, and $1,900,000 for the completion of the Savage River dam.

Recalling that he has been charged with voting against mustering out payments for World War II veterans, Rep. Beall said that in 1944 he joined with Rep. Lemke and 50 other congressmen in preparing an amendment to the mustering out pay bill which provided a graduated scale of payments and provided to veterans who had served nine months or more, one year's compensation.

Explains Vote

The bill was passed by the House and went to the Senate, where it was amended to provide a flat payment, and it then went to the conference committee of both Houses, Rep. Beall said.

"I voted against the conference report because my associates and myself were insistent that we have the graduated greater payment," he stated. "I took this action after careful consideration and consultation with members of veterans' organizations. As a veteran of World War I and the father of a son recently discharged from the Navy, it should be obvious to anyone that I am vitally concerned with the welfare of all our veterans."

Recalling another opposition statement that he has been unduly absent from roll calls in the House, Rep. Beall said that a congressman's presence on the Floor of the House is required only after long hours of labor in committees.

"Anyone who is familiar with the modern business of lawmaking knows full well that if a congressman spent all of his time on the Floor of the House alone, he would be absent from the important committees where all legislation is first considered," he pointed out.

City Employes Meet On Wage Legislation

Legislation, empowering the Mayor and Council to collect taxes above the amount allowed by the code providing wages are increased 20 per cent above the base rate, expires next June.

State Sen. Robert B. Kimble, who was instrumental in having temporary wartime legislation passed, is reported to have given a talk at the meeting.

Dairy Case Hearing To Be Resumed Nov. 2

A hearing on demurrers in the litigation resulting from stock sales by shareholders in the Queen City Dairy will be resumed Saturday morning. It was recessed yesterday while Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish, Hagerstown, considered certain amendments of the bill of complaint and construed the option contracts.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs included former Judge D. Lindley Sloan, Col. George Henderson and F. Brooke Whiting, while Thomas Lohr Richards and Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., were counsel for the defendants.

Beer Dealers-Teamsters To Negotiate Contract

Negotiations for a contract between Cumberland area beer distributors and Local 453, Teamsters Union, will open this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the union hall, C. E. Stutzman, union business manager, reported yesterday.

Frederick A. Puderbaugh, attorney for some 17 beer dealers of this area, will be in charge of negotiations for the companies and Stutzman and Louis Clem, George Brode and R. C. Kergen, union negotiation committee, will represent the Teamsters union.

Union officials said a company offer of 15 cents an hour increase in the contract to replace an agreement which expired May 1, is "not satisfactory" but declined to announce what increase the union will ask.

State And County Candidates To Be Voted On In Election On November 5

The Cumberland News will, between now and election day, give brief sketches of the various candidates seeking offices in Allegany county and the State of Maryland.

This is another in the series of articles the NEWS is publishing in order to acquaint its readers with the various candidates who are seeking political offices in the county and state.

The candidates for State Senator from Allegany County are Robert B. Kimble, Republican, seeking re-election, and Thomas B. Finan, Democrat, of Cumberland.

Kimble was first elected to the State Senate in 1934 after serving in the House of Delegates. He was re-elected in 1938 and 1942 and is now completing a total of 14 years in the Maryland legislature. He is present grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythians of Maryland.

Kimble is now serving his third term as a member of the Maryland Legislative Council. He was appointed by Gov. O'Conor as a member of a commission to study prison labor in Maryland and is a member of the sub-committee of the Legislative Council to study the revision of Workmen's Compensation laws in Maryland. He was twice elected president of the Allegany Trades Council and served as treasurer of the Maryland State and District of Columbia Federation of Labor.

Finan, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Finan, of this city, was born in Cumberland 31 years ago and received his A.B. degree from Georgetown University in 1936, graduating "cum laude". He studied law at the University of Maryland and was graduated with the L.L.B. degree in 1939. He passed the state Bar examination in 1939 and was admitted to practice law in Maryland by the Court of Appeals. He practiced in Allegany county for about two years before entering the army as a private in June, 1941.

Finan served 11 months with the 115th Infantry and was graduated from Infantry Officers' Training School and commissioned a Second Lieutenant in 1942. He served with the 45th division during the Sicilian campaign in 1943 and saw action at Salerno, Anzio Beach and in the invasion of Southern France. He was captured by the Germans in Sept. 1944 and was a prisoner of war for eight months in Poland and Germany, being released by an American shortly after the defeat of Germany. He was discharged in Dec. 1945, with the rank of captain and now is practicing law in Cumberland, being associated with the law firm of Miles, Walsh, O'Brien and Morris. He is a member of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Evangelical And United Brethren Churches Will Merge November 16

Benefit Party To Be Given Nov. 7 For Jones Fund

Manhattan Temple No. 8, Pythian Sisters, will give a benefit card party, for the "Jones Family Fund" at St. Mary's Hall, Oldtown Road, Nov. 7. St. Mary's Catholic Church has donated use of the hall, and merchants have donated gifts to be awarded. The Pythian Sisters hope to have more than 100 tables of bridge, "500" and setback in play. Refreshments will be served.

Auditions Planned For Four YMCA Radio Programs

Series Will Pave Way For Campaign To Liquidate Mortgage

Auditions for radio talent, including singers and instrumentalists, will be held at Central YMCA tomorrow at 4 p. m. and Saturday at 11 a. m. in connection with a series of radio programs to be sponsored by the "Y", it was announced yesterday.

The programs are designed to pave the way for a campaign to raise $58,000, of which $50,000 will be used to pay off the remainder of the mortgage outstanding on the building, and $8,000 to repair the "Y" heating plant and to make other necessary repairs. The campaign is scheduled to start November 18.

Station WTBO is donating time for half-hour broadcasts for four successive weeks, starting Friday, November 15, at 10:30 p. m. during the weekly Rec club dance in the YMCA gymnasium. The remaining programs will be broadcast on successive Fridays at the same time and place.

It is not necessary for applicants to be members of Central YMCA, as the auditions are open to anyone who cares to apply. The series of programs has been titled "The Y Pays Off."

In 1941 a campaign was held for refinancing the $100,000 mortgage, and approximately $53,000 in cash was raised.

New Work Schedule Brings Promotions For Three Firemen

Under the new days-off system to be inaugurated tomorrow by the Cumberland Fire Department, William L. Lindner becomes acting assistant chief, William Edward Jenkins acting captain, and Joseph H. Hoban acting lieutenant, according to Commissioner William V. Keegan.

All three firemen, who are assigned to Central Station, are war veterans and long-time members of the department. Lindner, who served in Europe with an infantry outfit in the First World War, joined the department in 1920, and has been captain since 1934. Jenkins, a fireman for 20 years, was overseas 23 months in the recent war, taking part in naval assaults in the Pacific theater. Hoban, also a member of the department for 20 years, enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and was discharged as a chief petty officer several days before the peace treaty was signed.

Under the new plan, which will be given a 90-day trial period before final consideration for permanent adoption, firemen will work five straight days, be off 48 hours, work five consecutive nights and then be off 24 hours.

The crews for the new system, as announced by Commissioner Keegan, follow:

Central Station—First Shift: William E. Jenkins, captain; Alvey Poole, driver, and Harry Donald Davidson, Victor G. Long and William T. Shuck, pipemen. Second Shift: Joseph T. Hoban, lieutenant; Charles E. (Bill) Barham, driver, and Edward F. Loibel, Vincent H. Wegman and Richard L. Linthicum, pipemen.

South End—First Shift: Jeremiah T. Defibaugh, captain; James A. Jackson, driver, and Francis J. Wallace and Edgar L. Bucy, pipemen. Second Shift: Harry L. McNabb, lieutenant; Leroy Miller, driver, and Orville Delbert Proudfoot and Nola G. Shibe, pipemen.

West Side—First Shift: R. Paul Reid, captain; Paul E. Gormer, driver, and Thomas B. Jones and Charles R. Himmler, pipemen. Second Shift: Vernon F. Graves, lieutenant; Harry A. Spies, driver, and Louis H. Appel and Austin L. Warnick, pipemen.

East Side—First Shift: James C. Miller, captain; Robert C. Long, driver, and Herman J. Miller, Virgil V. McClure and Thomas W. Lindner, pipemen. Second Shift: Virgil A. Parker, lieutenant; Walter W. Hartman, driver, and William M. Hartung, Robert Leo Reichert and William L. Feeney, pipemen.

27 Tons Collected

The monthly wastepaper collection netted 12 tons yesterday to boost to a total of 27 tons the amount collected in the first three days. Three tons were collected Monday in outlying sections and 12 tons Tuesday on the West Side. Today the collection will cover all sections between Baltimore street and Baltimore avenue and Oldtown road.

Two Denominations Will Become Evangelical United Brethren

The merger on November 16 of the United Brethren Church and the Evangelical Church into the Evangelical United Brethren Church was disclosed here yesterday by Rev. J. Edgar Walter, pastor of Bethel and Calvary Evangelical churches, this city, and Rev. C. K. Welch, pastor of Bethany United Brethren Church, this city.

Union of the two denominations, considered for about 12 years, will take place at Johnstown, Pa., at a joint general conference. The joint meeting will follow separate general conferences of the two denominations at Johnstown beginning November 11.

Both local ministers stated yesterday that the union of the two denominations will have no effect whatever on the three United Brethren churches and three Evangelical churches in the county unless the individual congregations so desire.

No Plans To Unite

They explained that this means there will be no merger of individual congregations unless the congregations desire it, and pointed out that there are no plans for merging any of the congregations of the two denominations in this county.

Besides the two Evangelical churches of which Rev. Mr. Walter is pastor, there is another Evangelical church at Ellerslie with Rev. W. J. Lloyd as pastor.

In addition to Bethany United Brethren Church, Rev. Mr. Welch, pastor, in Cumberland, United Brethren churches are located at Potomac Park, Rev. Robert Bridgers, pastor, and at Westernport, Rev. E. B. Caplinger, pastor.

Once the merger is consummated, the six churches in this county will be known as Evangelical United Brethren churches, the ministers related.

Both denominations, Rev. Mr. Walter and Rev. Mr. Welch said, are of American origin, neither being a "split-off" nor having sprung from any other denomination. They added that both churches had their beginnings among the Pennsylvania Germans in Lancaster County. They have grown so that today the United Brethren Church has a membership of about 500,000, and the Evangelical Church a membership of about 260,000 in the United States and about 40,000 outside of this country. The merger will give the Evangelical United Brethren Church a membership of approximately 800,000 persons.

Met In Baltimore

While the United Brethren Church had its origin in Pennsylvania, largely through the efforts of William Otterbein, Martin Boehm and George A. Guething, the first conference of ministers was held in Baltimore in 1789. The second conference was held in Paradise township, York County, Pa., in 1791. On September 25, 1800, the ministers met in Frederick County, Md., and united themselves into a society which now bears the name United Brethren in Christ.

The Evangelical Church had its origin in 1800 when Jacob Albright organized three classes, one each in Berks County, Bucks County and Northampton County, Pa. The The first council of the charter members of the denomination was held November 3, 1803, and the first conference was held in 1807 in Dauphin County, now Lebanon County, Pa. The name, the Evangelical Association, was adopted in 1816. A split developed later with the United Evangelical Church being fromed in 1892, but the two denominations united in 1922 under the name of the Evangelical Church.

Today the Evangelical Church has missionary work outside of the United States, in France, Switzerland, Germany, Poland, Latvia, Africt, China and Japan.

The United Brethren Church today has missionary work in Japan, China, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Africa.

Branch Office Of WAA Will Be Opened Here

Veterans To Be Aided In Purchasing Surplus War Property

A branch office of the War Assets Administration will be opened in Cumberland to make it easier for war veterans to obtain certifications for purchase of surplus war property, according to the Associated Press.

Veterans in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties will be certified by the Cumberland office along with the West Virginia counties of Mineral, Hampshire, Grant, Hardy and Pendleton.

A spokesman for the branch office of the National Housing Agency here said that application blanks for certification have been available at the office, but that no information has been received regarding the location of the new WAA branch office, or when it will be opened.

Prior to the announcement of plans for the branch office, all area veterans were required to obtain certification from Baltimore.

World War II veterans are entitled under the Surplus Property Act to priorities second only to those of federal agencies in buying most surplus war materials. Certifications are issued for the purchase of surplus material for personal use and also for use in any business, agricultural or industrial enterprise, more than 50 per cent of which is owned by a veteran or veterans of World War I for from which a veteran or veterans receive more than 50 per cent of the profits.

The announcement stated that the new office will be staffed exclusively by World War II veterans

GOP Has Majority Of 5,641 Voters In This County

Registration Figures Show Republicans Have 24,395 Names On Books

Although there are 2,107 fewer registered voters in Allegany County this year than there were in 1944, the Republican majority now stands at 5,641 as compared to an even 5,000 two years ago, according to the official registration report released yesterday by Patrick F. King, clerk to the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

The report shows a total current registration of 43,925, composed mostly of 24,395 Republicans and 18,754 Democrats. Two years ago there were 25,361 Republicans and 20,361 Democrats.

Republicans still hold an edge over the Democrats in 55 of the 75 precincts in the county, the same edge they held in 1944, but there have been changes in four of them.

In 1944 two more Republicans were registered at District 4, Precinct 5, K-Z, Cumberland, but this year the Democrats are ahead by the same number.

Noticeable Changes

In District 4, Precinct 8, Cumberland, two years ago, Democrats held a lead of 27 voters but that precinct now has fallen to the GOP with the result that there are now three more Republicans than Democrats registered there.

The most noticeable change is in District 5, Precinct 4, A-J, Cumberland, where the number of Democrat voters now is 44 more than the number of Republicans while in 1944 the GOP outnumbered the Democrats by 45.

The Democrat lead of four voters in District 7, Rawlings, has been overcome by the Republicans, however, and the GOP now holds a margin there of 34 voters.

Clerk King reminded that the decrease in the total number of voters this year as compared to 1944 resulted after names of 6,029 voters, 3,091 Republicans and 2,938 Democrats, were stricken from the registration books for failure to cast ballots in the last five years. The registration this year was not sufficient to return the total to the figure prior to the striking off.

Total 1946 registration by precincts for Allegany County follows:

| District | | | Democrat | Republican | Declined | Socialist | Other Parties |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | | Orleans | 85 | 151 | 1 | 0 | 0 |

Verdict Without Recommendation, Returned In 53 Minutes, Makes Death Mandatory

KEYSER, W. Va., Oct. 30 — Mark Roy McCauley, 35-year-old strip miner of Davis, W. Va., was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a Mineral County Jury in Circuit Court here late today. The jury returned its verdict without recommendations, which makes a sentence of death mandatory.

After three days of testimony and pleas, the case went to the jury at 4:34 p. m. today. The jury returned at 5:28 p. m., only 53 minutes after leaving the court room. The 12 men, some of whom had never served on a jury before, stood in the court room quietly and with grim, serious expressions, while Judge Ernest A. See inquired, "Gentlemen have you reached a verdict?"

Paul Dayton, clerk of circuit court, read from a paper handed him by one of the jurors, "We the men of this jury find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. (signed) Foreman of the Jury, William E. Tanner."

As Judge See inquired "Do all of you agree on this verdict", the 12 jurors nodded in assent.

His Mother Sobs

The silence in the packed court room, the absence of any demonstration, created in itself a dramatic scene. As the verdict was read, McCauley, who has remained stolid, impassive and apparently emotionless throughout the proceedings, merely looked down at his hands, folded in front of him. The silence was broken by a muffled sob from his mother who had remained seated beside him all during the day.

McCauley's father, Rev. Roy A. McCauley, of Davis, and his brother Rev. Paul McCauley of Mason City, Illinois, also sat with him. As the verdict was pronounced, and confirmed to the court's satisfaction, Judge See said immediately, "Sheriff, take charge of the prisoner." Officer Edgell W. Rotruck of the Keyser police force who has guarded McCauley constantly throughout the trial, handuffed him and rushed him from the court room, followed by Sheriff Dixon and another deputy.

H. G. Shores, one of the defense attorneys asked the court's permission to file a motion for a new trial, and the court indicated this could be done before sentence is passed.

Killed Two Officers

McCauley was convicted on a charge of killing Sgt. Joseph P. Horne, West Virginia State Police Officer of 25 years service, at the home of James Harding, Emoryville, W. Va. He also shot and killed Sheriff O. Gay Hovatter of Tucker county and shot and wounded the sheriff's son Donald Hovatter, 19 year old World War II veteran.

The young strip miner, who fled the scene of his crime, was captured after a 30-hour man hunt over a wide area by a posse of 250 peace officers and civilians. Taken to the Clarksburg jail he made and signed a voluntary statement admitting the shootings, but when arraigned for trial, based his plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity," on mental peculiarities and social attitude which his attorneys claimed were a part of his make-up.

All of this morning was consumed while attorneys for defense and prosecution met in the judge's chambers in presence of the defendant to prepare and discuss instructions to be given the jury.

At about 1:30 p. m. Judge See called court to order and read 12 pages of instructions to the jurors, outlining procedure under the law and explaining law involving pleas of insanity.

Six possible verdicts were open to the jury.

(1) Guilty of murder in the first degree, which the court explained made sentence of hanging mandatory. (2) Guilty of murder in the first degree with recommendation of mercy, which meant life imprisonment or hanging at the court's discretion. (3) Guilty of murder in the second degree, which meant imprisonment for five to 18 years. (4) Guilty of manslaughter. (5) Guilty of involuntary manslaughter. (6) Not guilty for reasons of insanity.

Thompson Proves Eloquent

All during the trial, spectators and observers had been impressed with the appearance, poise and evident legal ability of William G. Thompson, of Montgomery, Fayette county, W. Va., who came here to assist Rankin with the prosecution of the case.

The last of the four attorneys to appear before the jury, Thompson made the most masterful and eloquent plea for conviction ever heard in this court room.

A skilled and able orator, he led the jury through the details of the case dramatically and quickly. "The man who died on the cross repeated an old law, 'Thou Shalt Not Kill,' he exclaimed, "and this man also spoke, 'he who spills blood shall pay by the spilling of his own blood.'"

"We are not concerned with this man's mental peculiarities, or the attempts he may make to lead specialists or anyone else to believe he is insane," Thompson declared.

"This man is a killer. He is a vicious criminal who shot and killed two peace officers, and then calmly walked upstairs and got another gun and shot, intending to kill the only living witness to his crime," Thompson exclaimed.

"Murder has been committed. A grave wrong has been done the grand state of West Virginia. Two men, charged with enforcing the law, one of them elected by the people, both paid by taxpayers, and under-paid at that, have been murdered. Killed because they went forth to do their duty."

Pleads For Justice

"In the state of West Virginia, are the people of West Virginia, are the people of this county, this community going to permit gunototers to go about shooting those we charge with protecting our

12-Year-Old Boy Is Injured When Struck By Car

Laing Avenue Man Is Treated After Car-Truck Collision

A 12-year-old local boy was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment of a fractured left leg after he was struck by a car in South Cumberland and a 30-year-old Laing avenue man was treated in Allegany yesterday for slight injuries suffered in a car-truck collision.

The lad, Charles Elfritz, son of William Elfritz, retired B. and O. worker, 21 West Oldtown road, was admitted at 3:40 p. m. for treatment of the fracture suffered when he was struck by the car on East Second street. Attaches said his condition was good.

Presley W. Mauk, 142 Arch street, manager of the Royale Dairy, and driver of the car, explained last night the accident occurred yesterday at 3:15 p. m., about 75 feet from the Virginia avenue intersection, when the boy ran in front of the car as he (Mauk) was driving east on Second street.

Is Injured In Crash

Cleveland Kearchner, 20, 524 Laing avenue, was treated in Allegany Hospital yesterday at 12:30 p. m. for slight injuries suffered, he told attaches, when the car in which he was riding struck the rear of a truck.

He was treated, attaches said, for injuries on both hands and X-rays were taken to determine possible left arm injuries.

A Queen City Paint and Glass Company worker, William Bartlett, 14 8 Pear street, was treated yesterday at Allegany for a possible fracture of the left big toe. He told attaches a carton of glass dropped upon his foot as he was at work. X-rays were taken to determine the extent of injury.

Wayne Dehart, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Dehart, Route 6, was admitted to Allegany yesterday at 4 p. m. after, attaches were told, he accidentally swallowed some ant poison. Attaches said his condition was good.

Falls Upon Fence

Dorothy Phillips, 10, 545 Fairview avenue, was treated at 5:30 p. m. in Allegany for a deep laceration under the left arm after, she said, she fell upon a picket fence.

Treated in Allegany last night were Thomas Dougherty, 15, 1211 Bedford street, for a cut on the right knee suffered when he fell upon a rock and Edward Brown, 5, 453 Goethe street, for a fracture of the left lower arm after he fell upon the sidewalk.

Rites Are Planned For Jacob Gottlieb

Well Known Businessman Was President Of Old Municipal Band

Funeral services for Jacob Gottlieb, 76, former city sanitary inspector and one of the organizers of the old Cumberland Municipal Band, who died yesterday morning at his home, 167 North Centre street, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Stein Funeral Home.

Rabbi Maurice Feuer, of B'er Chayim congregation, will officiate and interment will be in East Gate Cemetery. Please omit flowers.

Mr. Gottlieb, who had been in failing health for the past four months, was a native of this city, a son of the late Max and Fannie Gross Gottlieb.

As a young man, Mr. Gottlieb was associated with a printing firm here but sold his interests to the late James Young in 1892 and went to Hagerstown where he operated a box factory until his return to this city about 30 years ago.

An ardent music lover, he was chiefly responsible for the organization of the Cumberland Municipal Band during World War I and served as president and played a bass clarinet in the civic organization directed by the late Gerald Everstein until about 1933.

Mr. Gottlieb was also a well known baseball fan and was a director of the Cumberland Colts when the team was a member of the Mid-Atlantic League.

He served as city sanitary inspector for about four years and in recent years engaged in the real estate and insurance business here.

Mr. Gottlieb was a member of Potomac Lodge No. 100, A. F. and A. M. and a Shriner. He was also a member of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

His widow, Mrs. Sarah White Gottlieb, survives. He was the last surviving member of his immediate family.

MR. COULEHAN RITES

Funeral services for James Bernard Coulehan, 77, a native of this city who died last Saturday at his home in Akron, Ohio, were conducted yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Rev. Thomas A. Hardesty, assistant pastor, was the celebrant of the requiem mass and interment was in Rose Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were Milton McKenzie, George Trost, Albert Straub, F. A. Triplett, William Lee and A. G. Zembower.

MRS. DEAN RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Sallie C. Dean, 83, widow of George W. Dean, who died Sunday at her home, 415 Pulaski street, were conducted yesterday afternoon at the home.

Dr. H. Hall Sharp, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, officiated at the rites and interment was in German Beneficial Cemetery. Pallbearers were William Marean, William Buley, George Allen Thompson, Stewart Berkeley, George E. Smith and Fred M. Beck.

MRS. SMITH RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Smith, 46, wife of James H. Smith,

Preparations For Marian Anderson Concert Tonight Being Completed

World-Famous Contralto To Present Program At Fort Hill

Final preparations are being made for the arrival here this morning of Marian Anderson, world-famous contralto, who will be heard for the first time in Cumberland at a concert tonight at 8:30 at Fort Hill auditorium.

Less than two weeks before her first recital of the season in Carnegie Hall, New York, Miss Anderson, who has sung in the major capitals of Europe, will present a varied program, ranging from an operatic aria and folk songs to several Negro spirituals.

To Sing "Ave Maria"

At the request of many persons who purchased tickets well in advance to hear her sing tonight, Miss Anderson will sing Schubert's "Ave Maria" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's oratorio "The Messiah" as encores, according to Earle L. Bracey, principal of Carver High School, which is sponsoring the concert.

The concert star, who sang for an audience of 75,000 persons in 1939 at an Easter Sunday concert at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, was born in Philadelphia, one of three daughters of a modest negro family.

Scholarships from teachers who foresaw her future furthered her study until in 1926 she won her debut with the New York Philharmonic Symphony against 300 contestants. After going abroad to study, she sang in major European cities. Arturo Toscanini told her, after a concert in Salzburg, "Yours is a voice heard once in a hundred years."

Since her return to this country in 1935, Miss Anderson has won the Bok Award, the Spingard Medal, three honorary doctorates of music, and numerous lesser honors. She will sing four times in New York this season, the first on November 10 at Carnegie Hall. Every date has been booked until the close of the concert year next May.

Selections Listed

Fourth Group: "The Sally Gardens," Irish tune; "A Maiden," Thomas; "Yarmouth Fair," English folk song; "Summer Night," Gibbs; "When Lights Go Rolling round the Sky," John Ireland.

Fifth Group: Negro spirituals, "Behold that Star," "My Good Lord Done Been Here," "Where Does the Road Lead?", "Soon I Will Be Done."

Ceremony Will Be Held In City Hall Rotunda November 11

A ceremony in observance of Memorial Day will be held at the county honor roll in City Hall rotunda from 10:30 to 11 a. m. on Monday, November 11, sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, according to Thomas F. Conlon, service officer of the post.

Conlon said the Legion is sending invitations to all local veterans' organizations to attend the ceremony, and that the public is invited to attend.

The auditorium and council chamber in City Hall will be wired for sound so that the program may be heard throughout the building. Loudspeakers will also be set up to broadcast the program to those in City Hall plaza, the service officer said.

The bugle and drum corps of the Legion will be present, and at 11 a. m., the hour when bugles sounded the "cease firing" order on November 11, 1918, taps will be sounded by Joseph Fradiska, Legion bugler.

A minister, priest and rabbi will be invited to participate in the ceremony, with the guest speaker to be announced later. Mayor Thomas S. Post will give a short talk.

Conlon also announced that several organizations have already responded to the Legion's invitation to march in a parade that evening, starting at 7 o'clock from the State Armory. All veterans are invited to take part.

Woman Is Hurt In Leap From Car

Cumberlander Jumps After Crash On Route 40 West Of Eckhart

A Cumberland young woman was injured late Tuesday night when she leaped from an automobile after it struck another car on Route 40 a short distance west of Eckhart, State Police reported.

Trooper William O. McElfish, who investigated, said the woman, Mrs. Margaret Burkett, 23, 23 Offutt street, was riding in the automobile driven by James Thomas Bush, Maryland Hotel, this city, and that she was treated in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, for brush burns about the body and lacerations of the face.

Bush began to drive the automobile owned by George Johnson Mosser because the latter was too drunk to drive, according to the state policeman. He added that Bush had no driver's license.

A short time after Bush took over the wheel, the car sideswiped the westbound machine operated by George C. Weimer, Route 2, Frostburg, Trooper McElfish said, continued down the highway 200 feet and then turned completely around.

Bush was charged with reckless driving and driving without an operator's license. He will be given a hearing before Magistrate Owen Porter, Frostburg, today. State Trooper Walter Wilt assisted in the investigation.

John Bosley Bloomington, arrested October 19 after a head-on crash at Wright's Crossing, was found guilty of drunken and reckless driving charges at a hearing recently before Magistrate Porter. He was fined $100 on the former charge and $10 on the latter, according to Trooper McElfish who filed the charges. He said Boeley's car struck the machine operated by James Joseph Whetstone, Frostburg.

Property Is Sold

The Harry Mullen property at 49 Henderson avenue has been purchased by W. S. Kinch, Bedford road, and his son, Willis P. Kinch, Hagerstown, through their attorney, Thomas Lohr Richards.

The brick building contains the Tri-State Feed and Supply company on the first floor and four large apartments on the upper floors.

In the near future the building will be enlarged for the feed business in which W. S. Kinch and Dr. T. Bailey Hunter are associated.

New Deal Must Be Wiped Out, Beall Asserts

Cites "Controlled Defeatism And Corruption" In Radio Talk Here

"We must rid ourselves of New Dealism, controlled defeatism and corruption," Rep. J. Glenn Beall, candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket as congressman of the Sixth District, said last night in an address over Station WTBO.

Stating that "in this great year of decision the future of our country is at stake," Rep. Beall said that the American economic system was built upon sound principles, and that private enterprise "must and will survive."

He charged that the American people have found themselves "bewildered and bedeviled," with no sound organization and administration in government, and called for a return of the government to the people.

Lists Projects

Asserting that "I have not been a talking congressman," the speaker recalled that four of the major projects which he has been instrumental in inaugurating for the Sixth District total nearly $15,000,000.

These include, he said, a $5,000,000 building project in Montgomery County to house naval research laboratories, which will employ up to 2,000 chemists, engineers and research technicians; a new $1,500,000 highway to be known as the George Washington Memorial Highway, running through the National Park from Fort George Washington in Prince Georges county to Great Falls in Montgomery county; appropriations in the omnibus flood control bill of $7,442,000 for flood control work in Cumberland, and $1,900,000 for the completion of the Savage River dam.

Recalling that he has been charged with voting against mustering out payments for World War II veterans, Rep. Beall said that in 1944 he joined with Rep. Lemke and 50 other congressmen in preparing an amendment to the mustering out pay bill which provided a graduated scale of payments and provided to veterans who had served nine months or more, one year's compensation.

Explains Vote

The bill was passed by the House and went to the Senate, where it was amended to provide a flat payment, and it then went to the conference committee of both Houses, Rep. Beall said.

"I voted against the conference report because my associates and myself were insistent that we have the graduated greater payment," he stated. "I took this action after careful consideration and consultation with members of veterans' organizations. As a veteran of World War I and the father of a son recently discharged from the Navy, it should be obvious to anyone that I am vitally concerned with the welfare of all our veterans."

Recalling another opposition statement that he has been unduly absent from roll calls in the House, Rep. Beall said that a congressman's presence on the Floor of the House is required only after long hours of labor in committees.

"Anyone who is familiar with the modern business of lawmaking knows full well that if a congressman spent all of his time on the Floor of the House alone, he would be absent from the important committees where all legislation is first considered," he pointed out.

City Employes Meet On Wage Legislation

A group of city Civil Service employes met Tuesday night at the Fraternal Order of Eagles home, reportedly to discuss possible legislation to keep their present 20 per cent wage increase in effect.

Legislation, empowering the Mayor and Council to collect taxes above the amount allowed by the code providing wages are increased 20 per cent above the base rate, expires next June.

State Sen. Robert B. Kimble, who was instrumental in having temporary wartime legislation passed, is reported to have given a talk at the meeting.

Dairy Case Hearing To Be Resumed Nov. 2

A hearing on demurrers in the litigation resulting from stock sales by shareholders in the Queen City Dairy will be resumed Saturday morning. It was recessed yesterday while Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish, Hagerstown, considered certain amendments of the bill of complaint and construed the option contracts.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs included former Judge D. Lindley Sloan, Col. George Henderson and F. Brooke Whiting, while Thomas Lohr Richards and Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., were counsel for the defendants.

Beer Dealers-Teamsters To Negotiate Contract

Negotiations for a contract between Cumberland area beer distributors and Local 453, Teamsters Union, will open this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the union hall, C. E. Stutzman, union business manager, reported yesterday.

Frederick A. Puderbaugh, attorney for some 17 beer dealers of this area, will be in charge of negotiations for the companies and Stutzman and Louis Clem, George Brode and R. C. Kergen, union negotiation committee, will represent the Teamsters union.

Union officials said a company offer of 15 cents an hour increase in the contract to replace an agreement which expired May 1, is "not satisfactory" but declined to announce what increase the union will ask.

State And County Candidates To Be Voted On In Election On November 5

The Cumberland News will, between now and election day, give brief sketches of the various candidates seeking offices in Allegany county and the State of Maryland.

This is another in the series of articles the NEWS is publishing in order to acquaint its readers with the various candidates who are seeking political offices in the county and state.

The candidates for State Senator from Allegany County are Robert B. Kimble, Republican, seeking re-election, and Thomas B. Finan, Democrat, of Cumberland.

Kimble was first elected to the State Senate in 1934 after serving in the House of Delegates. He was re-elected in 1938 and 1942 and is now completing a total of 14 years in the Maryland legislature. He is present grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythians of Maryland.

Kimble is now serving his third term as a member of the Maryland Legislative Council. He was appointed by Gov. O'Conor as a member of a commission to study prison labor in Maryland and is a member of the sub-committee of the Legislative Council to study the revision of Workmen's Compensation laws in Maryland. He was twice elected president of the Allegany Trades Council and served as treasurer of the Maryland State and District of Columbia Federation of Labor.

Finan, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Finan, of this city, was born in Cumberland 31 years ago and received his A.B. degree from Georgetown University in 1936, graduating "cum laude". He studied law at the University of Maryland and was graduated with the LL.B. degree in 1939. He passed the state Bar examination in 1939 and was admitted to practice law in Maryland by the Court of Appeals. He practiced in Allegany county for about two years before entering the army as a private in June, 1941.

Finan served 11 months with the 115th Infantry and was graduated from Infantry Officers' Training School and commissioned a Second Lieutenant in 1942. He served with the 45th division during the Sicilian campaign in 1943 and saw action at Salerno, Anzio Beach and in the invasion of Southern France. He was captured by the Germans in Sept. 1944 and was a prisoner of war for eight months in Poland and Germany, being released by an American shortly after the defeat of Germany. He was discharged in Dec. 1945, with the rank of captain and now is practicing law in Cumberland, being associated with the law firm of Miley, Walsh, O'Brien and Morris. He is a member of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

Evangelical And United Brethren Churches Will Merge November 16

Two Denominations Will Become Evangelical United Brethren

The merger on November 16 of the United Brethren Church and the Evangelical Church into the Evangelical United Brethren Church was disclosed here yesterday by Rev. J. Edgar Walter, pastor of Bethel and Calvary Evangelical churches, this city, and Rev. C. K. Welch, pastor of Bethany United Brethren Church, this city.

Union of the two denominations, considered for about 12 years, will take place at Johnstown, Pa., at a joint general conference. The joint meeting will follow separate general conferences of the two denominations at Johnstown beginning November 11.

Both local ministers stated yesterday that the union of the two denominations will have no effect whatever on the three United Brethren churches and three Evangelical churches in the county unless the individual congregations so desire.

No Plans To Unite

They explained that this means there will be no merger of individual congregations unless the congregations desire it, and pointed out that there are no plans for merging any of the congregations of the two denominations in this county.

Besides the two Evangelical churches of which Rev. Mr. Walter is pastor, there is another Evangelical church at Ellerslie with Rev. W. J. Lloyd as pastor.

In addition to Bethany United Brethren Church, Rev. Mr. Welch, pastor, in Cumberland, United Brethren churches are located at Potomac Park, Rev. Robert Bridgers, pastor, and at Westernport, Rev. E. B. Caplinger, pastor.

Once the merger is consummated, the six churches in this county will be known as Evangelical United Brethren churches, the ministers related.

Both denominations, Rev. Mr. Walter and Rev. Mr. Welch said, are of American origin, neither being a "split-off" nor having sprung from any other denomination. They added that both churches had their beginnings among the Pennsylvania Germans in Lancaster County. They have grown so that today the United Brethren Church has a membership of about 500,000, and the Evangelical Church a membership of about 260,000 in the United States and about 40,000 outside of this country. The merger will give the Evangelical United Brethren Church a membership of approximately 800,000 persons.

Met In Baltimore

While the United Brethren Church had its origin in Pennsylvania, largely through the efforts of William Otterbein, Martin Boehm and George A. Guething, the first conference of ministers was held in Baltimore in 1789. The second conference was held in Paradise township, York County, Pa., in 1791. On September 25, 1800, the ministers met in Frederick County, Md., and united themselves into a society which now bears the name United Brethren in Christ.

The Evangelical Church had its origin in 1800 when Jacob Albright organized three classes, one each in Berks County, Bucks County and Northampton County, Pa. The first council of the charter members of the denomination was held November 3, 1803, and the first conference was held in 1807 in Dauphin County, now Lebanon County, Pa. The name, the Evangelical Association, was adopted in 1816. A split developed later with the United Evangelical Church being fromed in 1892, but the two denominations united in 1922 under the name of the Evangelical Church.

Today the Evangelical Church has missionary work outside of the United States, in France, Switzerland, Germany, Poland, Latvia, Africt, China and Japan.

The United Brethren Church today has missionary work in Japan, China, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Africa.

Auditions Planned For Four YMCA Radio Programs

Series Will Pave Way For Campaign To Liquidate Mortgage

Auditions for radio talent, including singers and instrumentalists, will be held at Central YMCA tomorrow at 4 p. m. and Saturday at 11 a. m. in connection with a series of radio programs to be sponsored by the "Y", it was announced yesterday.

The programs are designed to pave the way for a campaign to raise $58,000, of which $50,000 will be used to pay off the remainder of the mortgage outstanding on the building, and $8,000 to repair the "Y" heating plant and to make other necessary repairs. The campaign is scheduled to start November 18.

Station WTBO is donating time for half-hour broadcasts for four successive weeks, starting Friday, November 15, at 10:30 p. m. during the weekly Rec club dance in the YMCA gymnasium. The remaining programs will be broadcast on successive Fridays at the same time and place.

It is not necessary for applicants to be members of Central YMCA, as the auditions are open to anyone who cares to apply. The series of programs has been titled "The Y Pays Off."

In 1941 a campaign was held for refinancing the $100,000 mortgage, and approximately $53,000 in cash was raised.

New Work Schedule Brings Promotions For Three Firemen

Under the new days-off system to be inaugurated tomorrow by the Cumberland Fire Department, William L. Lindner becomes acting assistant chief, William Edward Jenkins acting captain, and Joseph H. Hoban acting lieutenant, according to Commissioner William V. Keegan.

All three firemen, who are assigned to Central Station, are war veterans and long-time members of the department. Lindner, who served in Europe with an infantry outfit in the First World War, joined the department in 1920, and has been captain since 1934. Jenkins, a fireman for 20 years, was overseas 23 months in the recent war, taking part in naval assaults in the Pacific theater. Hoban, also a member of the department for 20 years, enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and was discharged as a chief petty officer several days before the peace treaty was signed.

Under the new plan, which will be given a 90-day trial period before final consideration for permanent adoption, firemen will work five straight days, be off 48 hours, work five consecutive nights and then be off 24 hours.

Central Station—First Shift: William E. Jenkins, captain; Alvey Poole, driver, and Harry Donald Davidson, Victor G. Long and William T. Shuck, pipemen. Second Shift: Joseph T. Hoban, lieutenant; Charles E. (Bill) Barham, driver, and Edward F. Loibel, Vincent H. Wegman and Richard L. Linthicum, pipemen.

South End—First Shift: Jeremiah T. Defibaugh, captain; James A. Jackson, driver, and Francis J. Wallace and Edgar L. Bucy, pipemen. Second Shift: Harry L. McNabb, lieutenant; Leroy Miller, driver, and Orville Delbert Proudfoot and Nola G. Shibe, pipemen.

West Side—First Shift: R. Paul Reid, captain; Paul E. Gormer, driver, and Thomas B. Jones and Charles R. Himmler, pipemen. Second Shift: Vernon F. Graves, lieutenant; Harry A. Spies, driver, and Louis H. Appel and Austin L. Warnick, pipemen.

27 Tons Collected

The monthly wastepaper collection netted 12 tons yesterday to boost to a total of 27 tons the amount collected in the first three days. Three tons were collected Monday in outlying sections and 12 tons Tuesday on the West Side. Today the collection will cover all sections between Baltimore street and Baltimore avenue and Oldtown road.

Branch Office Of WAA Will Be Opened Here

Veterans To Be Aided In Purchasing Surplus War Property

A branch office of the War Assets Administration will be opened in Cumberland to make it easier for war veterans to obtain certifications for purchase of surplus war property, according to the Associated Press.

Veterans in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties will be certified by the Cumberland office along with the West Virginia counties of Mineral, Hampshire, Grant, Hardy and Pendleton.

A spokesman for the branch office of the National Housing Agency here said that application blanks for certification have been available at the office, but that no information has been received regarding the location of the new WAA branch office, or when it will be opened.

Prior to the announcement of plans for the branch office, all area veterans were required to obtain certification from Baltimore.

World War II veterans are entitled under the Surplus Property Act to priorities second only to those of federal agencies in buying most surplus war materials. Certifications are issued for the purchase of surplus material for personal use and also for use in any business, agricultural or industrial enterprise, more than 50 per cent of which is owned by a veteran or veterans of World War I for from which a veteran or veterans receive more than 50 per cent of the profits.

The announcement stated that the new office will be staffed exclusively by World War II veterans

GOP Has Majority Of 5,641 Voters In This County

Registration Figures Show Republicans Have 24,395 Names On Books

Although there are 2,107 fewer registered voters in Allegany County this year than there were in 1944, the Republican majority now stands at 5,641 as compared to an even 5,000 two years ago, according to the official registration report released yesterday by Patrick F. King, clerk to the Board of Supervisors of Elections.

The report shows a total current registration of 43,925, composed mostly of 24,395 Republicans and 18,754 Democrats. Two years ago there were 25,361 Republicans and 20,361 Democrats.

Republicans still hold an edge over the Democrats in 55 of the 75 precincts in the county, the same edge they held in 1944, but there have been changes in four of them.

In 1944 two more Republicans were registered at District 4, Precinct 5, K-Z, Cumberland, but this year the Democrats are ahead by the same number.

Noticeable Changes

In District 4, Precinct 8, Cumberland, two years ago, Democrats held a lead of 27 voters but that precinct now has fallen to the GOP with the result that there are now three more Republicans than Democrats registered there.

The most noticeable change is in District 5, Precinct 4, A-J, Cumberland, where the number of Democrat voters now is 44 more than the number of Republicans while in 1944 the GOP outnumbered the Democrats by 45.

The Democrat lead of four voters in District 7, Rawlings, has been overcome by the Republicans, however, and the GOP now holds a margin there of 34 voters.

Clerk King reminded that the decrease in the total number of voters this year as compared to 1944 resulted after names of 6,029 voters, 3,091 Republicans and 2,938 Democrats, were stricken from the registration books for failure to cast ballots in the last five years. The registration this year was not sufficient to return the total to the figure prior to the striking off.

| District | | | Democrat | Republican | Declined | Socialist | Other Parties |
